2 Shipwrecked 44 Marooned on Isle

On bleak, cold, shelterless Sacred island, in the treacherous Belle Isle strait between Labrador and Newfoundland, 44 British seamen, survivors of the wrecked British freighter Langleecrag, today faced death from exposure unless help, now being raced to them, arrives within 36 hours.

Body of Youth Slain in Co-ed Kidnap Found

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 18 (INS)—The body of Carl L. Carlson, 25, University of Wisconsin medical student, was found today in the Wisconsin river near the village of Blue River as the two men who confessed killing him and assaulting his sister-in-law stood by.

The pair—Buford Sennett, 23, of Richland Center, Wis., and Robert Winslow, 22, of Owen, Wis., led police authorities to the spot where they had thrown Carlson's body into the river after shooting him.

They also confessed criminally assaulting Carlson's sister-in-law, 19-year-old Janet Ann Rosenblatt, University of Michigan co-ed from Cleveland Heights, O.

Earlier, Winslow also admitted that they had shot two teenage girls at Phillips, Wis., last Aug. 15.

Winslow said Sennett fired the shots which seriously wounded opened fire because the sisters Betty, 16. He explained they opened fire because the sisters, and a third girl, Dorothy Vey, 16, refused to get into their car. He said Sennett wanted to get Dorothy, who escaped by slipping out of her sweater.

Sheriff Hammond said: "Robert told me that they didn't care which girls they shot. They just shot two to get the other one."

Jane has returned to school, but Betty is still in a Madison Hospital, where a bullet was removed last week from her lung.

To the People of Greater Boston:

"The time has come to face the facts squarely. . . . The Community Fund Campaign is in danger of being unable even to meet its minimum goal of $6,000,000—and much more is desperately needed. At our report meeting Monday noon we were still $1,058,111 short of this absolute minimum. We have only until Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to raise this amount."

Unless we reach our goal, hospital, clinical and nursing care for the sick, comfort for the aged, care of underprivileged children, aid for the handicapped, guidance for our youth, and other assistance for families and individuals must be further curtailed.

I urgently plead that those who have not yet given do so at once, generously—and that those who already have given search their hearts and see if they can make an additional gift.

I call upon every worker to redouble his efforts NOW and urge every giver to make an additional sacrificial gift for the sake of thousands of men, women and children who are depending on us for aid.

If a volunteer worker has not reached you, send your gift to the Greater Boston Community Fund, 105 Arlington Street, Boston; or telephone HUBBARD 8600 the amount you will send later, so that it may help swell the total on Wednesday night and bring the Campaign to a successful conclusion.

PHILIP H. THEOPOLD,
Chairman, 1948 Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign.

Community Fund Needs $1,000,000

More than a million dollars are desperately needed within the next 24 hours if hospital care for the sick and aid for children, the handicapped and the aged is not to be curtailed, chairman of the 1948 Community Fund campaign, Philip Theopold, announced today.

With the Fund drive closing at 5 p. m. tomorrow the chairman dramatically announced that $1,058,111 must still be contributed if the minimum goal of $6,000,000 is to be reached. The need, he said, is desperate.

He urged every worker to redouble his efforts and every giver to give again if at all possible.

A volunteer motor corps has been alerted to speed solicitors on their assignments and anyone who wishes to pledge a gift, no matter how small, can do so by phoning Hubbard 8600.

The deadline will be 5 p. m. tomorrow. "Do your utmost to make the minimum goal possible before then," the chairman pleaded.

Spaatz Says Reds Duplicate B29's

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Gen. Carl Spaatz says Russia apparently has succeeded in duplicating the B29 Superfortress, which at the end of the war was the only aircraft in service capable of dropping an atom bomb.

Spaatz told the President's Air Policy Committee the Soviet Union has tried to place orders recently for B29 tires and landing gear.

"This leads us to believe that Russia has built B29's," he said yesterday.

He added that the Russians did not get the parts they asked for.

List Car, $700 Radio As Gifts to Meyers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Senate war investigating committee dug up testimony today that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers got a blue Cadillac automobile, a $700 radio, a $10,000 apartment decorating-furnishing job, and $17,972.14 "salary" and "expensive padding" from Aviation Electric Co. in 1941.

Blieriot H. Lamarre, youthful president of the Dayton, Ohio, concern told the senators the automobile cost $3,111.16 and a monogrammed robe went with it.

A burst of laughter filled the hearing room as committee counsel William P. Rogers asked what was the monogram—"it didn't say Aviation Electric, did it?"

Meyers sat impassively at one end of the room with his counsel, at the other end of the room—alone—sat his youthful blond wife.

Lamarre had testified earlier that Meyers was the "real owner" of the Dayton firm which received Controls Plan Enslaves U. S., House Is Told

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Republican opposition to President Truman's proposals for controlling the cost of living flared up on the House floor today with Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R) of Ohio declaring that the plan seems to be "to enslave the American people."

In his message to the special session called to vote aid to Europe and attempt to check rising prices at home, Mr. Truman pleaded for standby power to invoke limited rationing and price-wage controls among 10 domestic proposals.

Connecting the plea for foreign aid with Mr. Truman's domestic proposals, Smith cried out:

"Is the Republican party going to be tricked into betraying its pledge to protect the American people from regimentation, by supporting the Marshall plan?"

Possibility of delay in getting to a vote on the emergency aid proposals was seen in a Senate Appropriations Committee decision to seek an inventory of American food supplies before acting. Chairman Bridges (R) of New Hampshire, said hearings will begin Thursday with Agriculture Sec. Anderson testifying on crop prospects.

Bandit Squad Of Police to Nip Holdups

Formation of a special bandit squad to battle Boston's mounting crime wave was announced today by Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon as holdup men struck again in the South End, less than a half-mile from the haberdashery shop where a lone stickup man shot and killed Nathan Binder yesterday.

Woman Found Dazed, Beaten In Cambridge

Described by police as a mysterious woman, an attractive 39-year-old brunette was found dazed and badly beaten at Massachusetts ave. and Blanche st., Cambridge, early today.

Taken to Cambridge City Hospital suffering lacerations of the nose, mouth and head and possible internal injuries, the woman refused to disclose her identity or to tell how she received her injuries. She finally gave police a name and address which was being investigated.

Meanwhile, detectives revealed they had found bloodstained bed-clothing and a pair of bloodstained pants in an apartment near where the victim was found.

Three men were rounded up for questioning and, although they denied any connection with an assault on the woman, police said they would be held on suspicion pending a check on their stories. Hospital authorities reported the condition of the victim was not serious, but added that she would be held for observation.

CHELSEA MAN BADLY HURT

Frank Londine, 22, of Washington ave., Chelsea, employee of the Groisser & Schlager iron works, Washington st., East Somerville, was critically injured today, crushed between a Diesel locomotive and a truck at the plant's Boston & Maine siding.

The latest brazen robbery victimized Jacob Kaplan of Washington st., Chelsea, proprietor of the Northampton Public Market, Columbus ave., South End, of $310 a few minutes after he had opened his store for the day.

VIRGINIA SLAYER

A few hours later Watertown police picked up two men answering the general description of the holdup pair. Boston police brought them back to headquarters for questioning.

At the same time, Capt. Louis DiSessa and a squad rushed to a house in Tremont st., South End, after a report a man, wanted for murder in Virginia, was hiding there.

Thorough search of the house revealed no trace of him, although he first was reported hiding in a sub-cellar of the building. A guard was stationed at the house in the event the man returned. According to the landlady, he had left the building before police arrived, saying he would return later in the day.

ON 24-HOUR BASIS

Fallon announced the new squad would operate in three shifts on a 24-hour basis, independent of the city's police divisions and would be responsible directly to his office.

Heading the squad are three captains, E. J. Hennessey, John D. Ahern and Patrick J. O'Reilly, all of whom are FBI-trained. They are expected to have some 50 men under their jurisdiction.

The latest daring holdup and announcement of the new bandit squad came as police were questioning five men in the headquarters lineup as possible suspects in the Binder killing.

After today's holdup Kaplan said that he had brought the money to his shop to pay bills, a practice he follows each week on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

FAL DRAWS GUN

Kaplan told police he had brought the money to the store in a small bag which he carried in a larger shopping bag. A few minutes after he opened the store, he said, two Negroes entered and one ordered a pound of bacon.

As he reached for the bacon, he said, the other man drew a gun and demanded the money. He said he handed over the shopping bag without resistance and the pair fled.

Kaplan furnished police with descriptions of the pair and was then taken to headquarters to view request gallery pictures. The brutal murder of the elderly storekeeper was a tragic climax to the wave of recent holdups and robberies throughout the city, and was the second holdup of the day.

Earlier two gunmen had escaped after a daring robbery in rear of the National Shawmut Bank branch at Dudley st. and Harrison ave., in which the victim was robbed of $800 while about to enter the bank to deposit the money.

Binder leaves, besides his wife, Augusta, 62, his parents, a son, Edward J., lawyer at the Veterans' Administration; a daughter, Eileen R.; a sister, Mrs. Francis Silverman, and a brother, Morris, and two grandchildren. His home was in Massachusetts ave., South End.

SLAIN COUPLE'S CHILDREN ARE COMFORTED—Tony Rzepa (center), 12, and his sister, Patsy, 10, whose parents, former Police Chief and Mrs. Stanley Rzepa, of Posen, Ill., were slain by shotgun blasts in front of their home, are comforted by an aunt, Bernadine Maziet.

Girl, 7, Died Fighting Sex Fiend, Court Told

LAWRENCE, Nov. 18—Seven-year-old Louise Ann Kurpiel, brutally slain on the bank of the Merrimack river last September, died defending herself from a sex attack, Dr. Julian J. Burgiel, medical examiner, testified today at the trial of Vincent Dellechiaie, 22, charged with the little girl's murder.

The victim's face was bashed by a huge boulder and she died from multiple crushed bones, the medical examiner said. He added that although there were bruises on her inner thighs, the child had not been violated by her slayer.

Lloyd Johnson, a Sanborn st. Lawrence barber, who discovered the body, testified he was so sickened by the sight, it took him five minutes to recover before he notified police.

Throughout the testimony, the defendant sat without show of emotion. He had remained composed earlier when a blood-stained suit, identified as the one he wore on the night of the crime, was introduced as a State exhibit. The slaying victim's mother, Mrs. Louis Kurpiel, nearly collapsed in court when the suit was brought.

The distraught mother, sitting with her husband only a few seats away from the prisoner's dock, sobbed audibly and nearly swooned at sight of the gray, pencil-striped suit, which witnesses said Dellechiaie was wearing when they saw him with Louise the evening she disappeared.

The defendant was expressionless as two youths pointed at him from the witness stand, identifying him as the man they saw with the little girl the night before her battered body was found Sept. 8 on the Merrimack river bank.

Daniel Abade, 14, of Common st., Lawrence, a pupil at Central Catholic High School, and Robert Marcotte, 13, of Concord st., Lawrence, a 7th grade student at the Oliver School, both told Judge

Mother Sobs for Slain Baby

Mrs. Eleanor A. Dubiel, blonde ex-WAC sergeant, was hysterically crying out from her Salem Hospital bed today for her 3-month-old son, killed Friday by a maddened stranger who broke into their Restaurant Row, Salem Willows, home and stabbed the mother in the thigh before fleeing.

Complications in Mrs. Dubiel's wounds have delayed her recovery, it was disclosed.

Another development was that her family has retained an attorney for her, Francis E. Rafter of Salem.

Rafter said: "Her leg is not healing as rapidly as was hoped. She is in no condition to talk. I have not been able to see her, although I have been told it may be possible late in the week."

The 33-year-old mother and her infant, Edward, were rushed to the hospital by police who had responded to reports of screams at the Dubiel household, but the baby had died of four stab wounds.

Mrs. Dubiel, whose husband, Alexander, was not home, described the killer as a dark-complexioned man of about 50, short, stocky and wearing a jacket with a plaid hunting cap. She said he slashed her and killed the baby after seizing a knife from the kitchen table.

Triplet Boys Gain Total of 1 Lb., 4 Oz.

Life was picking up at the Children's Hospital today for the triplet sons born prematurely to Mrs. Hyman Bialsky, Winona st., Roxbury, Oct. 26, at Allerton Hospital.

The infants, thought to have been the smallest triplets born in New England, have gained a total of one pound, four ounces. The smallest weighs only one pound, 13 ounces, however, a gain of five ounces. His brothers weigh three pounds each, one having added eight ounces, the other seven.

The triplets are housed in Chapline beds, incubators with precise adjustments for heat, humidity and oxygen. They are being fed through catheter tubes carrying milk from their mothers to their stomachs. Because of the extreme precautions taken in their care, not even their parents are permitted to visit them.

They will be discharged when they weigh five pounds each.

Boy, 4, Lost Overnight, Found With His 2 Pups

HERMANVILLE, Md., Nov. 18 (AP)—A posse found four-year-old Stephen Andrews huddled up with two puppies and blue with cold at dawn today after an all-night search through woods near his home.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Andrews, had been missing since about 4 p. m. Monday. Physicians said he apparently had suffered no ill effects.

Lake Visits 'Stock Exchange' Of Bavaria's Black Market

By AUSTEN LAKE
Boston American Staff Correspondent

WEIDEN, Germany (With the U. S. Constabulary)—The Cafe Weiss is a green, grimy, five-story building inhabited by Displaced Persons in the center of this town. I first heard of the Cafe Weiss in Stuttgart, again in Ulm and Augsburg and later in Munich. It holds a notorious, zonal-wide reputation as the "stock exchange" of Bavaria's black market, where bootleg prices are fixed by DP specialists in contraband of every kind.

My friends among the CTC (Counter-Intelligence) and Constabulary say they hold irrefutable evidence that there are cigarette specialists, coffee brokers, whisky experts and departmental heads who fix prices and traffic in wholesale lots anything from spoils of thread to portable lighting units. The DP brokers do not keep the stuff in stock at the Cafe Weiss. They'll take your order. Payment and delivery will be arranged.

Do you need a passport to any country, complete with "official" seal and expert in every detail? Or a zonal driver's license, or exit permit or "fronteller" (border) pass? The Cafe Weiss society can get it for you. Do you require an ampoule of morphine or a few grams of heroin or an opium pill or a vial of ephedrine or penicillin?

They'll get it—at a proper price. So say my U. S. Intelligence friends.

INTERFERENCE COSTLY

So I asked today, "Why don't you raid 'em?" and they regarded me with sad pity for such ignorance. I knew the answer, having heard it too often in my travels. "It's as much as our skin is worth," I am told. "A lot of our boys have been fired for sticking their noses in the wrong spots."

Some U. S. agents have quit in disgust, some wait expiration of their contracts or overseas duty. Some are career men who can't risk official discredit. So they observe a "hands-off" policy toward certain DP camps and groups, waiting to catch them red-handed outside. They often do, in which case, they say, the MG summary or Intermediate EFFINGHAM, N. H., Nov. 18—The body of a woman found in an open field here Saturday near a lone poplar tree, was identified today as that of Miss Marie Lysle, 51, Pittsfield schoolteacher missing since Sept. 6.

The identification was made by Mrs. Roger B. Sturges, 46, of Main st., Hamilton, a friend, through the description and picture of the ring found on the victim's finger.

Mrs. Sturges made the identification through the description and picture of the ring found on the victim's finger.

At the same time Dr. Alan R. Moritz, Massachusetts state police pathologist, following an autopsy at which the possible manner of death was re-enacted, said he believed the woman committed suicide.

Cambridge Hospital Has Brief Fire Scare

Patients at Cahill House, maternity division of Cambridge City Hospital, had a few uneasy moments today when fire apparatus arrived and firement asked where the blaze was.

Repairs working on a staging at the rear of the building replied it was all out. One had put down a blow torch in the wrong place. The flames had ignited part of the staging and a tar paper roll, creating dense smoke, but the workers beat out the flames.

MRS. MIMI N. B. GOELET AND HER SON, OGDEN, JR.
Socialite Seeking Separation Says Mate Drank "a Quart a Day"

Goelet's Suing Wife Cites Bottles, Books

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—When her multimillionaire husband learned she soon would be home from the hospital to present him with a son, he took to his bed with a bottle and drank at the rate of a quart a day, Mrs. Mimi Nicholson Browne Goelet, 27-year-old society brunette, testified in superior court.

She is asking a separation from Ogden Goelet, heir to $70,000,000 and possessor of nothing short of Ogden Goelet would have been barred from the mails.

Ogden taste in reading matter, said Mrs. Goelet, ran toward such volumes as "Manual of Classical Etymology." She offered the court three bundles of books which she said she picked up at his private apartment.

After catching him studying this material, she went on, sue concluded he had too much leisure on his hands.

"I told him this was a terrible thing, and I told him if he took a job he would return to a more normal life," she said.

Ogden tried working in a brokerage office but threw it up and came home to tell her, "The whole brokerage business is very unfair," she said. He gave work one more chance, taking a post with the War Production Board, but found it made him "too nervous," Mrs. Goelet said. Whereupon, she told the court, he took to his bed again, pulled the covers snugly up to his chin and sought solace from his self-prescribed quiet per day.

Once, said Mrs. Goelet, he moved to his father's huge penthouse and when she followed to plead he change his ways, he seized her, pushed her toward a window and told her he was in a mood to throw her out, adding, "It would be considered a suicide."

Ogden thought better of it, she said, but kept her a penthouse prisoner for three days, during which he struck her when she screamed to be rescued.

Her husband was also petulant at times, she testified, complaining that his list of women was out of date, and he most surely would have to freshen it up if he was to relieve his boredom.

Fay Dunn, actress-writer, was named by Mrs. Goelet as a woman Ogden raved about to her. Miss Dunn was in court. Ogden was not in court.

Night Club Singer Wins Divorce, Loses Child, 4

Mrs. Madaline A. Eldridge, 21, Boylston st., Back Bay, attractive night club hostess and singer, who said her marital troubles started when she told her husband she had borne a son when she was only 12, was today granted a divorce in Dedham Probate court from Howard W. Eldridge, Arborway dr., Braintree, attached to the Granite Trust Co., Quincy.

The divorce, sought on grounds of cruelty, was granted by Judge James F. Reynolds, who dismissed a cross petition by the husband and awarded custody of their daughter, Susan V., 4, to the parents of Eldridge, Dep. Sheriff and Mrs. Curtis Eldridge of Brewster.

Terms of the divorce state that Mrs. Eldridge is to have "the society and companionship of the child at reasonable times." Eldridge was ordered to pay $10 a week to his parents for the child's support.

Mrs. Eldridge testified her husband had struck her and once knocked her down a flight of stairs. Eldridge, she said, had told her he made love to another woman "because she is more affectionate than you are." Her testimony of beatings by Eldridge was corroborated by her father, Harold L. Arnold of Eastham, who said he had three times seen bruises on her face and body, and by Mrs. Christine E. Quinn of Orleans.

Eldridge, who denied striking his wife, charged she kept New York rendezvous with a sailor whose "dog tags" he had found in her jewel box. She admitted receipt of a letter from CPO Frank Consalvo addressed to "My darling Dixie" pledging undying love and reminiscing over kisses he had bestowed on her.

But, she said, Eldridge had seen the letter and had treated it as a joke. She then asked Consalvo to stop writing to her because "he wrote the same flowery kind of letters to other girls."

Beth to Manage On $60,000 Per But Dad Will Help

By TOM WILLIAMS

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP)—King George VI told Parliament today that Princess Elizabeth could get along during Britain's economic crisis without an increase in her annual government allowance of £15,000 ($60,000).

The Princess' income was increased from £6,000 ($24,000) on her 21st birthday last April. The King said any additional funds the Princess will need as the wife of Lt. Philip Mountbatten will be furnished from savings made of royal family annuities during the war.

Parliament had scheduled for priority consideration the matter of increasing financial provision for the Princess upon her marriage to Mountbatten Thursday. Princess Elizabeth and Mountbatten entertained a party of 2,500 nobles and commoners who crowded St. James' Palace today to see the increasing array of wedding gifts sent them by admirers from all over the world. The radiant princess and her fiancé left Buckingham Palace in midafternoon for St. James's, a few blocks away, to receive the guests, all of whom had sent presents.

THROUGH CHEERS COUPLE

Several thousands braved the bitter weather to cheer the couple as they stepped into the palace courtyard. Cries of "God bless you" and "Good luck" echoed from the throng.

Mountbatten had hurried back from Merisham-le-Hatch in Kent, where he had acted as godfather at the christening of the infant son of his cousin, Lady Brabourne, elder daughter of Earl Mountbatten, Governor General of India.

The Palace announced that 20 of the dresses Elizabeth has received as gifts from the United States will be given to those who are Elizabeth's age, 21.

The dresses were part of a shipment of 25 garments sent to London by air from the New York Institute of Dress Designers.

"Feeling that in the present time of difficulties and restrictions she could not keep all the dressers for herself, the Princess decided to give 20 of them to British girls who, like herself, are being married this month," the Palace announcement said.

LUNCHEONS WITH PARENTS

Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the throne, spent all morning receiving the bearers of gifts at Buckingham Palace, pausing only briefly for a quiet luncheon with the King and Queen. The weight of her duties forced her to cancel plans for attending the christening with Mountbatten.

But in all the final frenzy of preparation, the 21-year-old Princess, heiress presumptive to the British throne, frolicked until the wee hours this morning, whirling around the white and gold music room of Buckingham Palace time after time in Philip's arms.

Both her impish-eyed younger sister Margaret and young King Michael of Romania were there, too, among the princes and princesses and young nobles at the royal party for the "under 35's."

Elizabeth was up early today, however, giving final touches to details of the wedding ceremony. Later she planned to receive the minister of Transjordan, bearing a gift from his country.

Another big party was held this afternoon, and tonight more than 1000 guests have been bidden to the palace for a great reception.

London's first snow of the winter fell this morning, double-crossing a weather bureau prediction which mentioned only continued cold and showers.

But no matter how bad the weather, there'll be some comfort for chilled onlookers Thursday. Many public houses and drinking clubs within a mile of the wedding route are asking—and receiving—permission to extend their hours of business.

Closing time, usually 10:30 p.m., is being moved up to 2 a. m., and the normal afternoon shutdown of an hour and a half is being shortened by an hour so those who wish may drink a toast as the honeymoon train chuffs out.

Planes Widen Hunt for Ship Feared Lost

Five Coast Guard planes, including two from New York, took to the air again at dawn today in an ever-widening search for the 85-foot scallop dragger Margie & Pat. The boat is unreported since last Wednesday 75 miles east of Chatham Light, and feared to have suffered the same fate as the 113-foot dragger, Belle which disappeared last Jan. 9 with 17 men aboard.

The Navy did not join the search today but Coast Guard officials here were considering a plan to enlist whole squadrons of Army and Navy planes in an effort to cover a broad sea area almost foot by foot.

The Margie & Pat was last seen by the New Bedford dragger Antonio on Wednesday, shortly before gale winds swept over the whole Cape Cod area.

2 Planes Collide, Plunge Into Sea

Two Navy pilots were missing and presumed killed today when they crashed into the sea off Block Island after their Bearcat fighter planes collided in mid-air.

The planes, from the Charlestown, R. I. naval base, were in a squadron on routine maneuvers when they collided and plunged into the water. The Navy said each plane carried one man, an officer.

The Navy and Coast Guard immediately organized a search of the entire area by air and sea. Oil slicks were found on the water by rescue vessels which sped to the scene.

Searchers included an Army B17 and PB4 flying boat which were off Martha's Vineyard seeking the missing New Bedford scallop dragger, Margie and Pat. The Coast Guard Cutter Hornbeam also was assigned to the search for the missing airmen.

Tupper, Killer Of 2 Women, Gets Life Term

Hollis C. Tupper, 38, of Dorchester, pleaded guilty to second degree murder today in the slaying of his estranged wife and the Brookline nurse, with whom he was infatuated, last July 2, and was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Felix Forte.

Tupper's plea came as his defense was about to open and followed a lengthy lobby conference in which his counsel, Henry M. Leen; Dist. Atty. William J. Foley, Asst. Dist. Atty. John F. McAuliffe and Judge Forte participated.

DAUGHTER TESTIFIES

Tupper was on trial charged with killing Miss Helen Kiminski, 32, a Lahey clinic nurse, in his home in King st., Dorchester, and then slaying his estranged wife, Catherine, 32, in her Talbot ave., Dorchester, home a short time later.

The government rested its case after taking testimony of 13 witnesses, the last of whom was Tupper's daughter, Susan Frances, 13. She told tearfully how her father had attacked her mother with scissors in October or November, 1946.

In a brief plea, Leen said Tupper had led an exemplary life, had married his wife 14 years ago and brought her to live with his family. Friction developed, he said, and they separated a year later, after the birth of their child.

FEARED WIFE PLOTTED

He said Tupper in the past few years became morose, started to drink. He met Miss Kiminski a year ago, Leen continued, and fell in love with her.

He was torn between this love, his duty to his crippled mother and his belief that his estranged wife was plotting against him. As a result, Leen said, he ran amuck, killing Miss Kiminski in the presence of his mother, then rushing to his wife's home and slaying her.

Judge Forte then imposed the mandatory penalty of life imprisonment.

Abbey Screen Blocks View of Bridal Guests

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Nearly 3000 people will crowd inside Westminster Abbey Thursday for the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten—but less than half will see the actual ceremony.

Because a huge screen divides the massive abbey, those seated in the nave will have a view only of the procession of choirs, the clergy in brilliant vestments, the bride and bridegroom and their attendants, the King and Queen and other royalty.

All the invited guests will have to be in their seats about 15 minutes before the start of the ceremony at 11:30 a. m. (6:30 a. m. EST).

In accordance with the age-old custom of the abbey, there will be no flowers on the high altar. Instead, it will be covered with glittering gold sacred vessels, some of them centuries old. On each side of the altar will be two alabaster urns filled with flowers.

The witnesses to the signing of the register by the newly married couple in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, at the rear of the high altar of the abbey, will be King George and Queen Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, Queen Mother Mary, Princess Andrew of Greece, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Dean of Westminster and the two pages, Prince Michael of Kent and Prince William of Gloucester.

Members of the British royal family—but not the princess—and foreign royalty will leave Buckingham Palace in a fleet of cars at 10:45 a. m. (5:45 a. m.

EST). The timetable sets their arrival at the west door of the abbey for 11 a. m.

Lt. Mountbatten will leave Kensington Palace, the temporary home of his mother, Princess Andrew of Greece, at 11:05 a. m., accompanied by his best man, the 26-year-old Marquis of Milford Haven, who is his cousin. He is due at the Post's Corner door of the abbey at 11:15 a. m. A police car and two bobbies on motorcycles will escort him.

Queen Mother Mary, in a car flying her standard, and other foreign royal guests will leave Marlborough House, Queen Mary's London home near Buckingham Palace, at 11:01 a. m., arriving at the west door of the abbey at 11:10.

Queen Elizabeth, accompanied by Princess Margaret and foreign royalty of sovereign rank, will leave Buckingham Palace at 11:03 a. m. in four carriages. The procession will be escorted by a captain's escort of household cavalry and will arrive at the west door at 11:15.

The princess herself, accompanied by her father, will leave Buckingham Palace at 11:16 a. m. Officials of the household will accompany them. There will be three carriages, escorted by a detachment of household cavalry. The procession is due at the west door at 11:28.

Nicholson Leads For Gifford Seat

NEW BEDFORD, Nov. 18.—Senate President Donald W. Nicholson of Wareham jumped into an early lead today over Rep. Jacinto F. Diniz of New Bedford, in the special Ninth Congressional District election for a successor to the late Cong. Charles L. Gifford of Cotuit.

First town to report was Mashpee, where 25 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots and gave 54 to Nicholson and 2 to Diniz.

The Sandwich vote was one-sixth of the town's registration and gave Nicholson 128 to only 27 for Diniz.

In this city and in towns throughout the Cape, the voting was reported very light up to noon.

Mr. I. K. Wilmington, Del.
Advices every one suffering from pains of Rheumatism—Arthritis—Sciatica—to try RUMAL

He says, "God Bless You for RUMAL."

Mr. I. K. of Wilmington, Delaware, writes: "For years I have suffered with agonizing pains of Rheumatism. Nothing seemed to help much. Then a friend of mine suggested that I try a preparation called RUMAL. I was skeptical but I had nothing to lose so I sent for a jar. I tried it and am happy to say that I got relief from the very first application. It's a godsend to have RUMAL in the house for when those awful pains strike, I'm prepared."

I don't care how long you have been suffering the agonies of rheumatic, arthritic, sciatic, neuralgic pains—I want you to try a remedy that is really good. It must be good, for it has been blessed palliative relief to thousands of sufferers since 1915—over 26 years.

And the best part is that you don't risk one penny in trying RUMAL—you can't lose—only gain by doing it.

Rumal is a compound of 5 powerful ingredients widely known to the medical profession as fast pain relievers. You apply RUMAL as directed to the painful area. Soon you feel a glowing, soothing warmth as the pains disappear fast.

Tear out this adv. now as a reminder to get a jar of RUMAL for $2.00 at one of the Nature Food Centres stores listed below. Mail orders sent postpaid. Get RUMAL now! Guaranteed! If after using 1 jar of RUMAL you don't feel that it has helped you, you get your money back.

Costs Him $100 To Sleuth for Girl

A former bartender was convicted in municipal court today of posing as a private detective after an attractive brunette testified against him.

Charles F. Stone, Jr., 44, Main st., Medford, former mixer of drinks at the East Bay Lodge, Osterville, was fined $100 for conducting business as a private detective without a license from the state. The girl was Helen Kelly, 25, of Eliot st., Watertown. Testimony disclosed this sequence of events:

Miss Kelly said she had a phone conversation with Stone, wrote him a letter, and engaged him to conduct an investigation for her for which she paid him $15. The payment was made in a downtown hotel lobby when State Police Lt. John J. Young arrested Stone.

Miss Kelly testified that she told Stone she suspected her boy friend of playing around and asked him to find out if he was having an affair. The girl testified that within a few days Stone reported to her that he had completed the investigation.

Stone was given until Dec. 24 to pay his fine.

'Wrong House' Shooting Declared Accidental

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—The fatal shooting of a 30-year-old draftsman by a neighbor whose similarly-constructed home he entered by mistake was termed accidental by a coroner's jury.

Henry F. Drane, whose wife testified he had had "too much to drink" at a party, was shot by Wayne F. Miller, 29, a photographer, as Drane groped through Miller's darkened house after breaking a window to enter.

3 Fall River Officials Plead Not Guilty

FALL RIVER, Nov. 18.—City Councilors John F. Doyle, 48, Kenyon st., and Charles F. Lepointe, 42, Middle st., and Public Works Comm. Thomas J. Logan, 50, Acadia st., pleaded not guilty in superior court here today to indictments charging them variously with conspiracy to defraud the city, larceny and soliciting bribes.

They were arraigned before Judge Joseph L. Hurley, who set bail for each at $1000 personal surety, thus relieving them of the necessity of putting up the money. Defense counsel argued for a quick trial but the court ruled the calendar was too crowded, thus possibly postponing the trial to the next superior court session in February unless a special session is called.

The only charge placed against Logan is one of conspiracy with Doyle, a contractor, to defraud the city in connection with $223,000 worth of sidewalks contracts over a period of four years. Doyle, in addition, is charged with larceny of property and money, soliciting two bribes and conspiring in one bribery charge with Lepointe, who is charged with conspiracy and solicitation.

She Lied About Her Headache

To be polite, she complained of a headache when she asked to be named from the movies. Actually, she was offended by his "B.O." (body odor).

So often unnoticed by the offender (yet so obvious to others), "B.O." can come between people to ruin social and business contacts. It's so easy to play safe. Bathe daily with Lifebuoy Soap—the one soap especially made to stop "B.O." Millions take this precaution—a daily Lifebuoy bath.

DON'T SHOOT STINKY, HE'S SWEET

A pet skunk, identifiable from the wild variety because he grins and shakes his head in negative protest when called "Stinky," was reported lost today by John Kulesza of Mechanic st., Newton Upper Falls.

The skunk shakes his head when addressed as Stinky because he has been decent and knows it, according to Kulesza, a former Newton policeman. In asking the department to search for his pet, Kulesza said the skunk was so good-natured he might scratch at any door for a handout. The former policeman begged householders not to shoot Stinky.

He said the skunk had been sharing a hutch with two rabbits and the rabbits were baggy-eyed with anxiety, refusing to eat their carrots and allowing their whiskers to droop.

Ramsey Wins City Council Recount

Completion of the recount of votes in Ward 15, Dorchester, by the Election Commission today showed Robert J. Ramsey had been elected city councilor by a 78-vote margin over Council President John B. Kelly.

Kelly made a net gain of 34 votes in the recount but Ramsey collected a total of 2533 against 2775.

In Ward 22, Brighton, possibility of defeat loomed for Vincent J. Shanley, a surprise victor in the first count. W. E. Fin predicts remaining uncounted, Rep. Charles J. Artesani was forging forward rapidly and had cut Shanley's margin to 48 votes.

The Ward 14, Roxbury recount confirmed the election of Julius Ansel, secretary to Mayor Curley, to the Council. Other recounts assured re-election of Councilor William F. Hurley in Ward 8 Roxbury, and Thomas L. McCormack in Ward 19, Jamaica Plain.

Girl, 5, Plunges Into Open Sewer

SEATTLE, Nov. 18 (AP)—Sharon Irene Rothrock, 5, walking between her father and an aunt across a rain-swept street intersection, plunged into an open sewer manhole and was swept away by swift waters 12 feet below. No immediate trace of the youngster was found in a block-by-block search of the sewer.

Dean Rothrock, the father, told police Sharon had begged to go along as he accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Ambrose Smith, to a bus stop.

Clutching their hands, the tot walked directly into the uncovered manhole which none of them had noticed in the darkness. In her sudden plunge the girl tore a ring from her father's hand. The 20-inch manhole cover was found 12 feet away from the opening.

Gift Train on Tour of N. Y. Harbor

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Thirty-three freight cars of the Friendship train, as three sections row in New York, were placed on tracks today for a symbolic "review" past the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor where a colorful ceremony welcomed the flag-draped college.

Lanes circled overhead, whistles of harbor craft shrieked and two fireboats shot plumes of water into the sun's rays as the freight cars "passed the great statue."

Workers Still May Seek Portal Pay

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The federal wage-hour administrator said today that under the new portal pay act workers still may collect for "any work of consequence performed by an employee for an employer, no matter when the work is performed."

Administrator William R. McCormick issued an interpretation of the act setting forth that it only relieves employers of liability for non-productive time "for which payment is not provided by contract, custom or practice."

Congress adopted the law last May to relieve employers of liability for more than $6,000,000,000 in back-pay suits for such time as that spent walking to work after reaching a factory's gates.

sighted flares over the uninhabited island, but had been prevented from investigating by heavy seas. The Evergreen, plunging through wintry North Atlantic seas from Argentina, was given the best chance of reaching the survivors before they succumb to the cold. She hoped to make the trip in just about 36 hours, the outside limit set by the survivors themselves. The Canadians, battling their way there from Halifax, could not hope to make the trip in less than three days. Meanwhile, pilots at Argentina looked to lowering skies for a sign of a break in the bad weather. First intimation, that all was not well with the wrecked crew of the freighter came from a radio party sent to Cook's Harbor.

Abraham E. Pinanski and the 14-man jury how they picked Dellichia out of a police lineup two days after the murder. Each was asked if they saw the same man in the court room. In turn, each pointed at the defendant in the prisoner's cage.

The boys and they had been swimming and were going through the municipal parking lot near the river when the spotted Dellichia and the slaying victim.

SAV BLOODSTAINS
The bloodstained suit was identified by Robert J. St. Hilaire, a Lawrence millworker, who said he and his family and friends were fishing near the Central Bridge at dusk, Sept. 7. He said a man who told children in his party he "was Santa Claus," came by and asked for a cigarette.

"I put my flash light on him. I saw the bloodstains on the trousers as big as a saucer. I asked him what was wrong. He said he was in a jam. That's the same suit here in court and the defendant in the man who was wearing it," St. Hilaire testified.

The state contends that Dellichia killed the victim when she resisted an attempted criminal attack. Before testimony began the jury visited the scene of the crime.

Seeks Legislature Probe Of Billboard Lobbyists

A legislative inquiry to determine whether billboard interests have exerted "untrue influence" on members of the State Outdoor Advertising Authority was proposed today in an order filed with the House clerk by Rep. James J. Twohig, Jr., of Boston.

The measure calls for a $10,000 appropriation to study the "propriety of relations" between billboard lobbyists and members of the Authority.

2 Doctors Refuse To O. K. Satira Plea

HAVANA, Nov. 18 (INS)—Two doctors testified at the yacht murder trial of Patricia (Satira) Schmidt today they are unable to certify that John Lester Mee suffered from a war psychosis.

The 22-year-old Toledo, O., dancer maintains that she shot Mee aboard his boat Satira in Havana harbor after he had beaten and kicked her. She claims she was suffering from one of the frequent tantrums she and other witnesses said were due to mental unbalance resulting from his war experiences.

The witnesses who declined to back up the diagnosis that Mee suffered from war nerves were Drs. Evelio Canizares and Ruben Velazco.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, TUESDAY, NOV. 16, 1947

Costs Only $12 a Year—Down Payment $2.50 Pays Hospital Benefits for Accidents

The average family has an income of less than $65 a week. Because of the high cost of living, they can't save enough money to meet sudden doctor or hospital bills, in case accident or sickness strikes. The 60-year-old North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago has a special plan which gives just the kind of protection such families need. It pays $25 a week for 10 weeks for certain specified accidents and sicknesses. Also, this Premier Limited Double Duty Policy pays $25 a week for 4 weeks for accidents requiring hospital confinement. Yet the total cost is only $12 a year. This new plan also has a double-indemnity feature covering travel accidents. You receive $50 a week if disabled by an accident in a bus, taxicab, streetcar, train, etc., and $75 a week if the accident requires hospital confinement. There is another new special feature that pays up to $25 cash for doctor bills, even for a minor accident such as a cut finger. In case of accidental death the policy pays one thousand dollars cash to your family. Two thousand dollars if caused by a travel accident.

In addition, it covers many sicknesses including pneumonia, cancer, appendicitis operation, etc., paying the weekly benefits whether confined to home or hospital.

The purpose of this new policy is to bring sickness and accident protection within the reach of men and women who do not have large savings with which to meet sudden doctor or hospital bills, or lost income. The entire cost is only $12 a year (or $12.50 if paid in convenient monthly payments of $2.50 down and $2.00 a month for 5 months) for both men and women between the ages of 15 and 64 inclusive. Between the ages of 65 and 75 the cost is only $18 a year. Protects you 24 hours a day. No reduction in benefits regardless of age. No medical examination of any kind is required.

If you are now a member of some worthy hospitalization plan you still need this additional protection. Only a small percentage of people are confined to a hospital—and even then only for a fraction of the time they are disabled. Most people are confined at home where hospitalization plans do not apply. The North American Plan pay specified benefits regardless of whether you are confined to your home or to a hospital.

North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago has been in business for more than sixty years and is one of the largest sickness and accident companies. It has paid out over $43,000,000 to grateful policy holders when they needed help most. North American is licensed by the Insurance Department of the State of Massachusetts, as well as 46 other States and The District of Columbia.

Men and women who would like full details about this new plan are urged to send for a revealing booklet called "Cash or Sympathy." This booklet is absolutely free. It will come by ordinary mail without charge or obligation of any kind. No agent will call to deliver it. We suggest you get a free copy by mailing coupon to Premier Policy Division, North American Accident Insurance Co. of Chicago, 830 Broad Street, Dept. 675, Newark 2, New Jersey.

You may take your coat with you immediately if you wish.

Collar, Cuffs Enhance

Feminine—Simply styled pique turns out a fresh white collar and makes life colorful and sharp as the snap which regulates the soft tie and makes it easily removable for laundering. Wear it alone or with the matching gantlet cuffs.

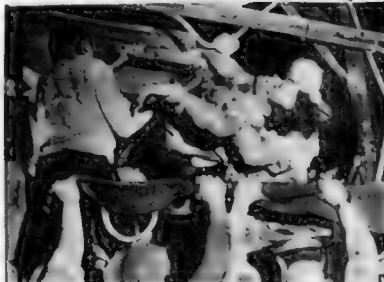

New Look

The old look becomes the new look in a touch of white in fine pique and a flash of color in a rainbow range which as a collar and cuff set accents the high tight look around the neck and wrists. Perfect for bringing the old clothes up-to-date or emphasizing the new ones.

Add a Lot—New high necklines are made newer and the little girl look is highly feminized when a basic dress gets a tricky white waffle pique collar and matching cuffs. Ribbon trimmed, the set is destined for heavy duty ahead.

Fashion Editor Ruth Muggelberg shows these smart dress-attachments.

Rescued—Robert G. Austin, of Glendale, Cal., grimaces with pain (at top), as he is hauled from a giant cement mixer into which he fell. He is placed on a stretcher (above) for removal to a hospital. Austin suffered fractures of both legs.

Unwanted

This little fellow, about 10 days old, was found abandoned and asleep in a pew in St. Peter's Church in Chicago by three young women. Taken to an orphanage, the youngster was said to be in perfect health.

Killers Surrender

THE REAL ISSUES BEFORE CONGRESS

THE FIRST DUTY of the Congress of the United States is to provide for the SECURITY and WELFARE of the AMERICAN people.

This duty is incumbent upon Congress at all times and under all circumstances: And it is a duty that is no less paramount when the Congress has been called in special session than when it meets in its regular order.

In summoning the special session which began yesterday, President Truman proposed for its consideration only two matters:

First—to take measures against price inflation; and Second—to appropriate large sums of money for the relief of necessitous and, in the main, Socialistic countries abroad.

Both of these items are extremely controversial and neither of them should be acted upon in the manner of the old New Deal, when devious and often deceptive bills of legislation were contrived somewhere in the bureaucracies of government and were handed along to Congress as "must" measures to be enacted without revision, frequently without debate and always without intelligent consideration.

IN THOSE DAYS Congress was contemptuously dubbed the "rubber stamp" of the imperious New Deal.

And incalculable damage was done by much of this pre-fabricated legislation to the social, economic and political structure of the nation.

In the Eightieth Congress, which has now re-assembled in an artificial atmosphere of emergency, the legislative branch has been liberated by the votes of the citizens from that kind of servility.

It has shown, in its first session, a due sense of responsibility under the constitution, and a just and due regard for the public interest.

It must not now, because it has been clamorously convened in extraordinary session, permit itself to be "steam-rollered" by propaganda or "pressured" by declarations of impending alien disasters into either unwise actions or equally unwise inaction.

It would be extremely unwise for Congress to reimpose needless and injurious wartime controls and restrictions upon the productive free enterprise of America merely because there are dearths and distresses in the semi-slave states of Europe.

The whole world would be worse off, instead of better off, if that calamity should occur.

IT WOULD BE no less unwise for Congress to neglect the most important and most immediate duties before it, even though no reference to these was made in the presidential summons.

One is TAX REDUCTION.

All reliable statistics, including those of the Administration itself, show that Federal taxes can be reduced by BILLIONS OF DOLLARS and still leave to the Treasury ample funds, if rightly used, for necessary public expense, for intermediate European relief and for a sizable reduction of the national debt.

There is simply no excuse for retaining WAR TAXES in a time of PEACE.

The other—and more peremptory—duty of Congress is to establish without delay UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING.

This country does not want another war: but that is not any insurance of peace.

Let Congress ask the veterans of our two last wars about that.

Let it ask the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

And let Congress above all remember those who went to the wars and who did not return.

The silent graves of Americans overseas—of men who fought and fell at Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne; Corregidor and in Bataan; in Africa and Sicily and the forest of Ardennes; at Saipan and Iwo Jima and Okinawa—these are witnesses whose testimony has been inscribed in heroic blood.

Fewer of them—most likely none of them—would have died in distant lands had their generation not been DOOMED TO DIE by false pacifism and unpreparedness.

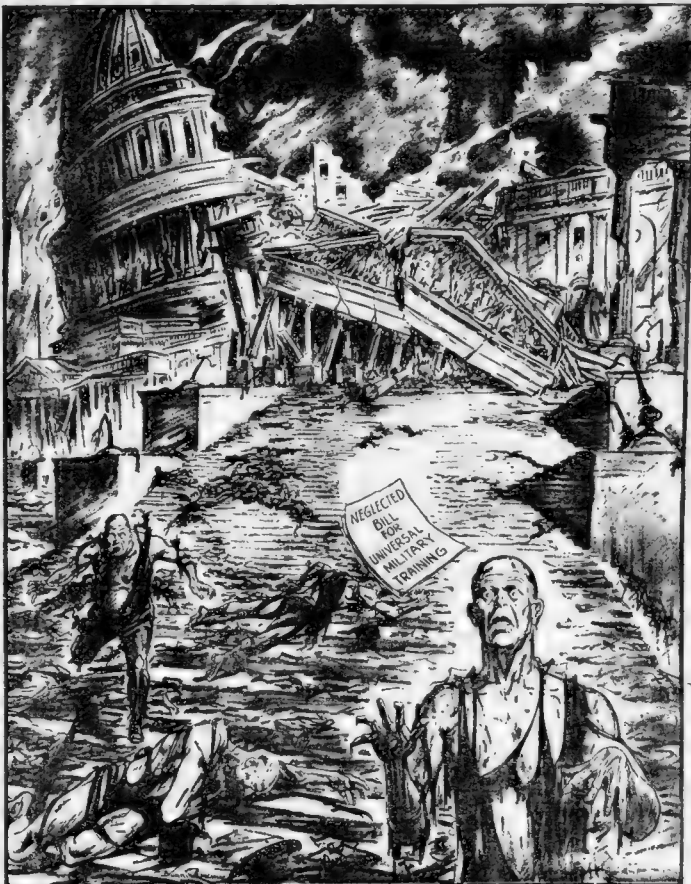

IT'S UNTHINKABLE

IT'S UNTHINKABLE that Greater Boston would fail the Community Fund. Nevertheless, with the close of this year's campaign set for tomorrow night, that dismaying possibility exists.

Fortunately, the bottom of the barrel of Greater Boston's generosity is far from being scraped. The money needed to put the fund over the top is there, with plenty to spare.

The time is desperately short, but not too short if only those thousands of persons who have this year neglected to make their contributions will only realize how their consciences will hurt and the record of Greater Boston will be smirched if the Red Feather is let down.

He took the bride about the neck
And kissed her lips
With such a clamorous smack
That at the parting
All the church did echo.

—SHAKESPEARE.

AS A CONSCIENTIOUS reader of the classified I noted with interest that in Manhattan there is a dog-walking outfit known as the Canine Walkers Service. Also was gratified to see that the cooking school for brides is still going strong. There should be schools like that in every city. From communications I have received from many young husbands, brides who can cook well are distinct rarities these days. I also noted a handsome offer reading: "Take a piano lesson today. Play a song tonight." That sounds like really something. Maybe I'll take a lesson.

PLEASE NOTE: The country's largest raiser of egg-laying chickens is not to be found in Petaluma, Cal., though that thriving town's slogan is, "The Egg Basket of the World." Tops as an egg-laying chicken raiser is George Hagopian of Wreatham, Mass. On George's farm 500,000 eggs can be in incubators at the same time.

BRIEFLY: A British automobile manufacturing firm specializing in small cars claims to have recently had 32,000 orders for cars cabled from the United States. . . The border collies who gave an exhibition at the recent National Horse Show were not the first canines to appear in that event. Years ago when the driving of four-in-hand coaches was featured at the horse show Dalmatian dogs ran by the side of the vehicles.

STOGIE DEPARTMENT: Van Johnson wires: "Nils Asher played the general in The Sister Tea of General Yen."

That's right. Now he has me nicked for two stogies. I wish to call to Mr. Johnson's attention the official rules of the Stogie Wagering Ass'n require the person queried to answer quick as half a flash and with no aid from others. I do not wish to lose my hard-earned stogies competing with the entire staff of the MGM studios on film history queries. They have fellows there like Pete Smith, who knew Mary Pickford even before she had curls. And also like Carey Wilson. I do not know how long Mr. Wilson has been in the film industry, but he played one of the bandits in the film "The Great Train Robbery," which was produced in nineteen hundred and nine. Anyway, once more into the breach! I will ask Van Johnson: "Who played General Grant in the film 'The Birth of a Nation'?"

Mary Pickford

SHORTHAND: As to how long shorthand dictation has been going on, Wilfred Funk points out that St. Paul dictated his epistles, which were taken down in shorthand. Mr. Funk also states two systems of shorthand were known in ancient Rome. He says Roman businessmen rode to their offices in chariots and dictated to male stenographers as they rode along. Very interesting. I wonder if Mr. Funk can tell us the name of the genius who originated the delightful idea of having female stenographers instead of male.

By E. V. Durling

GOOD SIGN: The distinguished British historian and military expert, B. H. Liddell Hart, is highly pleased that women have taken to long skirts. Says he: "Short skirts and straight lines have always foretold trouble, whereas long skirts and curving lines have borne a promise of peace and prosperity. Women's fashions, like a barometer, have been of great significance in foretelling a warlike or a peaceful tendency in the world."

CLEVER IDEA: Among the recently revealed highly original ideas is that of Mrs. Ranzy Gammel of Braintree, Mass., who has originated 12 different types of perfume, each one adapted to a sign of the zodiac. It is claimed that each type of perfume is adapted to the character of the user, according to the stargazers. If, for example, the stargazers say women under certain signs have not the natural strength in male attraction that others have, the deficiency is made up by the scent. There are other angles which space does not permit discussing. In any event it is a clever idea. Very clever.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

My Boston

By Alan Frazer

71

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (INS)—Gene Tierney got a hurried call from Hollywood to star in "Behind the Iron Curtain," the first out and out anti-Communist picture to be made. Gene herself will play a Communist.

The night before she left for the Coast, she and Oleg Cassini, who were on the verge of reconciling, had a terrific quarrel. I wasn't there, but I was told it was a matter of jealousy.

Gene went to the Coast to make arrangements for her picture. All the time she was in New York this last trip she was under suspension for refusing to accept a part in "Walls of Jericho."

When she and 20th parted, the studio said they would have nothing for her until January 1. I must say Gene is one of the most admired stars in Hollywood. She has such chic and the clothes Oleg makes for her are out of this world.

HERE'S A LAUGH. John Carradine can't go to Hollywood to make pictures because his ex-wife is suing him for back alimony there. So John has been off the screen for quite some time.

He's solved that problem very conveniently by signing to appear in "Close Up," the picture I told you Harry Brandt, of the independent theater owners, was making in New York.

Alan Baxter and Philip Huston are also in the cast, and shooting started yesterday with Jack Donohue directing. A five-story mansion has been rented here for the interior scenes. The firm is called Marathon Pictures and Frank Slatensten is producer.

NOW THAT Ken Curtis, who enjoys the distinction of being one of the few Western stars ever born in the West, has pulled out of Columbia, both Eagle-Lion and Republic are yodeling in his direction.

He sings, a la Gene Autry and Roy Rogers, and has no scruples about kissing his leading lady in the movies.

But the most astounding thing about him to the Hollywood natives is that he was actually raised on a ranch in Colorado's cattle country. Who ever heard of a cowboy being a cowboy before he became a cowboy?

THE FOLLOWING letter is from one Mr. Samuel Cummins and the bracket comments are mine. He writes:

"In reference to your column comment regarding Hedy Lam-mar threatening to stop the showing of 'Ecstasy,' please be advised that on the advice of counsel we are proceeding with plans to release 'Ecstasy' throughout the entire world in its original form. I feel that Hedy Lamarr has no cause for complaint." (Is that so?)

"Had it not been for the skillful exploitation of this film when it was first shown in this country, Hedy Lamarr would not have been a star and probably would have been in some concentration camp up to now." (Can you prove that large claim?)

"We believe 'Ecstasy' is a beautiful artistic film production and should be seen by everyone." (Everybody to his own artistic taste, sir.)

"We are prepared to meet this legal issue and are going ahead with distribution of the film." (How about the censor issue?)

CHATTER from Hollywood: I met Humphrey Bogart and Laurel Bacall at "Man and Superman," the George Bernard Shaw 1935 play and 1947 hit. The Shaw lines are still marvelous and are good for any year. Maurice Evans is playing to packed house every night.

Afterwards Bogey and Baby gave me a lift in their car and the chauffeur, Earl Williams by name, had a wonderful idea. He said he would like to ask that none of the movie stars sign autographs after 9:30 at night. The children stand around at all the night clubs and theaters, Williams says, when they should be home in bed.

Now, kids, don't get mad at me. That's Mr. Williams' idea. I do think though, that some of the children are awfully young to be out so late.

Speaking of Hollywood's new night spot, Le Pavillon, Impresario Felix Young has a lawsuit on his hands. The New York smart spot of the same name has the title copyrighted and is bringing their claim into court.

Felix may switch to just "Felix Young's."

Several years ago there was a similar battle over a West Coast nitery using "The Storik Club" and Sherman Billingsley won.

I WAS TALKING to Nancy Carroll and her pretty daughter, Patricia Kirkland, between acts of "The Druid Circle" when who should come up but DeWitt Boileau.

"Your play is wonderful," said Nancy, "and I am so happy that Pat is going to do it."

"I tried to get you on the telephone," DeWitt said to me, "to say my play 'Harvest of Years' will probably open Dec. 11 at the Cort Theater."

And Pat is the first one signed. DeWitt is one of the young writers of whom Hollywood is most proud. He did the screen adaptation of "I Remember Mama" and many of RKO's most important pictures. His play, which had a tryout in Hollywood, is excellent.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood and New York collected at random:

Joe Dolis

relis is in Hollywood with an anti-Commie book, he's written, "Under the Whip," and me and telling me they are interested. He's Dolly O'Brien's ex, y'know.

Ins Claire The Theater Guild has Ina Claire for Sam Behrman's new play, "Jane," the romance of a dowdy woman and a handsome young man. Since when was Ina ever dowdy? She'll do this after the run of "Fatal Weakness."

"Was no sooner said than done." I mention here that Mario and Floria, the two young talented dancers at the Copacabana reminded me of Veloz and Yolanda in their youth. The other day I received a wire from Mario and Floria thanking me and telling me they are now at the Romy Theater in New York replacing Veloz and Yolanda who hurried to the Coast as one of their children was taken suddenly ill there.

Rain Robinson is calling off "Rain Before Seven"—fascinating to read in book form, but hard to screen. He had Henry Fonda tied up for this but I suppose he'll switch him to some other story now.

Bing Crosby, who does things for charity he can't bestir his bosses to do for other events, will sing with Xavier Cugat's band at the winter ball benefit for St. John's Hospital Nov. 22 at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

John Rogers, famous producer of Charlie Rogers, and Gloria Le Maire have set their wedding day for sometime in January.

"Theatre World," edited by Daniel Blum, is one of the best theater references of the 1946-47 season I've read.

If H. D. Hoyer and Walter Kane can be sure of getting Kay Thompson and her wild Williams irides for the movie, they'll produce a film of "Circus of Hollywood." Bella and Sam Spewack have written the screen play.

Bob Sterling, who still dates his wife, Ann Sothorn, was with Virginia Wells at the Billmore Bowl last night.

Hedy Lamarr's new interest is Jacques Francois, the young French actor.

FROM NOW ON, CONGRESSMAN CHRISTIAN

ARCHIBALD HERTER will have to be reckoned with, in any survey of Republican possibilities for Governor, Senator or what have you?

(He can never be President, because he was born in Paris, France) . . . His survey of Europe as head of the Special House Committee on Foreign Aid has won him national attention. On the radio the other night, facing hard-boiled newsmen, he showed he was frank, fearless and independent in his judgments. . . . Hertel is 52. He is a Harvard grad and lives on Beacon st., but his mother was a McGinnis. . . . The Soviet government has an emissary in Boston, buying wool. Curiously enough his name has the German prefix "Von." We met him at the Ritz. . . . Plans are in the making for a new Boston mag, to be called "Hubbub."

PROVING THAT one group of veterans bear brass hats no ill-will, the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Post, VFW, has signed up Mr. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of West Point, to address the members in February at the Copley Plaza. . . . Betsy West, co-ed at the University of Pennsylvania, says dates with Harvard men are "superior" to those with men from Yale, Princeton, Columbia and Rutgers (all Ivy Leaguers, too). As for Pennsylvania men, she tells the Harvard Crimson, they can "make perfectly beautiful touchdowns, but that's about all!" . . . Boston's shopping streets were jammed last night, as always on Monday evenings. But there was one unusual and impressive sight—the dark immensity of the vast Jordan Marsh buildings. Not only were all lights out, all shades were drawn over the show-windows. A touching tribute to a great merchant, the late George W. Milton.

TWO YEARS AGO, Mike Sachs, the burlesque comedian, thought he was "washed-up" in show business, and for a very good reason. Now, he's back on the stage at the Old Howard, drawing applause from audiences he never sees. Mike is blind. . . . Dorothy Blaine, a lusty-eyed, with a talented larynx, remembered at the Tower Room and Bradford Roof, comes to the Somerset's Ballroom tomorrow night, from the Smart Bachelor Club in Pittsburgh. . . . Veterans' organization leaders meet again tomorrow, at the State House, in their drive to clean up the Veterans Administration. . . . Ginny Simms had two Royal Egyptian Intelligence officers listening to her one night recently in the Oval Room. They were Col. Abdul Galei and Col. Mohammed Khalifa, military attaches at London and Washington, respectively, but also members of the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations. . . . WEZ reports that 199,000 pupils are hearing "Listen and Learn" broadcasts in New England public, private and parochial school-rooms.

CATCHING-UP ON THE MAIL: E. F. Tamm, to know why "Peggy" Shea of Rockland is still at her old desk at the Veterans Administration, if her job was abolished. Answer: The papers are going through Civil Service channels. She will be out of 55 Tremont st. and over at 17 Court st. tomorrow. . . . Betty M. asks if Greer Garson will make a public appearance here. Answer: No, but she was at the Shubert opening last night with Eleanor Sears, and will leave for New York from the Back Bay Station at 3:05 p.m. tomorrow. Her operation at Beverly Hospital, by the way, was for a small abscess. . . . H. H. T. asks when the Logan Airport will have a modern terminal building. Answer: The Public Works Department has to go back to the Legislature for a new appropriation. Eventually the airport will have a building on the LaGuardia Field type in front of the main building will be a curving, one-story structure with facilities for each of 16 airlines.

FIVE DOLLARS was a lot of money in 1839, but that's what Boston men paid for kissing Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis, beautiful society matron. It was her way of raising money when funds for building Bunker Hill Monument ran out, with the shaft only half finished. . . . But Eleanor Early, the former Boston newspaper editor, will give credit in her new book "New Orleans Holiday to Judah Touro for saving the monument. . . . Touro contributed $10,000 anonymously (and got no kisses) because he was proud of the fact his was the only eye of the famous battle. A native of Newport, R. I., Touro went to New Orleans, where he was the first Jewish settler. Arriving there practically penniless, he made a fortune selling Maine potatoes. Boston, coffee and Medford rum. Medford has an avenue named for him. . . . Also says Boston's Eleanor, Touro founded an infirmary and made provision that it be non-sectarian. A hundred years later, Senator Barker, who dislikes Jews about as much as Negroes, went to that infirmary in his last extremity.

CLARK GABLE will probably pay Boston a visit in the not-too-distant future. Lew's heirs Clark wants to come to New York to do a stage play. Charles Kurtzman, northeastern manager of Lew's, has been told by MGM executives that he can have anybody he wants, if they're in the East, because he's done an excellent job for Father Williams, Lars Turner and others on their Boston visits. Charlie will want Clark. . . . Van Johnson is the next star due here, the date to be set soon. . . . Incidentally, a fact little known is that Liebow's Theatres, Inc. is the parent organization of some 78 subdivisions, including Miami. Liebow also owns most of the properties where it operates theaters. This is a great advantage over leases because in hard times, the bank can be taken up without undue losses. . . . And before dropping the subject, we must as well reveal that Charlie Kurtzman was the discoverer of that method of relaxing, with back on the floor and feet on a chair, that we found John Garfield trying out last week.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Mr. Grover Whitney McKelister, the distinguished legislative consultant, came in the other day brandishing a weird-looking publication, filled with strange hieroglyphics, and demanded:

"Know what this is?"

"Sure," I replied. "It is an ancient Egyptian papyrus—and don't forget that papyrus loves nannymyrus."

"It is the Federal Register," said Mr. McKelister. "You know what the federal register is? It is practically a piece of Sanskrit put out by the national archives—but unless a poor farmer reads it he can't collect insurance for his ruined wheat crop."

"More double talk," wailed Miss Reid. "What is the big, bloated lobbyist saying?"

McKEISTER, to whom all insults are as sweetest flattery, smirked at the damsel and continued:

"I would not expect you to follow the rulings of the Supreme Court, my dear young lady. A bit out of your line as you seldom have romantic complications. But the Supreme Court, in all its austere majesty, has just ruled that a farmer who buys government crop insurance must keep track of the insurance rules in the federal register."

"This ruling," went on McKelister, "cost a couple of brothers named Merrill, out in Bonneville County, Idaho, $3960 because the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation won't have to pay them off for their ruined wheat crop."

"For heaven's sake!" exclaimed Miss Reid, "what did they do—lie about their age?"

"No, they planted spring wheat in winter wheat acreage. There was no warning against this in the insurance application or by the government when it issued the policy but there's once been a warning in this volume of gibberish. The Supreme Court ruled it was up to the brothers to read Federal Register."

MY SOCIAL SECRETARY, Mrs. Tabitha Talcott Pratt, asked if all the justices had concurred in this and Mr. McKelister said they had split 5 to 4 adding:

"Justice Jackson went so far in his dissent as to term the ruling an absurdity. He said: 'If a farmer did not take the time to peruse this voluminous and dull publication he would never need crop insurance because he would never get time to plant any crops.'"

Well, it seems we had been getting the Federal Register all along but had never read it because Miss Reid had always tossed it in a pile of government releases to be looked-over some day, under the impression—as she explained—that it was a roll for an old-fashioned playboy.

So we studied a batch of the most recent copies. We are still punchy from the attempt.

Even the masthead is bewildering. It states that the charge for individual copies is 35 cents but that the price varies in proportion to the size of the issue. (So the farmer has to buy it too—by the pound, yet?).

By George Dixon

THE ISSUE OF NOV. 5 starts out with a description of the new seal for the Department of the Air Force. You wouldn't believe me otherwise, so I quote:

Shield: Per fess nebuly above and argent, in chief a thunderbolt or inflamed proper.

Crest: On a wreath argent and azure an American bald eagle. Wings displayed and partially elevated proper in front of a cloud argent."

"Merciful heaven!" gasped my social secretary, Mrs. Tabitha Talcott Pratt. "What is that—some of the dinner table conversation at one of Mrs. Mittens' dinners for the chief justice?"

"No," replied Mr. McKelister, "it is heretic language as interpreted by the Federal Register."

SEEK MISSING CAPE MAN

Public Works Comr. William H. Buracker announced today that his department expected to complete rules and regulations establishing fees for delivery of gasoline and oil at Logan Airport in time for the new schedule to be put into effect Dec. 1.

Buracker last week informed oil companies and air lines that a 3-cent per gallon tax would be imposed on gasoline and a 10-cent per gallon assessment on oil.

3 N. Y. Men Sentenced For Hub Mail Larceny

Bay State Nurses Hear Pep Talk

Massachusetts nurses were urged today by Edward Bernays, nationally known public relations executive, to affiliate themselves with the American Nursing Ass'n so they might be more influential in molding public opinion for legislation beneficial to them.

Bernays spoke at the Statler Hotel before the Massachusetts League of Nursing Education, Massachusetts State Nurse's Ass'n and Massachusetts Organization of Public Health Nursing. He stressed that nurses do not achieve "tenure" security as do school teachers, and so are not protected against "arbitrary" action by employers.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes urged the nurses to be wary about allowing themselves to become beneficiaries of "paternalistic" laws made out by patients.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—In the general public discussion of Communists in the movie industry, someone on our side of the question, that is to say, some right-minded, 100 per cent American, made the mistake of proposing the repeal of one of the laws of nature.

This patriot recalled movies in which the American banker had been portrayed as a bleak and bloodless rascal who celebrated Christmas by turning the widow and her little brood out into the snow. This was held to be a wicked slander on a noble school of Americans, intended to undermine confidence in the holy edifice of liberty and so forth. Actually, this is just a familiar working of the fatal attraction of the plug hat for the snowball. The same theme, written and acted by men and women of respectable motives, has been applauded for generations.

But we take some things from some people without a blink. When others say them, we get red-necked. And it isn't so much the things themselves that we resent as the nasty way some people say them.

So it is not merely that the movie industry has treated harshly our bankers, our Congress, our publishers and our economic system. We could write and act worse criticisms of ourselves. The objection lies against the fact that certain persons are selected to write and produce and act so many shows, with never a film to balance things by showing the freedom and general abundance of American life under our system.

IF WE CAN'T find a law to make somebody do or quit doing something, we find a way to make him nevertheless. A thing that can't be done by law may still be done under law. We have been known to condemn the boycott as an un-American weapon which can't discriminate between the guilty and the blameless and many of our right-minded Americans came out against it in the 'twenties when the modern Ku Klux Klan was slandering Catholics, Jews and Negroes as such.

Since then, many of the same Americans themselves have used the boycott to suppress opinions which they oppose. And now, our side can do the same to those Hollywood producers who say they can't get rid of Communists because they can't be sure that the Communists in question aren't sincere liberals.

They got rid of a lot of actresses for personal revenge, and many individuals in the writing trade and incidental branches of the industry have suddenly run into their iron curtain of economic persecution inflicted for the most obscure reasons. But when the subject is a writer, musician or actor who has notoriously run with Communists, attended their meetings, signed their manifestos and given to their collections, the industry becomes fastidious and, for its delicate conscience, demands a degree of proof that cannot be produced.

After all, the United States Supreme Court held that Harry Bridges was not Communist after the learned referee and the attorney-general had held that he was and two federal courts had refused to upset that considered judgment. So actually the moving picture industry has the gall to say that it will continue to employ all Communists who deny that they are or merely refuse to answer.

IN FAVORING THESE, the industry confers on them their only importance. Fire them, and they wither and vanish. They no longer strut, but sink. They can't donate to Henry Wallace's collections in the Bowl as so many of them did last spring. And, inasmuch as the hiring of all such is done by choice, individually, and not from a union hall or seniority list, the right not to renew contracts is too plain to be doubted even by a jury.

There are only a few hundred of them altogether. If they all should perish in some wreck, that would be dramatic, but the industry and civilization would carry on. Just drop them, one by one, over a year or two until they are all gone, and the change will not be noticeable. There are no real writers among them. The best can be replaced out of newspaper shops, where most of them came from, anyway. The actors are not artists, but mere personalities with facial trademarks. Normally, they come and they go. What harm then to hurry them a little?

Perfume Just for Five O'Clock

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

FASHION'S NEW BY-WORD "five o'clock" has now found beauty acceptance, as undeniably it had to. There was no overlooking this "when day is done and shadows fall 'hour'" which sounds the clarion call for women to step out in their fashions-for-the-so-cial-scene best. But more than just the bewitching hour... when gay, blithe souls get together in mutual conviviality for a sophisticated sparring of uninhibited wits... it has now become, under the inspired brilliance of a noted beauty authority, a provocative new French fragrance.

For what could better punctuate this important segment of time... between the dusk and the daylight... when the hems are beginning to lower and the fabrics become more fabulous... than a perfume specifically, wilfully, knowingly created as beauty's exclamatory acclaim to fashion?

COMES IN NOVEL PACKAGE

With "five o'clock" a new trend in fashion... "five o'clock" fragrance is only a natural sequence of beauty's eventual entrance into the new picture. And the fragrance is packaged in... of all things... the most amusing miniature cocktail shaker that American ingenuity has yet produced. We don't know which we are fonder of... the fragrance or the shaker-bottle... although we're delighted with both.

The miniature cocktail shaker is of sparkling clear, heavyweight glass... lettered in silver... and topped by a gold metal friction cap debossed with a crest. It is an utterly different kind of container for a fragrance... like nothing that ever appeared before. Talk about your "bottled in bond"... this new fragrance is bottled in whimsical beauty to mantle a gal in bonded sophistication.

And it comes direct from the flower fields of Grasse... where its creator has her own French flower fields, which she purchased and rehabilitated after the war... home of the world's finest perfume distillations. It is a heady fragrance, spiked with stimulation to give you that necessary extra-special lift when, peacock proud, you strut poised and confident of your sartorial appearance into a smart spot.

SPECIAL GOWN CREATED

It was given a New York launching a few weeks ago at a very swank charity affair. In honor of the new fragrance... Oleg Cassini, Hollywood stylist now a resident of New York, created a new "five o'clock gown"... a charming chocolate taffeta frock with interesting details on the new ankle-length skirt. And all the guests... a list of which reads like the Social Register... were souvenired with this striking new fragrance in the striking new miniature cocktail shaker bottle.

For the name of this new fragrance, either in perfume or toilet water, phone the Beauty Department, Liberty 4000, and day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR THE WOMAN of the hour there's a new fascinating and heady scent to serve as inspiration for the important "five o'clock" look which... according to Oleg Cassini's newest dancing frock features the sweeping ankle-length brocade skirt and the nipped-in velvet bodice. The new French fragrance is amusingly bottled in a miniature cocktail shaker... decidedly apropos of the time for which it is to be used.

Serve Cheese Many Ways

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

ACCORDING to the American Dairy Ass'n, cheese production is the highest in history, prices are lower than a year ago and the quality is better than ever. So, cheese is one of the big food bargains today on the shopping list of thrifty homemakers.

Cheese can be served in so many ways that it fits into almost any meal of the day. If you lived in the South, you'd have it for breakfast. Really! In New Orleans, cream cheese served on toast is as popular as our breakfast muffins.

Here are some quick tricks for serving cheese:

Cheese 'n' Crackers: Arrange crackers in a pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese. Bake until cheese starts to melt. Serve. Melts in the mouth.

Swiss 'n' Ham: Slice fresh rye bread. Butter each slice and top with thin slice of pink, tender ham. Top all with American-made Swiss cheese. Crisp green lettuce is the finishing touch on this taste-tantalizing combination.

Cheeseburgers: Brown both sides of ground round steak patties spiced with mustard, onion, catsup, Worcestershire, salt and pepper. Place on broiler rack. Top each patty with slices of cheddar cheese. Broil until cheese melts. Serve on buttered, toasted bun. Delicious!

Zesty Crackers: Butter some saltines. Mix ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese, 2 tsp. butter or margarine, 1 tsp. vinegar... seasoning with salt, paprika and mustard. Place mix in undulating folds on buttered saltines.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

Boil 4 ounces elbow macaroni 8 minutes in 3 quarts boiling, salted water. Drain, rinse. Add ½ cup grated cheddar cheese, 2 tsp. chopped parsley, ¼ cup chopped pimiento, ¼ cup chopped olives, 2 tsp. olive juice. Mix. Pour into greased quart casserole. Top: Sprinkle ½ cup grated cheddar cheese. Bake 30 minutes at 350 deg. F.

Cheese Croustades are smart "containers" which are the right thing for a strictly feminine luncheon, filled with creamed seafood or chicken à la king, served with buttered peas or Frenched string beans and a crisp green salad. But they are equally approved by the masculine contingent any time. Easy to do and inexpensive, they are unusual and delicious too. But you have to plan ahead when you want to serve these cheese-and-butter-crusted bread boxes. You will need a loaf of day-old uncut enriched bread. In these days of sliced bread, you may have to place your order at your bakery two days ahead of using.

CHEESE CROUSTADES

Cut a loaf of day-old bread into 1½ to 2 inch slices, removing crusts. Carefully remove center of each slice with a sharp paring or grapefruit knife, leaving a box with walls and sides about ¼ inch thick. Brush all sides with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle liberally with grated Parmesan cheese. Place in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) to toast to a light golden brown. If grated processed or other cheese is used, partially toast buttered bread boxes before sprinkling with cheese. Serve hot, filled with any creamed mixture. Use leftover crumbs of the enriched bread for stuffings, puddings, or dry and grind for toppings of casserole dishes. If loaf is quite large, smaller "boxes" or croustades may be made by cutting slices diagonally.

Open-Shoe Styles Revised for Spring

SPRING SHOES will be "as you like it" with designs to satisfy the followers of the closed look as well as those who prefer the open shoe. According to a review of women's footwear fashions at the New England Shoe Market Week, sponsored by the New England Shoe and Leather Ass'n.

However, there has been such revision of the open-shoe, so-called, that they do not bear any resemblance to the open toe, open heel patterns of the past. Many of them have been given "derriere" interest that promises immediate spring popularity. Heel interpretations are countless in treatment... lacing, lattice, strips, cuffs and back scalloping were all shown.

The question of heels and the New Look being the personal matter that it is, New England shoe manufacturers are letting the ladies decide for themselves. It all has to do with the proportions of a woman's body. Some women, particularly young girls, can wear the low heel ballet-type shoe with a longer fuller skirt. Others need the lift of a higher heel.

MANY COLORS TO BE POPULAR

Perennial navy, spring's favorite, will be ever fashionable, but other colors will share in the shoe honors. All of the brown shadings, especially a lighter almond color, will be important. New England manufacturers are also featuring many brilliant jewel tones. And they claim that pastels will be more apparent than in any year since the war.

Reds will be very smart with summer whites. At all green. As to types of shoes, smooth calfs, polished kids, rich suede, gleaming patent leather will walk side by side with the reptiles... alligator, lizard and snakeskin.

Satin shoes for the social after-five hour will receive great fashion stress. Many are being made in platinum and bronze tones to extend their versatility in being dye-dyed to order for costume matching. Most of them have a slim, graceful heel. They are not spikes to make a woman totter.

Ankle-strap shoes are and will continue to be popular, whether available in the all-closed shoe or the shoes with open-closed look. And, of course, sandals, those beloved easy-walkers of so many women, will be back in force newly dressed up with multiple straps.—R. M.

WHETHER you're planning a vacation or just wishfully thinking about one... you can still go places in this beautifully tailored classic designed by Joselli in men's wear gray-striped worsted. Neat, nice and new on the spring fashion horizon... its longer jacket features the young, small and rounded collar and large, rounded pockets, accented by a divided trio set of buttons. The skirt is a happy compromise between the very full and skimming line. It is a fashion-beauty for the business girl.—R. M.

Add Style Magic to Dress

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

PEARLS in ropes and bands and piles of matched beauty—pearls used lavishly in deliberately exaggerated splendor—are an unmistakable sign of fashion this season.

Pearls have been good style since before Cleopatra's day, but even Cleopatra couldn't boast of pearls in the qualities that women are wearing today. True, hers were real, and those under discussion here have never seen an oyster. But the matched set of pearl jewelry that fashion loves in 1947 doesn't need to be real to transform a nondescript dress into an important costume.

The set designed by Coro and sketched today has three pieces; worn together, they bring drama to a simple dress. The necklace is 14 strands of pearls held together with a rhinestone clasp. The strands, graduating from throat size to a long rope that reaches more than half-way to the waist, give lovely emphasis to a low décolletage. The earrings are beehive piles of tiny pearls. Bands of pearls make the matching bangle bracelets.

Jiffy Doll Clothes Smart Set Newton Girl Bride

By BETTY ALDEN

MR. and MRS. GEORGE A. WILSON of Auburndale announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia deLuce Wilson, to Andrew Carl Extrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Extrom of Syracuse, N. Y. The candlelight ceremony at the Methodist Church, Alexandria Bay, N. Y., took place Nov. 8 with Rev. Lisle Bentley Caldwell officiating.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Royal A. Garlock, who were the couple's attendants. The bride wore a two-piece wool suit with a brown skirt and ice blue jacket embroidered in gold braid. She wore a small brown hat and a wrist-let of purple orchids. Mrs. Garlock chose a claret ensemble and corsage of gardenias and tulle roses.

After a honeymoon in the Adirondacks and New England the couple will reside in Syracuse. The bride attended Bishop Lee School of the Theater in Boston and has had a varied career on the stage, screen and radio. Mr. Extrom served in the Navy in the Pacific and is with the N. Y. Telephone Co.

BOSTON LANDMARKS such as Lonsburg Square and Park Street Church, and scenes of Nantucket are included in the New England landscape paintings by Mario Barchelli to be exhibited at Dull and Richards Gallery next week. The exhibition opens Monday, Nov. 24, with a private view and sherry party given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pfeiffer.

They are sponsors of the exhibit, together with Gen. and Mrs. Ralph Boyd, Mrs. Barbara Chadbourne, Miss Katherine E. Child, Consul General and Mrs. Agostino G. Maraldi, Mr. and Mrs. William James, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus H. Mayor.

NO MATTER how popular the samba and rumba are with the debs and college boys, the waltz is still the favorite dance of Boston society. First of this season's Waltz Evenings takes place Friday at the Copley Plaza with a harvest motif of turkeys, pumpkins and autumn leaves for decorations. Among the many waltz devotees taking parties of friends are Mrs. Soma Weiss, Mr. John McKey, Mr. Robert Pearmain and Mrs. Barton Anable. Mrs. Russell Jewell will entertain a group of young people from the newly-formed Copley Club.

NOTES FROM A Society Editor's Cuff: Two national holidays this year are important and memorable landmarks in the lives of Molly Van Wyck of Ipswich and Carlisle T. Spencer of Boston. They announced their engagement on the Fourth of July and will be married Thanksgiving Day. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin S. Van Wyck. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Spencer, Jr. of Boston and Maric.

The Saturday after Thanksgiving will be the wedding day of another popular young couple, Carol Clarke and James Morrison Sampson, both of Brookline. They will have a small family wedding with a reception at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Clarke. Mr. Sampson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sampson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mulcahy, Jr. (Mary O'Day), are among a number of young couples looking forward to a home of their own in Hancock Village. They picked one of the houses on a courtyard so their toddler will have a fine place to play and expect to move in the first of next month. Their neighbors will include the Parker Wards, Jack Stevermans and Robert Paines. Mary's parents Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day of Brookline, and debutante daughter Ann will be among the many Bostonians going to New Haven for the Harvard-Yale game Saturday.

ST. PHILOMENA GUILD of St. Elizabeth's Hospital is sponsoring an Assembly and Tea Thursday afternoon, Nov. 20, in honor of Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, D. D., Archbishop of Boston. Members and friends of the Guild will attend to hear a musical program by 24 members of the Boston Symphony, directed by Roland Tapley. Miss Constance McGlinchey will be piano soloist. Proceeds will aid the Guild's project to equip the maternity ward in the new building at St. Elizabeth's.

'The Medium,' Reopening Majestic, Fails to Please All

By LEO GAFFNEY

There were two big surprises at the re-opening of the Majestic. First the theater itself, refurbished so agreeably by the Shuberts, then the nature of the entertainment on

It was the two short operas in English by Gian Carlo Menotti, "The Telephone" and "The Medium," both loaded with praise when they were in New York, but received here with decidedly mixed regard last night.

Maay were having a marvelous time. Others went away gloomily mystified. Some got downright sore.

It was "The Medium," longer of the two little operas, that vexed the malcontents. ("The Telephone," only a curtain-raiser for the other, is a brisk, even cute, satire on the feminine predilection for hanging the telephone on all occasions, even when tative.

The stage, too, depressing in stylized gray, lacks with fake ecotopia the contrast of the backstage, looked like another bad dream of Tennessee Williams. Again on the unpleasant side, Marie Powers in the title role uses a high, contralto voice that goes cheerless around middle life on the way down. Sounds too, too dramatic for many listeners.

The "Medium" is an intensely dramatic account of a spiritualist who, while doing business at the old stand, feels clammy fingers around her own throat. In her frenzy of fright she forswears the derstand and take. The music was something else again. In the modern manner, Carlo Menotti deals in dissonance so rich and wry as to really rile the average theater audience. True, there were one or two airs in Humperdinckian flavor that were liked and applauded, but

Gertrude Lawrence Sparks 'Tonight at 8:30' Texas Epic for Para-Fenwa

By PEGGY DOYLE

His most loyal devotees forgot to miss Noel Coward too much last night at the Shubert in admiration over the starring performances of Gertrude Lawrence and four gentlemen not listed in the cast of the revival production of the author-actor-director.

hit, the Colonial's "Lady Windermere's Fan."

He also is responsible for the selection of his current successor in the co-starring role, fellow-Britisher Graham Payn, who after a not too persuasive beginning built up to an excellent tandem performance with Miss Lawrence as an English music hall song-and-dance team in the final one-act, "Red Peppers."

Payn, who was seen in London several years ago in the Coward revue, "Sigh No More" seemed to lack the subtlety and suavity required for that thoroughly Cowardish piece, "Ways and Means."

As you may recall, the principals are a playboy and his prettily distressed wife who are much too charming to work and not lucky enough to hit the jackpot at the gambling casinos. The entire action takes place in the luxuriously appointed bedroom of a Riviera villa. Their hostess has just told them, in the most charming terms Coward could tap out on his typewriter, they must scam.

A co-operative burglar saves them and the playlet in the third and best scene. "Ways and Means" is as fragile as the negligee Miss Lawrence gives such an amusing workout through its performance but her Stella Cartwright, Sarah Burton's hostess, Valerie Cossart's princess and Rhoderick Walker's burglar are enacted with such deft skill as to beguile the playgoers.

"Family Album," which follows, has a set background of a family grouping a la tableau that provoked instant and prolonged applause. In this Old-English vignette, the family is in mourning—the ladies in elegant, off-shoulder black taffeta gowns; with wide, spreading skirts and the men in the handsome colorful costumes of the period.

Papa has just died. They are reuniting and, done in by the grape, the prim, spinster sister unburies herself of her hate for the deceased old scoundrel whose will, bequeathing his money to certain London ladies, she and faithful old Burrows destroyed "seven and a half minutes after Papa breathed his last."

"The Fabulous Texan," gun-roaring tale of this country's lawless badiands, brings William Elliott, John Carroll and Catherine McLeod to the Paramount and Fenway screens for a week's engagement, beginning Thursday.

Heralded as Republic Pictures' most ambitious adventure action thriller, "The Fabulous Texan" is described as a hard-hitting story of a fateful era as it was met and surmounted by the little people in the raw, frontier state of Texas.

When the Texans who fought for the Confederacy came straggling home, they found their state in the ruthless hands of a gang of politicians who enforced their will by means of an armed force dubbed the state police.

Elliott and Carroll play two of these returned vets. Albert Dekker and Douglas Dumbrille are cast as leaders of the notorious state police. Edward Ludwig directed the Edmund Grainger production.

Tonight's Opening

Hall Shelton will present "The Legend of Lou," a comedy by Stephen Cross with Ruth Ames, Lyle Talbot, Edwin H. Robin, Virginia Smith and Wallis Clark, at the Plymouth Theater tonight. Melville Bern directed.

companions, whom I must not identify 'for their sake'.

Twenty heads pivoted and stared at me intently, not with casual curiosity of loungers, but with the steady scrutiny of bird dogs pointing quail. Within thirty seconds they had oozed inside. The sidewalk was empty.

"See what I mean?" said my companions, who stayed behind while I went inside through the cafe's crowded halls and offices, where men regarded me with sullen eyes. Though I wore the uniform of their U. S. "benefactors," they were silently hostile. All activity stopped. Every eye was fixed on me with cold belligerence.

Yet the "director," a small, bald man was affable enough. Yet he would show me around—and did! There was nothing to see, except the usual DP quarters and offices. I didn't expect to find more. I thanked the "director" and left, muttering "I told you so" grins from the jeep riders.

Weiden is one of several counterfeiting centers in this zone, with expert DP printers equipped to imitate any official document. The Constabulary and CIC admit they don't know exactly where it is. But they have ample evidence in their exhibits and from "informers" who are planted throughout the zone. There's another such counterfeiting plant at Schwandorf.

The Cafe Weiss and the DP area of downtown Weiden is not, technically, a camp at all, but a close-knit community where the DP's enjoy "free living" (as the saying goes) in apartments commandeered from owners. Several times local authorities have tried to move these people to a comfortable camp at Vilseck. But applications to Frankfurt have been ignored.

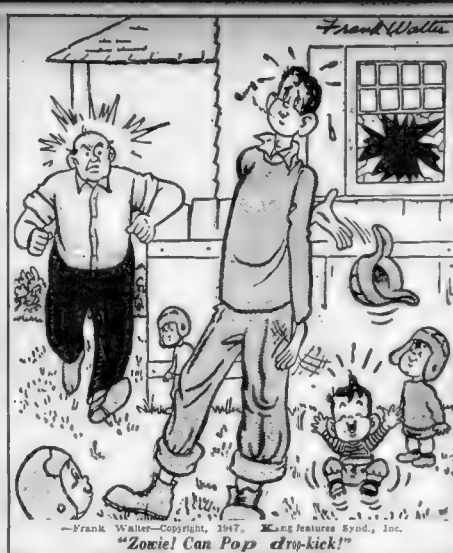

Said one IRO executive today, "I'm certain if Frankfurt ordered them moved these people would sacrifice their DP status and benefits to stay where they are. They're making too much money. We're supporting some people who don't need it."

"PERSECUTEES" UNIONIZED

The IRO man then told of the medical branch of a DP council which is elected by "persecutees" who are virtually unionized and ballot for their representatives, who are installed in spacious offices in Munich. "Not long ago they called a strike among DP medical units throughout the zone. Their demands? A larger cigarette ration." He told also of a DP trade apprentice strike in which the students quit training until they got more cigarettes.

And another time, DP's at Landsberg, one of the largest camps, wilfully soiled, smashed and disarranged their quarters before the visit of an inspecting U. S. general in order to claim newer equipment.

The IRO official, however, disclaims the Constabulary's universal report that DP's give 75 per cent of the zone's trouble. He said, "The immature, poorly trained GI's do." He thought that the majority of DP's were honest, worthy and willing to work, and deplored the blind policy of Frankfurt that DP's must not be forced to work unless they want to. They lose their relief status if they take outside jobs, thus being discouraged from accepting private employment.

"Idleness is demoralizing," agreed this IRO man. "There's plenty of projects needed under the German economy. (ED. NOTE—The expression denoting the over-all expenses levied against Germany by the Military Government.) These people should be made to work at a living wage under our supervision. But Frankfurt says NO... or rather, doesn't say anything."

Surveys show that 75 per cent of the DP's hope some day to be admitted under U. S. immigration quotas. But Canada, meanwhile, is already accepting limited, carefully screened trade quotas, like 2500 experienced lumbermen, 1500 tailors, etc., putting each applicant through rigid tests of skill and character history, to be sure it is picking the best. Thus the cream of the DP crop is going elsewhere.

DOOMED BY INMATES

The only time, to my knowledge that one of these "untouchable" DP camps was raided came recently when an "informers" life was at stake. The man, planted in the camp as a spy, was caught by the inmates and condemned by a tribunal of DP's to death. Only until now, nothing has been printed about it.

"I didn't risk going to the local MG for permission to raid the camp," said the officer who ordered the action. "If I had, I'd have been told, 'Get a search warrant' or 'Ask Frankfurt for authority.' Before I could get it my man would have been dead."

In previous articles I have mentioned the friction which exists between the Intelligence branches of the Occupation and some of the Military Government, the latter resenting the secret agents as "interferers" American Gestapo and "moral nuisances." Hear then the accusation of numbers of the Intelligence men that I have talked to—and they number scores.

"Many MG officials," they say, "have taken German mistresses or have married German girls, who often use their sympathies to soften the administration in German favor. There's a powerful pettifol lobby behind the Occupation."

Such a lobby, in truth, cannot be discounted. It is a genuine, if abstract, factor. The pettifol lobby has divided somewhat since the advent of many U. S. wives and families to Germany. These wives have been quick to set up social barriers and establish codes of behavior. They've helped a little, but the moral situation here is exceedingly loose among both victors and vanquished. This Occupation does not do Americans great credit.

40 Stephens Plugs Gap at Third for Red Sox

Kramer Looms As 20-Game Man For Fenway Nine

By JACK CONWAY

"It is Joe McCarthy's headache now," declared General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox when asked whether Vern Stephens, shortstop acquired with Jack Kramer of the Browns in a sensational deal, or Johnny Pesky would play third base for the Yawkeys.

"We got John Ostrowski of Los Angeles in the draft, but he has no major league background. Stephens is one of the best ballplayers in the American League, a fine fielder and a good hitter. He hit .279 last season, while his all-time major league batting mark is over .300."

Cronin also had words of praise for pitcher Jack Kramer.

"Kramer is a pitcher like Doherty and he should help us a great deal," said Joe. "Now that this deal has been closed it does not appear as if I'll have a great deal to do at the league meetings."

The deal that brings Stephens and Kramer to Boston and sends Roy Pate, catcher; Jim Wilson, pitcher; Eddie Pellagrini, infielder; Al Widmar, pitcher, and Pete Layden, outfielder, to St. Louis was announced simultaneously in Boston and St. Louis at 3 p. m. Boston time. Cronin asserted it was an "immediate" newspaper release. If Joe follows the same policy of giving out news to the press as soon as it happens, there will be less confusion and better results will be gained for the ball club.

While Cronin refused to name any cash figure, as he asserted such matters are up to Tom Yawkey, it is estimated that the Red Sox gave between $150,000 and $250,000 along with the five players named in return for Stephens and Kramer. It was a top deal for the Red Sox and definitely makes the club a strong pennant contender for 1948. It plugs up the gap at third base, which has been the sore spot of the team, and gives the Sox needed pitching strength. Kramer should be a 20-game winner on a pennant contender.

Yawkey Answers Challenge of the Braves

Since the close of the 1947 season Tom Yawkey has answered the challenge of the Braves for first place in the hearts of Boston and New England fans by two dramatic moves: (a) the signing of Joe McCarthy as manager and moving Joe Cronin into the front office as general manager and (b) the deal that brings Vern Stephens and Jack Kramer to the Sox.

The next move is up to Messrs. Perini, Rugo and Maney. You may be sure that the Braves management will not spare money or effort to get the desired players.

Joe Cronin appears to be very happy in his new berth as general manager of the Red Sox. Once the deal with the Browns was closed, he sent for the baseball writers and columnists and gave out the news without any unnecessary delay.

"This is for immediate release," declared Cronin as soon as he revealed the names of the players in the big deal.

Perhaps Joe recalled the day he appeared in the same office to be announced as the new playing manager of the Red Sox. Long before the Red Sox announcement was made reporters from this newspaper called the attention of Sox officials to dispatches from Washington telling the world Cronin was the new manager of the Red Sox.

There have been numerous other instances in Boston baseball history where big stories have "leaked" from another source before announced at a chicken pattie and cake party. There is to be no more of this dilly-dallying at Fenway Park. When a news story breaks, it will be announced to the world much as a Ted Williams home run drive is sent over the air waves by Jim Britt or some other announcer the second it occurs.

Things looked cheerful at Fenway Park even on a fall day. The thoughts of Stephens and Kramer playing with the Red Sox next season helped create this fine feeling.

Biff Glassford Makes Good at N. H.

Biff Glassford has made good in a large way at the University of New Hampshire. His club is undefeated this season, while a year ago it suffered only one loss.

New Hampshire is being considered for the Glass Bowl at Toledo. If it is picked for this contest, much of the credit will be due Glassford.

The New Hampshire coach was an All-America tackle at Pittsburgh in 1937. He later was a line coach for Herb Kopf at Manhattan, and then moved up to Yale for a year to assist Howie Odell. New Hampshire moved a long way ahead in sports when it acquired Glassford.

PERFECT FIT—Vern Stephens tries on Red Sox cap for size and finds it fits perfectly. He'll fit into Sox scheme of things perfectly, too, either at short or at third. He can hit.

Dons Fire De Groot

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18 (AP)—Dudley De Groot "resigned" as head coach of the All-America Football Conference's Los Angeles Dons today.

Don Ameche, movie star-president of the club, announced in a prepared statement issued to the press that De Groot "has tendered his resignation as head coach of the Los Angeles Dons."

The statement said "the owners and De Groot have made this decision in the best interests of all concerned." There was no elaboration either by the owners or De Groot.

The statement, however, quickly pointed out that the resignation came on the heels of successive losses by the club to San Francisco, Buffalo and New York.

The club, which has won five and lost six games this year, will finish out its three remaining games under the leadership of Mel Hein and Ted Skipkey, assistants to De Groot.

Seerey Ordered To Cut Weight To 195 Pounds

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18 (AP)—Husky Pat Seerey, Cleveland Indians outfielder who sat on the bench most of last season, was under orders today to report for spring training next year at 195 pounds—or else.

Tribe president Bill Veeck disclosed he advised Seerey in a showdown conference two weeks ago to consult a dietitian at Cleveland Clinic Hospital and to prepare for a conditioning siege in California.

Following instructions, the heavy-set outfielder has shaved his weight from 225 to 214 and will leave his home here tomorrow for California.

"I don't want to give up on Pat," Veeck said. "I think that as long as he can stay in condition he can be a great ball player. But he knows it's next season or never."

Seerey, who joined the Indians in 1943 and hit .171 last season, said his diet allowed only 1800 calories daily. Physicians consider anything under 1400 virtually starvation rations.

Dave Andrews Battles Canadian Champ Tonight

Dave Golden Boy Andrews of Lowell will make his first appearance in Salem when he mingles with Joe Pyle, welterweight champion of Canada in the feature fray of 10 rounds tomorrow night at the North St. Arena. It will also be Pyle's first visit to New England.

In the semi-final of six rounds Joey Balduc of Cambridge faces Lou Bell of Lowell.

Michigan No. 1 Again In Grid Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Prestige gained by a 40-6 romp over a highly-rated Wisconsin team sent the Michigan Wolverines to the top of the pile today in the weekly Associated Press coast-to-coast poll of 245 football writers.

Despite Notre Dame's 26-19 victory over Northwestern, the fighting Irish dropped to second place.

Michigan drew 140 first place votes and Notre Dame 87 as a record number of newsmen participated in the balloting.

Although Southern Methodist had to go hard to beat Arkansas, 14-6, the Mustangs advanced when Penn dropped from third to sixth after its 7-7 tie with Army, marking its perfect record. Idaho Southern California, which faces UCLA in the big Pacific Coast conference title game Saturday, also moved up a peg to fourth in the standings.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Michigan (109)	2,044

Bob Black Leads IC4-A Harriers

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Black of Rhode Island State, finished 60 yards in front of Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State, to win the individual championship of the IC4-A cross country meet in Van Cortlandt Park.

Black was clocked in 25 minutes, 31.7 seconds for the five miles. It will go into the books as a record because the course has been changed from previous years.

The two pace-setters, who ran side by side for the first four miles, were followed by Jack Milne of North Carolina, Jack Dianetti of Michigan State and Daniel Coughlin of Boston University. Thirty-six colleges sent varsity teams. More than 180 runners started.

FIRST FIVE—Bob Black, R. I. State, completes cross-country sweep by winning IC4A championship. Here are first five to cross the line: Black, Horace Ashenfelter, Penn State, second; Jack Milne, North Carolina, third; Jack Dianetti, Mich. State; fourth, and Tom Strider, Army, fifth.

Pics Leave For Quebec

Boston Olympics, who played great hockey last Saturday night at the Garden in their 5-4 win over New York Rovers, depart for Quebec City tonight.

Coach Harrington said yesterday that there is a good chance that Eddie Barry, Pies' rugged left winger, would make the trip. If Barry is found fit and ready, the locals will have their entire playing personnel on hand when they meet Quebec Aces.

Coach George "Punch" Imlich's Aces have played the Pies twice this season. The first tilt was played at the Boston Arena, and the Aces edged out a four to three win. The second game was played at Quebec City and the locals outplayed the Aces to win 3-1.

Russia in Olympics If Fascists Are Barred

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 18 (AP)—Russia wants to compete next year in the Olympic games, says Robert J. H. Kiphuth, Yale's director of athletics and head U.S. swimming coach, provided...

Kiphuth told the Junior Chamber of Commerce here that Russia had applied for the first time in history to compete in the Olympics, but there are certain restrictions.

He identified these "stipulations and conditions" as requests that Russian be made an official language of the games; that a Russian be placed immediately on the Olympic governing board, and that representatives of all Fascist countries be excluded from the games.

Gun Dates Revised

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Many Massachusetts hunters seem to be confused about the current dates of seasons on various kinds of game, most of which were extended because of the days lost during the recent forest fire emergency. For the benefit of one and all, then, here's the data:

Pheasants—cocks only—may be shot until Dec. 2. But the season for ruffed grouse closes Thursday.

Dec. 2 is the final date for the following species: Quail and gray squirrels.

Raccoons may be bagged through Jan. 16, 1948... Opossum hunting terminates on the same day... Hares and rabbits may be hunted until Feb. 27, 1948.

And as a special reminder: The woodcock season ended yesterday, while the deer season runs through the first week in December, from the first through the sixth of that month.

Here are exceptions on the above dates: In Dukes and Nantucket Counties, the gunning for hares and rabbits winds up Feb. 15, 1948... No quail shooting is allowed in Berkshire, Essex, Franklin, Hampden and Hampshire Counties.

All hunters are again advised to check rules and regulations with the office where they purchased their licenses... Be alert in the fields and woods; SIGHT before you SHOOT!

OUTDOOR O. O.'s—A car bearing three deer was spotted in Somerville, Sunday, the vehicle having Colorado license plates. Seems a long way to come for the sport, especially when that state is finally teeming with game of every type... Or it may be a tribute to New England.

Sportsmen from the Shugah River Club, New Hampshire, aided by some stalwart conservation officers, toted fingerlings in pack cans to stock one of their mountain ponds, recently. This particular pond had been reclaimed a year ago, and the results have already been most gratifying.

Observers at the spot discovered more than 40 beautiful squaretails, flashing through the water in full fall spawning color. These trout were utterly impossible to distinguish from native fish, many almost eleven inches in length, yet they all came from tiny fingerlings planted last year. This is a very worthwhile project, we'd say.

Apps Tops Ice Scorers

MONTREAL, Nov. 18 (AP)—Syl Apps, veteran playmaker of the National Hockey League's front-running Toronto Maple Leafs, continues to pace the circuit's individual scoring derby today.

Apps, center and captain of the defending Stanley Cup champions, collected five goals and two assists during the past week to increase his total to 19 points, according to statistics released by the loop today.

Montreal's great right winger, Maurice Richard, trails Apps by five points and in turn enjoys a one point margin over Buddy O'Connor of New York, George Gee of Chicago, Harry Watson of Toronto and Toe Blake of Montreal who are tied at 13 points apiece for third place.

Apps also has scored the most goals, 10, and is tied along with Richard and Blake at nine for the lead in garnering the most assists.

Goal-tender Frankie Brimsek of the Boston Bruins, playing in the style that made him the best in the business before the war, continues to set the pace for the net-minders. Brimsek has allowed 20 goals in 11 games for a 1.82 average.

VANDY KIRK ONLY YALE REGULAR MISSING IN DRILL

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 18 (AP)—Head coach Howard Odell really poured it on the Yale football squad as he drove the trampled Bulldogs through a rare Monday workout and announced that things would get tougher as the week rolled along.

with the Cantabs, because the regulars was missing from action which opened Yale's preparations for the Harvard game Saturday in the Bowl.
Beaten on successive Saturdays by Princeton and Brown, the Elis appeared to be in for more trouble with the Cantabs because the junior varsity team, using Harvard formations, had little trouble outfoxing Yale's second and third-stringers, who were using defensive maneuvers against Harvard plays.

Bolstered by complete scouting reports, Odell and the rest of his coaches know that Harvard has come a long way from the inept outfit which started the season.

Always a strong November team, Harvard has a group of talented operators, including backs Chie Gannon and Jim Kennedy, who will be a constant source of trouble.

Brady Changes Style To Win Over Weber

By JACK CONWAY, JR.

Pat Brady, a non-resident, is quite proud of the fact that he is the unofficial New England lightweight boxing champion. The 18-year-old New Yorker displayed lots of courage as he won a split verdict over N. E. title holder Jackie Weber in a Garden bout.

Weber was the favorite to win the bout. He had amassed a long string of wins and was rated as a class boxer. Weber fought true to form and was the better boxer in every round. But Brady just would not be licked.

Weber was far ahead on points entering the seventh round. Here the little Brady had his thought of the night.

"I'll come out in a crouch and try to get Jackie off balance," he thought.

Weber, schooled to fight Brady in a straight up position seemed mystified as he missed eight or nine punches to Brady's head. Pat kept in his crouch for the first minute. He straightened up, walked into a light Weber left hook and staggered back across the ring. Weber rushed forward for the kill.

That was all Brady needed as he let a smile creep across his face and quickly came out of his feigned distress and poured a barrage of punches at Weber.

Weber had been upset, first by the crouch and then by the mystic staggering of Brady.

"I think this monkey business of mine changed the course of the fight," said Brady after the fight. "I went for the stomach in the eighth round and I know that I had Jackie loosened up. In the ninth I could feel my punches going solid.

The last round was close but Brady won it and the decision. Judges Joe Blumsack and Billy McMenimen saw the fight for Brady. Tommy Rawson, referee, declared that the early points amassed by Weber were enough to give the champion the nod.

Matchmaker Rip Valenti will make an effort to match the boys again . . . probably for mid-December . . . The proposed Johnny Shkor-Walter Hafer fight set for Dec. 8 may never see the light of day . . . Hafer received $1000 for his win over Shkor at the Arena last week . . . he wants $3000 for the return match . . . The Goodwin-Calahane club is offering $2000.

Tommy Collins, popular South End featherweight, was asking Brady how he could put on weight . . . "I eat plenty of steaks now and can't put on a pound," said Collins . . . Johnny Conlon says that Collins will box with Johnny Caesario on Friday and with Leon Hulson on Saturday . . . This will be Tommy's first workout in the ring since he left his right hand against Phil Thomas . . . We scored the fight five rounds for Brady, four for Weber and one even . . . The crowd numbered 4143 . . . The net was $8122 . . . Brady's left hand left him in the ring after the fight . . . "I missed it in the sixth round."

Harvard to Face Yale On Even Terms in Bowl

The coming Harvard-Yale clash took on a different meaning when the Crimson woke up screaming Saturday to down a good Brown eleven.

Previous to the upset over the Bruins, the Harvardmen were dubbed as soft pickings for the richly men of Howie Odell who have been labeled many times this season as the "cream of the Ivy League."

Brown and Princeton proved it wasn't so by downing the Elis, and Harvard rode into the picture by showing a fancy return to early season form. On the basis of their rebound, the Crimson will ginto the traditional battle on at least even odds with Yale.

The myth of Yale superiority is very unfounded. This year's Blue outfit has been rated as better than the '46 club by many experts. Twin victories by Brown and Princeton, in successive weeks, now make a second look necessary.

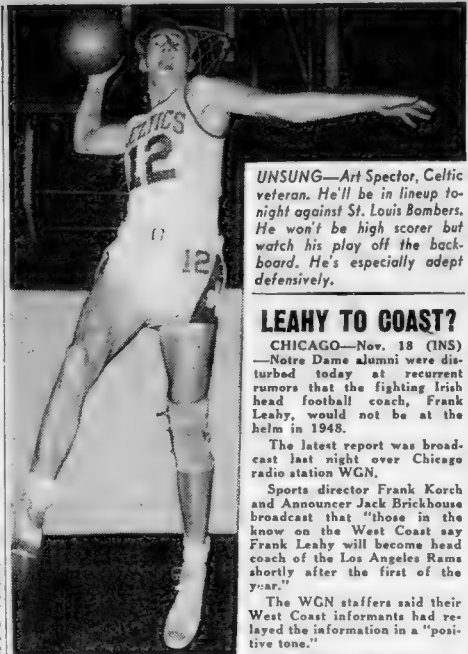

I was a powerful Yale line that waked all over the Harvardians in Stadium last fall, and it is to absence of four of the bulwarks of that same line that make any comparison of the present Bulldog team to last year's wound.

The Eli backfield is again a dangerous one. All the backs who promenade to victory over the Cantabs in '46 are wearing the Blue again this fall. Ferd Naderney is pile-driving through enemy lines in the same manner that brought unpleasant headaches to Dick Harlow last season.

Passing Tex Furse, Howie Odell's clever field general, Vandy Kirk, Jim Fuchs, Art Fitzgerald, and the fouled Levi Jackson are all names that ring a familiar tone in the ears of most of the Harvard players.

The Elis have been slowed up somewhat by injuries. Their stellar end, Jack Roderick, dislocated an elbow before the season started and the blow has been a stunning one.

Both Naderney and Kirk have had slight hurts and although used sparingly last week against Princeton, they will be ready to go full time against the Crimson Saturday.

UNSUNG—Art Spector, Celtic veteran. He'll be in lineup tonight against St. Louis Bombers. He won't be high scorer but watch his play off the backboard. He's especially adept defensively.

LEAHY TO COAST?

CHICAGO—Nov. 18 (INS) —Notre Dame alumni were disturbed today at recurrent rumors that the fighting Irish head football coach, Frank Leahy, would not be at the helm in 1948.

The latest report was broadcast last night over Chicago radio station WGN.

Sports director Frank Korch and Announcer Jack Brickhouse broadcast that "those in the know on the West Coast say Frank Leahy will become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams shortly after the first of the year."

The WGN staffers said their West Coast informants had relayed the information in a "positive tone."

Leahy denied the report.

Celtics Seek Second Win as They Battle St. Louis Bombers

By SAM BROGNA

Boston's pro Celtics will be bidding for their second Basketball Association of America win tonight at the Garden where they test the St. Louis Bombers in the first of two home games this week.

In a preliminary attraction starting at 7:45, the Boston YMHA opposes the Everett War Vets. Celtics' contest is scheduled for 9 o'clock.

The Bombers come to the Hub winless in two starts, having been defeated by Chicago and New York. Last year, they took the series from the Celts by the lopsided margin of five to one. This year, however, the new Celtics expect to reverse the score.

Like the locals, St. Louis has undergone changes and many new faces will be with the club tonight. Wyndol Gray, former Harvard captain and last year's disappointment with the Celtics, will make his debut with the western invaders. Gray went to the Bombers at the close of last season for Cecil Hankins.

Another newcomer is Brooks Abramovic, another Celtic exchanged only a few weeks ago for George Munroe, the Dartmouth ace early in the war years. Although property of the Hub team, Abramovic never played for Coach Honey Russell's outfit. He was picked up from the defunct Pittsburgh Ironmen when that team folded.

And from the college ranks came Erlund Anderson and Red Rocha, both from Oregon State. Rocha made his debut an auspicious one by scoring 17 points.

The club is again headed by Johnny Logan, league's eighth highest scorer last year. He will be one of the starting forwards along with Belus Smalley. Rocha is slated to start at center with Gray and Bob Doll in the back court.

Coach Honey Russell, elated over his team's fine showing in Washington Saturday night where they turned back the Caps 73-69 for their initial victory, will have big Ed Sadowski, Connie Simmons, Eddie Ehlers, Dutch Garfinkel and Mel Riebe as his starting unit.

Wildcats Ready to Play in Glass Bowl

DURIHAM, N. H. (AP)—Director of Athletics Carl A. Lundholm told the University of New Hampshire's undefeated Wildcats that the board of trustees had authorized the acceptance of a possible invitation to compete in the Glass Bowl football game at Toledo, O. on Dec. 6.

Lundholm explained that Glass Bowl officials merely had sounded out New Hampshire and would not extend any formal bids until its selections committee reviewed next Saturday's intercollegiate results.

H. C. RESTS 3 REGULARS

WORCESTER, Nov. 18 (AP) —After enjoying an off-day, the Holy Cross Crusaders will get down to serious business about Fordham this afternoon. Three Crusader regulars, center Jim Deffley, tackle Bill Petroski and halfback Walt Sheridan, were banged up against Columbia and coach "Ox" DaGrosa intends to rest them up for next week's objective game with Boston College.

Minnesota Shaken Up

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP) —Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, anxious to wind up the season with a victory over Wisconsin Saturday, has given his squad a shakeup, demoting two regulars to the fourth string and elevating six reserves to the first two teams.

Bierman also decreed closed practice sessions this week.

Postpone Vote on Anderson

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 18 (AP)—The University of Iowa board in control of athletics, which postponed action on the resignation of football coach Dr. Eddie Anderson, will meet again Thursday at 5:30 p. m., athletic director Paul Brehler announced today. I will make a statement." Asked when he would meet

Anderson, whose oral resignation was not acted upon last night because the board learned of the possibility that the coach would like to remain here, said he probably will talk with some board members today. He noted no action was taken in the situation, with the board, Anderson said, "possibly tomorrow."

The board, in its statement, said it would be reconvened not later than Thursday night.

Shortly after Anderson submitted his resignation there were reports that Anderson would recon-

Brecher said that Anderson probably wouldn't meet with the board in its special session Thursday but that a member or members of the board would see him before that time.

The board postponed final action last night on Anderson's resignation, submitted orally to university Pres. Virgil M. Hancher last Friday night, until it had an opportunity to meet with Anderson.

The athletic governing body, composed of 11 faculty members and two alumni representatives, said the action was postponed because it had learned since last Friday the possibility that Anderson would like to remain at Iowa.

"We are due for our best game," he commented. "The boys want to win and go on to establish the most successful season in USF history."

OLD THOMPSON BRAND

O'Connor Forced Out By Worry

By MIKE GILLOOLY

A fungus condition, picked up while overseas with the U. S. Navy, may be the principal reason behind the resignation of Tom O'Connor as head coach of the Medford High School football team, the new, undefeated Class A eastern titlist.

A "worrier" of the Farnk Leahy type, Coach O'Connor has been to half-a-dozen doctors who insist that his condition is aggravated by his concern over his Mustang eleven.

Meanwhile, Medford High School still had no official word from Miami concerning a post-season football game Christmas night—a game emblematic of Eastern supremacy. The Shriners, sponsors of the contest, liked the style of play in Lynn Classical's victory over Granby of Norfolk Va., last year and they might very well seek out the Mass. State titlist for this year's Northern representative.

If so, it would probably mark Coach O'Connor's finis to schoolboy coaching. He has been receiving $1000 a season for his coaching duties at Medford High but if he quit this week-to-week worry, he could undoubtedly realize that sum in scouting and officiating while still retaining his duties as director of athletics in the Medford schools.

Then, too, Lynn Classical still had high hopes of being summoned to a post-season bowl game. They're very silent at Lynn but it's highly possible that they'll be recalled to Miami in place of the State titlist. The Florida fans loved Harry Agganis' passing last fall and, as last year, it's not necessary to be the champion to get the bid.

Classical was picked over Melrose. The same could happen over Medford. But if Miami falters on Lynn, there's still a Jacksonville, Fla., Bowl game Dec. 12; a feeler from the Rose Bowl against an All-Star group; a hint from New Orleans against a Jesuit school in the Sugar Bowl.

Schoolboy grid stars who will participate in the game at Braves Field, Dec. 6, will be named this week . . . the Boston choices—both of the coaches and the pupils in their balloting—will be released tomorrow morning . . . the Catholic squad will be named Thursday . . . coaches were to meet with their players earlier

Sec. "Polly" Harris of Belmont High School has released the revised GBI Hockey League schedule . . . Melrose and Newton will have opening honors at the Boston Garden, Dec. 6 . . . incidentally, the All-Star game against a visiting team will be played on a Monday, Feb. 23.

Co-captains from Mission High School's basketball team of last season have reported for practice at Providence College . . . Billy Ahern and Jimmy Power are now working out under Coach Larry Drew . . . both were All New England Catholic Tourney choices.

John "Blondy" Ryan, former Haverhill star and ex-short-stop of the New York Giants and Yankees, has joined the committee in charge of the charity football game in Dover, N. H., Nov. 29 . . . and star high school players from N. H. and Mass. will compete.

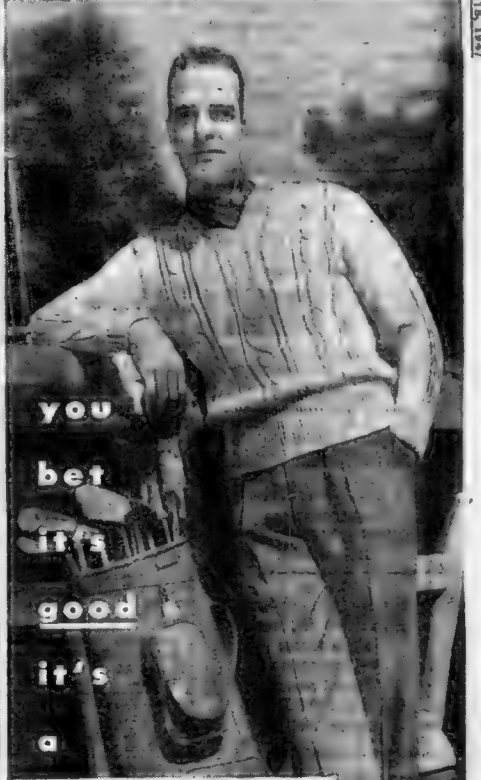

Donelli Wants BU's Full Power for Colgate Test

Coach "Buff" Donelli continued to put his Terrier squad through a rugged pace yesterday, as preparations for the finale with Colgate's "Red Raiders" swung into high gear. The head mentor was concentrating most of his efforts on the first team, and it was expected that most of them would play the full 60 minutes.

The greatest weakness of the current BU squad has been the lack of reserve material. Donelli, fully realizing his team's shortcoming was hoping to get his regulars into top physical condition.

Following Saturday's victory over King's Point, the entire squad had reached its highest mental pitch since the Harvard tussle.

ROXBURY GIRL ABDUCTED

Teacher Faces Charge

A warrant for the arrest of Warren C. Chamberlain, 35, dramatics instructor at an exclusive Back Bay school, charging him with abducting one of his pupils, pretty 18-year-old Rosilind Seigel of Maple st., Roxbury, was issued in municipal court today. The girl student's stepfather, Ralph Cutter, and Chamberlain's wife, Ann, of Commonwealth ave., Back Bay, appeared as complainants before Judge Daniel J. Gillen.

Police were ordered to check a report Rosilind recently withdrew $1800 from her own savings account. Whereabouts of the girl and the instructor remained unknown today. Investigators were informed Rosilind telephoned a classmate last night either from New York city or New Jersey to inform her that she was on her way to Atlantic City. Judge Gillen also issued a warrant for the arrest of the girl on her stepfather's complaint that she is a runaway.

Trail More Hush Meyers War Cash

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Investigating senators turned to later war years today after totting up testimony that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers netted $94,081.39 from an Ohio aircraft parts company in 1941-42.

Marshall Calls Halt On Soviet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Sec. Marshall injected a new element of toughness today into this country's patient-but-firm policy toward Russia.

Charging that Soviet officials and their Communist allies are lying and know they're lying in a "brazen and contemptuous" propaganda barrage against his European recovery program, Marshall declared "it is time to call a halt."

"We do not propose to stand by and watch the disintegration of the international community to which we belong," the cabinet officer asserted on the eve of his departure for a face-to-face meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov.

But while his speech in Chicago last night was his toughest as a cabinet officer, Marshall nevertheless pledged that his sole aim at next week's Big Four foreign ministers' conference in London would be to find a sound basis for a European peace settlement.

For himself, he said, "No matter what the provocation," his only purpose at London will be to end the present "strife" and to speed the advent of a new era of peace and hope for Europe and the world.

However, Marshall said the American people have been goaded into active resentment by a campaign of vilification and distortion of American policy in foreign affairs waged by both Soviet officials and Communist groups.

Amnesia Girl Not Anne Straw

Hope that an attractive young blonde girl amnesia victim in Remney, W. Va., might be Anne Straw, missing New Hampshire heiress, was dashed today when H. Ellis Straw, Manchester, N. H., banker, said a telephone conversation with West Virginia authorities had convinced him the girl was not his adopted daughter.

Descriptions of the two girls dovetailed in many respects, but Straw said a slight difference in height, different eye colors and different teeth formation convinced him beyond doubt that the amnesia patient, who was taken from a Washington-bound bus from Cincinnati, was not Anne Straw vanished from the Straw summer cottage in Holderness, N. H., last July, in the middle of the night.

Twice Afflicted Mother Finds Home Robbed

DES MOINES, Nov. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Fred M. Smith, whose 14-year-old son burned to death Monday when his clothing caught fire, returned yesterday after visiting her husband, who is ill at a hospital.

During her absence their home had been robbed of $9. It was all the cash she had on hand.

"We are only as far as the year 1942," said Sen. Ferguson (R.) of Michigan. "We have three or four more years to trace."

Ferguson heads the Senate war investigating sub-committee which is looking into Meyers' wartime dealings with aircraft contractors. The general, now retired, rose to the deputy chief of air force procurement (purchasing).

To guide its tracing operation, the committee summoned back to the stand Blieriot N. Lamarre, who served as president of the Aviation Electric Co. of Dayton, has testified that Meyers was the real owner of the firm.

It was Lamarre who told the committee the company paid Meyers more than $94,000 during 1941-1942, including $34,810.24 to clear up loans made to the firm by the general.

A big chunk of the balance, Lamarre testified, went to Meyers in the form of "executive salary." The rest, he added, was used to decorate the general's Washington apartment at a cost of $10,000, and to buy him a $3000 Cadillac automobile, a $700 radio and $825 worth of air conditioning equipment for the apartment.

ORDERED PAYMENTS
All of these payments were made in accordance with Meyers' instructions, Lamarre said.

He testified that the general's so-called executive salary amounted to $17,972.14 in 1941 and to $26,777.90 in 1942.

This salary, Lamarre related, was carried on the company's books as salary paid to him and to Thomas E. Readnow, Lamarre's brother-in-law, listed as secretary-treasurer at an actual salary of $100 a month. Lamarre said his own "legitimate" pay was about $3000 a year.

The committee has heard testimony that Aviation Electric operated in the red until Meyers, late in 1940, intervened to obtain $1,053,000 worth of subcontract business from Bell Aircraft Corp.

Lawrence D. Bell, president of the corporation testified that Meyers told him the company was owned by his friends.

The committee trotted out a parade of witnesses to establish that Aviation Electric paid bills for Meyers on entirely personal matters.

SALESMEN TESTIFY
They included the man who sold Meyers the Cadillac, complete with a monogrammed lap robe, the garage attendant who took care of the car, the dealer who sold him air conditioning equipment, and the interior decorator who remodeled his apartment.

(The garage man said the general already had another Cadillac, which he retained for Mrs. Meyers.)

Whoever sold the radio to Meyers did not show up, but a cancelled check covering purchase was put in evidence.

Bradford at Plymouth Spurs Holiday 'Silent Guest' Plan

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 19—Gov. Bradford, at Plymouth Rock, called upon this land of plenty today to vitalize its observance of Thanksgiving by inviting a "Silent Guest" to the table—and giving the money equivalent of a generous host's fare for the unseen Portrayed among others was a Bradford forebear, William Bradford, second governor of Plymouth colony.

In launching the Silent Guest program, the Governor said:

"Can we live in an island of plenty, surrounded by a sea of misery? Of course we cannot. The average American wants to help and he wants to know how. He knows our government can help their governments with billions and with credits—but he also knows that hunger is more than a question of government. Hunger is personal."

HUNGER IS PERSONAL

A pretty German lass who walked 17 miles when she was only 14 to visit a Cambridge soldier wounded by her countrymen, left Frankfurt by air today to keep a wedding date with him and thus become the youngest German war-bride admitted to the U. S.

Now only 16, pretty, blonde Emmi Dengler, daughter of a station master at Regensburg, Germany, voted "Ja" when the question was popped from his hospital bed by Paul DePiero, 21, Spring st., Cambridge, then a member of the 168th Combat Engineers. They had been led to each other by a mutual love for music and a romantic coincidence involving her brother, Otto, leader of a German concert orchestra and a music teacher.

Paul's outfit had been set down at Regensburg for a breather. An adept on the piano accordion, he sought a little musical relaxation and stumbled on Otto, whose three brothers were fighting for the Fatherland and doomed to die for it.

One day Emmi dropped in while Paul was comparing grace notes with Otto and it turned out that she was an accordion enthusiast, too. When Paul's outfit moved, he and Emmi began to correspond. The day she got word of his wounds in the back and the legs, she promptly set out for the hospital 17 miles away and talked her way past the officials to see him.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DePiero and is now studying electricity at a Boston school.

Help On Inside Seen In Big Jewel Holdup

SOUTH DARTMOUTH, Nov. 19—The masked bandits who ambushed a wealthy New Bedford couple and robbed their Mishaum Point home of $200,000 in gems last night knew exactly what they wanted and even demanded a piece of jewelry which they said was "missing" from the wall safe.

State detectives made this disclosure today in probing what they termed the "well fingered, inside" robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Coffin. Coffin, whose family fortune was founded in the New Bedford whaling era, operates a large job printing plant. His $5300, custom-built Lincoln Continental convertible, in which the bandits escaped, was found abandoned today in Fall River.

Investigators reported that the loot included a $100,000 diamond ring, and pointed out these facts in revealing the jewel thieves "knew their way around" this fashionable summer colony home.

1—Six dogs, which today snapped at photographers and reporters, did not bark last night when the bandits hid in the house to await the return of the Coffins from Boston. One dachshund, which arrived in the car with the robbery victims, rode off with the robbers, returning home several hours later.

2—The trio made themselves at home in the swank, 15-room two-family house. They entered through a dining room window. Stripped a second floor closet of pillowcases to fashion themselves masks; smoked cigars in the living room and even helped themselves to the Coffins' liquor.

3—When the Coffins arrived at their home on the tip of Mishaum Point which juts several miles into Buzzards Bay, the gunmen set upon the husband. They fired two shots, then belted the strapping 24-year-old Coffin over the head with gun butts. They ordered him and his wife into the house, leveling a pistol at the blonde head of Mrs. Coffin, a former professional dancer. While two men stood guard over the husband, the third directed the wife to the second floor master bedroom and into the mirrored vanity closet where the wall safe was located.

EXAMINES JEWELS

This gunman took six jewel cases from Mrs. Coffin. He examined each piece expertly.

"There's a piece missing," he said. "We want it. Get it. We know it is in the house."

Their guns "moved menacingly," the Coffins reported, and Mrs. Coffin, still taking directions at pistol point, went to another part of the house to get the jeweled article they wanted.

Mrs. Coffin tol authorities today that the stolen jewelry all was covered by insurance. Insurance adjusters confirmed her original estimate that the gems were worth $200,000. She said that the articles stolen included a 31.31 carat diamond ring, which she described as the 11th largest diamond in the world in a ring setting.

The victim described this ring as a family heirloom and said it was known to diamond brokers the world over as the Amati diamond.

Mrs. Coffin is the former Maria Patrice Amati. She said the stolen cases also included other invaluable and irreplaceable heirlooms, a pearl necklace, several other rings and a chain trinket of the Royal Order of Leopold and Isabella.

The recovered automobile, the wall safe, doors and windows of the Coffin home were checked today by fingerprint experts as detectives sought to question all former employees of the household.

The Coffins told police that because of the isolated location of their home, it had been impossible

$3000 Theft Greeted New 'Bandit Squad'

Within hours after Boston's new "bandit squad" was organized, burglars ransacked the Commonwealth ave. apartment of a retired Naval officer and escaped with $3000 in jewelry, war bonds and clothing. It was revealed today.

The new 57-man picked squad had hardly taken to the streets in their campaign against the current crime wave when thieves jimmied open the front door of the fourth floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Colton and looted the place of $1500 in war bonds, a platinum wrist watch, a Naval Academy ring set with sapphires, platinum cuff links, a suit and an overcoat.

While investigation of the break was taken over by several members of the squad, the others were patrolling the city on a 24-hour basis searching for suspected gangsters, who were reported having scurried for cover with the news that the heat was on.

INSTRUCTED BY FALLON

The new squad was formed by Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon in a determined effort to put a halt to the increasing number of payroll holdups, murders, burglaries and "muggings" which have plagued the city during the past few weeks.

Before launching their crime busting drive the squad members were given instructions by Fallon who placed three captains at the head of the organization.

"Crimes of violence must be stopped and you men can do it," Fallon told them as they assembled at police headquarters.

HOLDUP MURDER

Before the squad got into action, another holdup was added to the list of the past several weeks, topped by the $108,000 Sturtevant Blower Works robbery. The latest involved Jacob Kaplan, proprietor of the Northampton public market, Columbus ave., South End, who parted with $310.

He told police two Negroes took the money from him after he had opened his store for the day. A tough test awaited the squad in the demand of higher-up police officials that they solve the hold-up killing of Nathan Binder, Columbus ave. store owner.

SHIPWRECK AREA—Forty-four crewmen of a shipwrecked British freighter have radioed an urgent appeal for aid from Sacred Island (A). A Coast Guard cutter is en route from base at Argentina, Nfld., (B), while a freighter and Royal Canadian Mounted Police boat are steaming to the starving, freezing survivors.

Ship Rescuing 44 Marooned 5 Days

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 19 (AP)—The British freighter Empire MacCallum reported today she had begun taking aboard survivors of the shipwrecked freighter Langleecrag after their five-day ordeal of being marooned on bleak Sacred Island, off the northern tip of Newfoundland.

The Empire MacCallum, one of four ships which plunged through heavy seas toward the island on rescue missions, reported she arrived at 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and stood by until daylight to take aboard the crewmen. The Langleecrag also was a British ship.

For five days the seamen—44 in number—were dashed by icy rain and buffeted by giant breakers while their radio operator sent out frantic messages that time was running out.

One man was lost when the ship smashed on the shore reefs and broke in two early Saturday. "Have started rescue operations," said a message from the Empire MacCallum, received at 9:55 a. m. (EST).

The rescue freighter had swerved from her course to Montreal yesterday to speed to the island.

The crewmen on the barren island had some food, but no shelter. One plane from Argentina was flying supplies to them when rescue operations started.

Also responding to the appeals from the island were the whaling ship Olaf Olsen, the U. S. Coast

Russians Plotting Coups in Germany, Austen Lake Says

By AUSTEN LAKE

BERLIN (With U. S. Occupation Force)—Last evening I visited the home of a once-wealthy German family which, for security's sake, I will call the Rudolph Schmidts. They live on Argentinische Allee, one of Berlin's better residential streets, where bomb scars a few, and where now the finer homes are requisitioned for American officers' families.

The Rudolf Schmidts have little or no money, but by present Berlin standards they are still reckoned very rich. They have a comfortably furnished, weather-tight house, and enough negotiable goods to barter for black market food for perhaps another year. After that, who knows? It is all they have left of a large fortune which Herr Schmidt's industrialist father accumulated.

The weird rules of Allied finance forbid Berliners to withdraw any of their bank balances accumulated before the war, however large or small. Since late April of 1945 the doors of Berlin banks have been closed. Berlin depositors were told flatly that their funds were frozen. Nothing more.

Even the American finance control has given no more information than that. The general belief is that the Russians scooped up all bank assets, leaving nothing but empty vaults which the Americans are too embarrassed to reveal, lest it betray their inability to recover pilfered wealth.

GOT THERE FIRST

In the U. S. Zone, which embraces the provinces of Hesse, Bavaria and Wuerttemberg-Baden, German banks operate on a limited scale, paying out nominal sums to depositors—about 350 marks. Their assets were left intact by advancing U. S. Armies. Nothing was taken. But Berlin is different. The Russians got there first.

"It would be better that we are told frankly that our money has disappeared," said Herr Schmidt, as we sat in a lamp-lit circle, where his frail, aged wife and a son and a daughter listened attentively. He spoke perfectly English. "Then," said he, "We could make plans for our future."

But this is not all that has disappeared within this morbid city. Herr Schmidt nodded toward his son, Otto.

"I do not allow him to go near the Russian sector. So many of our friends have disappeared—just vanished."

It made a familiar tale—how

The five-year-old girl's body, still clad in her new green coat and new overshoes, was found on a beach near Ft. Lawton. She had been carried almost nine miles through underground sewers after falling down a manhole.

She dropped through the manhole Monday night while walking between her father, Dean Rothrock, and an aunt during a rainstorm.

ALLEGED SLAYER FLEES JAIL—Joseph L. Hardy, 24, of Kittery, Me. (above), is sought today throughout California after he had escaped from the Nevada city jail while awaiting trial for murder. His wife, Lois, 21, shown with him, is confined to the same jail. They are accused in the "love trap" murder of J. W. McLean, who befriended the couple. Hardy picked the lock in his cell to effect the escape.

Goelet's Girl Friend Tells of Party Capers

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—Playboy Ogden Goelet borrowed her apartment to play the piano, but turned it into a rumpus room where he staged wild parties and drinking bouts, his former girl friend testified in Supreme Court.

Taking the stand in behalf of Mimi Browne Goelet, ex-actress Fay Dunn, who was named in Mimi's divorce suit, said she met the $70,000,000 heir when she was cashier in a ballroom.

They became friends, Fay testified, and Goelet frequently visited her apartment. She said he "drank constantly and always walked around with a bottle in his hand." She estimated his intake at "about a bottle a day, usually at $12 a bottle."

Goelet, she said, told her he was "nervous" and showed it by attempting to climb a curtain.

Denying she ever gave Goelet a key to her home, Fay said he had one made without her knowledge and that, as a result, she had the lock changed.

HAD KEY MADE

"But he had another key made and asked me to let him use my apartment to practice the piano," she said.

On one occasion, she continued, she returned home and found a party in progress.

"There were girls putting on some kind of an exhibition," she explained. "He told me this was his favorite form of entertainment."

After this, Fay again changed locks, but Goelet turned up with a new key and arranged for a similar party.

According to Fay, Goelet described the parties as "sex acrobatics."

Fay testified she learned Goelet's true identity from papers in his pocket. Goelet told her he wanted to divorce his wife without alimony so he could marry Simone de Laborde, whom he had met in Europe, Fay declared.

Earlier, Mimi testified she lived on a $25,000 scale.

WITHDRAW FILMS

Defense Atty. Alfred Rice asked Mimi:

"Did you engage with him in the same acts of which you accuse him?"

On the objection of her counsel, William Maloney, a recess was called. When the trial resumed, Maloney told Justice Null, presiding:

"We have agreed to withdraw four motion picture reels and exhibits which we intended to put into evidence. In turn

Mr. Rice will not pursue that last question."

Further testimony by Fay brought out that she had used Goelet's apartment at 253 E. 51st st. for writing when she was forced to move from her own place. She decided she no longer wanted to see him, however, when she found another woman in the apartment, she said.

Goelet knocked her unconscious and threw her down the stairs when she told him she would tell his wife of his activities, she testified.

Under cross-examination, Fay refused to say whether she had been intimate with Goelet or whether she had spent a night in the same apartment with him.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 19 (AP)—Pvt. Joseph E. Delaney, 30 Tufts ave., Everett, Mass., has been sentenced to five years at hard labor and dishonorable discharged after court-martial conviction of robbing a Japanese national of $400 yen ($168).

Hunt Maine Jail-Breaking Killer Suspect

NEVADA CITY, Cal., Nov. 19 (AP)—Joseph L. Hardy, accused sex-lure slayer, was still a fugitive today while authorities attempted to find out how the North Kittery, Me., youth escaped from the county jail here.

"Everything was locked," said Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins. "There was no way out. It's one of those things you hear about but never see."

Hardy escaped some time between dinner Monday night and breakfast yesterday. He was due to go on trial next Monday with his 21-year-old common-law wife, Lois Hunt Hardy, for the slaying of J. W. McLean, 48, of Burbank, Cal., in a forest glen near Truckee.

Sheriff Hoskins said Hardy had escaped from federal authorities five times. He described the 24-year-old fugitive as fair-complexioned, 135 pounds, wearing Army trousers and field jacket and a blue hat. Hardy may have dyed his hair black, the sheriff said, and may be wearing dark glasses.

Hoskins allowed no one to see Lois, recently sued for divorce by Arthur G. Corliss, Berkeley, Me., farmer. In a statement signed after their arrest last August in Las Vegas, Nev., Lois and Hardy told how she held McLean in a passionate embrace while Hardy shot him in the head.

8 Planes Hunting New Bedford Boat

Six of the planes were dispatched by the Coast Guard and two by the Army, from Westover Field.

The 85-foot craft was seen by the crew of the New Bedford dragger Antonio last Wednesday, 75 miles east of Chatham shortly before a gale struck. The missing dragger was due back last Sunday.

ACTRESS ACCUSES GOELET—

Taking the stand in behalf of Mimi Browne Goelet, ex-actress Fay Dunn (pictured), told New York Supreme Court Judge Null that the millionaire playboy, Ogden Goelet, used her apartment as a "rumpus room" although he said, she testified, he wanted to borrow it to play the piano. She said he drank constantly. Mrs. Goelet is suing for a separation.

Blum May Top New Cabinet, Strikes Mount

PARIS, Nov. 19 (AP)—Guy Mollet, secretary general of the Socialist party announced today at an Anglo-American correspondents' luncheon that Former Premier Leon Blum had agreed to try to form a new government.

A rising wave of Communist-led strikes provided the background to this news.

Mollet said France had permitted herself to be divided into two groups and that, if civil war should result, it would be "as bad as it was in Spain."

Meanwhile military trucks rushed flour into Paris today to assure the French capital of its daily bread.

gold, will be at the Westminster Abbey rehearsal in the custody of the young Marquis of Milford Haven, Mountbatten's best man.

High on the list of today's events, too, was the expected bestowal of a high title on 26-year-old Philip, who gave up his position as a prince of Greece and Denmark to become a British citizen and thus clear the path for royal romance.

Persistent unofficial reports said he would receive a dukedom as the King's personal wedding gift, and there was speculation that the title would be either Duke of Clarence or Duke of Edinburgh, positions in the peerage that have long been open.

The announcement was expected in tonight's official London Gazette.

Elizabeth left the morning free of official engagements so she could concentrate on myriad last minute details.

RICH FOOD MISSING

The biggest, most diamond-studded party London has seen since the country trooped to war eight years ago thronged the state apartments of Buckingham Palace until the wee hours today to toast Princess Elizabeth in vintage champagne from the royal cellars.

Officially, the big party was an "austerity" affair, for the King ruled against staging a major state occasion in days of British national poverty.

But wealth, royalty, music and champagne, youth, dignity, silk and diamonds made the party barely distinguishable from the big state affairs of happier days. The only thing missing was rich food at the buffet supper.

Diamond tiaras were the rule rather than the exception among the women guests, who included four queens. Most women were in full length evening gowns, but a few came in the new, ankle length style.

Sleek black automobiles, bearing the 1200 guests queued four abreast from the palace gates to admiralty arch, half a mile away down the broad pavement of the mall, and it took an hour and a half from the time the first guest stepped into the palace until the last one was in.

CHURCHILL GREETED CROWD

red tail coats, let the guests in and showed them up the grand staircase to the King and Queen.

Inside a string band from a Guards regiment played from a pair of American stage shows—"Oklahoma" and "Annie Get Your Gun"—which have settled down like permanent fixtures in London's night life.

The Princess looked girlish in a fluffy tulle dress, spangled with gold, and she wore her coming-of-age necklace of 21 diamonds, given her by the Union of South Africa on her 21st birthday last April.

Her fiancé, wore the pale blue ribbon of the Greek Order of the Redeemer across his evening clothes. The ribbon was a reminder of the days before he renounced his title as a prince of Greece as a step toward winning Elizabeth's hand.

MISS DOUGLAS AT FETE

Besides all the visiting royalty on hand there were cabinet ministers, high churchmen and diplomats from all over the world.

And there was Sharmar Douglas, daughter of American Ambassador Lewis Douglas. Sharmar, who will attend the wedding, is about Elizabeth's age and they share many similar tastes, especially in dance music and a love of horses.

Picked agents of Scotland Yard meanwhile finished their net of security precautions under the personal guidance of Ronald Howe, chief of the CID, and Leonard Burt, wartime counter spy who now heads the yards' special branch of subversive activities investigators.

Even the sewers of Westminster were to be searched for possible malefactors, and a wedding eve combing of government offices and private buildings along the route of the wedding procession was planned to detect any unauthorized person attempting to hide out overnight.

The London Daily Mail reported that offers of up to 50 pounds (£200) had been made by unnamed "rich Americans" attempting to get tickets to Thursday's ceremony in the Abbey.

Flags Fly but No Arch In Honeymoon Village

ROMSEY, Eng., Nov. 19 (AP)—Aldermen of this village on the main route to Broadlands, where Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten will start their honeymoon, steadily declined today to erect a triumphal arch but bowed to popular demand for displays of bunting and flags.

"Princess Elizabeth and her husband will want nothing so much as a bit of privacy after the big show in London," said one of the aldermen of the town, ten miles from Earl Mountbatten's estate. "We think they would appreciate it if we treated them just like everyday folks."

But the people took sharp issue. One comment was typical:

"The press and the radio people will be here to tell the world what is happening after the wedding, and they'll take a dim view of it if we don't put out some decorations."

The aldermen finally yielded and started leading the movement for a lavish display of all decorations that could be found in storage. The bunting was concentrated on historic Palmeston street, which leads to Broadlands and on which many thousands of American troops passed in the last two wars.

Big Hat Revival From Bridal Seen

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Fashion writers predicted today that the royal wedding tomorrow will lead to a hat revival in Britain.

"Not every woman guest in the abbey will wear a new gown," said one, "but everyone will be in a new hat."

Another predicted that wispy headgear "have had their day." "Feathers, ribbons and flowers—mostly feathers—will be mounted on the millinery created for the occasion," she said.

This trend would complete a fashion cycle, for feathery hats were last revived here at the wedding of the Princess' mother.

Beth's Gown, Cake Safe At Palace

LONDON, Nov. 19 (INS)—Princess Elizabeth's elaborately guarded wedding gown and her towering wedding cake arrived safely at Buckingham Palace today.

A small, green truck, without escort, slipped into Buckingham Palace's "trade entrance" side gate, and the driver stepped out to hand a four-foot white box containing the precious gown to a Palace official.

Norman Hartnell, designer of fabulous gown that much of the world is waiting to view, went to the palace to put last minute touches on his masterpiece when the Princess tries it on for the last time prior to the ceremony.

The dark blue van that delivered the cake arrived with somewhat more fanfare. A motorcycle escort paced the vehicle which was followed by a truck in case the delivery van broke down en route.

Half a dozen staff inside the van to guard the mammoth six-tiered 600-pound cake which was carefully packed in a six-foot crate.

Kin of Queen Victim Of $8000 Robbery

LONDON, Nov. 19 (INS) The first major robbery to occur during Princess Elizabeth's pre-nuptial preparations was reported by Swilham Yard today—and a royal bridesmaid was the victim.

The Mayfair home of the Hon. Mrs. J. Howe-Lyon, a relative of Queen Elizabeth, was burglarized after she had returned with her daughter Diana, from a state ball at Buckingham Palace.

Jewelry valued at more than $8000 was taken, including a tiara and necklace that had been worn to the ball.

Prosecution Nears End In Lawrence Sex Killing

LAWRENCE, Nov. 19.—The government was to rest its case today with the defense opening scheduled for tomorrow in the trial of Vincent P. Dellechiaie, 22, charged with the sex-slaying of Louise Ann Kurpiel, 7, after the purported signed confession of the defendant had been admitted in evidence.

Appearing to be partially dozing, Dellechiaie sat with eyes half closed in Judge Abraham E. Pinnanski's session of superior court as the confession document was introduced by Police Capt. Arthur J. Riley.

In the alleged confession, Dellechiaie had stated he had been to a wedding on Sept. 7, the day before the child's battered body was found on a bank of the Merrimack river, and had been drinking heavily.

HIT HER WITH ROCK
"I met the little girl, I don't know just where," the statement read in part. "I'm vicious when I've been drinking. I took her down by the banks of the river and tried to attack her. She screamed then.

"I picked up a rock and hit her several times on the head. Then I left her there, went home and changed my clothes."

Preceding the admission of the alleged confession, Dr. Joseph T. Walker, state chemist, had testified he analyzed bloodstains on the clothing of both little Louise and the defendant. Blood of the same type as the child's, he said, was found on Dellechiaie's clothing.

RECOGNIZES CALLER

Another late witness yesterday was Miss Marjorie Alice Tracy of Franklin st., Franklin, N. H., a bookkeeper employed in a local mill, whose alibi had first led to the defendant's arrest.

She said Dellechiaie applied for work at the plant and was told to return the following day. When he did return, she testified, she recognized him from a newspaper photograph as being wanted by police in connection with the child's murder. She quietly notified her employers, who called local police. Dellechiaie was arrested and turned over to Boston authorities.

Throughout the day's harrowing testimony, the heartbroken mother of the slain child, Mrs. Louise Kurpiel, sat bravely but near collapse in the courtroom and listened to the pitiful and horrifying details of the child's murder.

FOOD PRICE DIP SEEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP).—Retail food prices declined slightly between mid-September and mid-October, the bureau of labor statistics reported today on the basis of preliminary estimates for a few cities.

Atom Spy Ring Immunity Bared

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI is being restrained by "superior political influences" from arresting members of the Soviet atom spy ring uncovered in Canada, Howard Rushmore, New York Journal-American reporter charged.

Addressing to American Legion's counter-subversive seminar, Rushmore, an authority on Communism, declared 100 members of the spy ring operating in the U.S. were still at large despite the fact that both the State Dept. and the White House were presented with "a mountain of evidence."

Rev. Edward B. Wilcox of Lynn, Mass., another seminar speaker, asserted Communists seek to invade religious bodies

"to control those functions of the church which may be utilized to further aims of the Soviet Union in its course of imperialistic expansion."

800,000 Houses in Year Vindicate Building Industry

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Contractors will complete 800,000 houses this year, vindicating private enterprise, Robert W. McChesney, chairman of the committee on policy, told the construction industry advisory council here today.

Replying to critics who have implied that government could do a better job of building homes, he said:

"Many of those who hold to this belief have embraced and admired the socialistic experiments of Britain. They continue to advocate the same medicine for America."

"The heavy sedative of Socialism has lulled the British construction industry into slumber."

In contrast, he cited Bureau of Labor reports on housing construction in the U. S.:

1—825,000 homes started in 1947, of which approximately 800,000 will be completed this year.

2—September's record this year seems to be an all-time record for that month, with 88,000 houses started and completions almost as numerous. That means a rate exceeding 120 houses an hour.

3—A year ago it took 11 months to complete a house. Today the time is less than five months. This means a saving in costs.

4—The price of houses is expected to decline.

McChesney concluded: "Where are those of little faith in the freedom of enterprise who foredoomed home building to oblivion once the restraint of government decree was removed from the construction industry?"

"They are still around, but they must be amusing themselves in dark corners by tearing up into small bits their predictions of disaster."

Byrnes Lashes Critics Of Early Policy on Soviet

ANDERSON, S. C., Nov. 19 (INS)—Former State Sec. Byrnes lashed out at critics who attribute current differences with Russia to what they termed "the soft attitude in early negotiations with the Soviet Union."

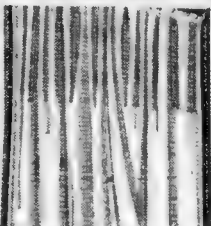

Byrnes said the difficulty did not lie in the Potsdam agreements, but in Russian refusal to comply with the agreements.

No other toothpaste can do what this toothpaste does!

NEW KIND OF TOOTHPASTE GETS TEETH 2½ TO 5½ TIMES BRIGHTER THAN ANY OTHER TOOTHPASTE!

Laboratory tests reveal why this utterly new, radically different toothpaste is so incredibly better for brightening teeth.

UNTIL now, all toothpastes have done a fairly similar job of cleaning and brightening teeth. But the development of new Lyons Toothpaste represents one of the greatest forward steps in the progress of dental science in years. Lyons Toothpaste is in a class by itself; it's a toothpaste that's better—actually far and away better than any toothpaste for brightening teeth.

Thousands of exhaustive tests provide evidence for this uncontradictable statement. These tests prove that utterly new, radically different Lyons Toothpaste is incredibly better, because they show, beyond all question, that while cleaning teeth it actually gets them brighter... 2½ to 5½ times brighter... than any other toothpaste.

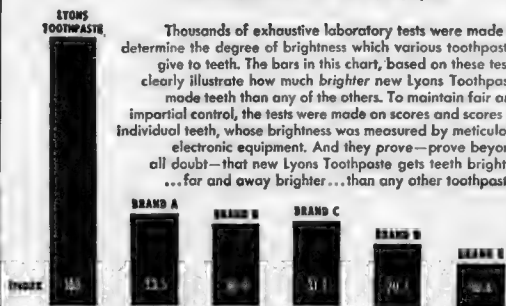

No toothpaste anywhere can compare with new Lyons Toothpaste. It's not just another toothpaste... not just another old toothpaste with an added ingredient. Instead, its formula is completely new, radically different. It not only cleans beautifully, polishes brilliantly... but, most astonishing of all, it cleans without soap—polishes without chalk.

Remember—the best toothpaste your money can buy is Lyons Toothpaste. Get a tube today at any drug or toilet goods counter—and get more brightness in your smile.

HERE'S PROOF

Thousands of exhaustive laboratory tests were made to determine the degree of brightness which various toothpastes give to teeth. The bars in this chart, based on these tests, clearly illustrate how much brighter new Lyons Toothpaste made teeth than any of the others. To maintain fair and impartial control, the tests were made on scores and scores of individual teeth, whose brightness was measured by meticulous electronic equipment. And they prove—prove beyond all doubt—that new Lyons Toothpaste gets teeth brighter... far and away brighter... than any other toothpaste.

ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF!

*Cleans without soap!
Polishes without chalk!*

Fund Still Given Fighting Chance

The Community Fund campaign, still lacking nearly $1,000,000, has still a fighting chance to make its minimum goal of $6,600,000 Chairman Philip H. Theopold said today.

It will do it, however only if Greater Boston donations come in at the rate of $100,000 an hour until the deadline at 5 p. m. is reached, he explained.

High as this appears, the chairman emphasized, it had been surpassed in previous years, and he had hopes that tonight's "victory supper" at the Hotel Statler would be just that.

If any people or concerns are holding back gifts in expectation of being solicited, the chairman urged them to send the gifts immediately to fund headquarters at 105 Arlington st., and reminded that it is still possible to pledge money by phoning HUBbard 8600.

GORILLA ADOPTION

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19 (AP)—Gargantua and Toto, most highly publicized gorillas in the country, are going to adopt a baby.

John Ringling North, president of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, said the two prize anthropoids had had no offspring in the seven years they have been together and would "adopt" a baby gorilla from the Belgian Congo.

Duchin Finds 'Right Girl'

It took pianist Eddy Duchin 10 years to find someone worthy of replacing his first wife, society heiress Marjorie Oelrichs, who died two years after their marriage.

At last the popular orchestra leader has found the "right girl," Maria Teresa "Chiquita" Winn, to whom he was married only recently.

The inspiring story of this son of a Cambridge druggist, and of his new confidence in the future, will be told in the article, "Right Girl for Eddy Duchin," in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

ROADMASTER is the name — 13 feet of lively size, comfort and fine finish. Powered by a 144 h. p. Fireball straight-eight, it gives you flashing performance rarely to be found in a car of such size, room and superlatively fine interior finish. White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

How to be Smart — and Show it

THOSE who drive them, and so should know, will tell you straight out that there is no smarter buy you can make than a Buick Roadmaster.

On the road, they say, there's just nothing to touch the lift and life in its big 144 h.p. Fireball straight-eight power plant.

In town, they find it a dream come true — quick on the green lights, uncompaining and smooth when traffic crawls, the easiest parking eighteen-footer they ever laid hands on.

For finish and appointments, they declare, it doffs its cap to no one — and where else, they ask you, can you find style that's smarter, more distinguished, more surely a foretaste of the best that's to come?

So, they reason, you mark yourself as a smart investor when you make your highway appearance in a Roadmaster.

You mark yourself as one alert not only to what's fresh-looking and fashion-worthy but to what's fine beyond tradition's standards in finish and ride, handling and lively action.

Why not see a Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, and make sure your future holds something truly fine to see — and even finer to own?

ONLY BUICK HAS ALL THESE STAR FEATURES

AIRFOIL FENDERS — sleek, aerodynamic, tapering contour of distinctive beauty.

FIREBALL POWER — from valve-in-head straight-eight engines in two sizes.

ACCURATE CYLINDER BORING — smoothness from the start and an engine that "stays young."

SILENT ZONE BODY MOUNTINGS — scientifically placed for a firm and quiet ride.

FLITEWEIGHT PISTONS — for flashing action, swift response, reduced load on bearings.

BUICOIL SPRINGING — Buick-developed oil-coil springing for perpetual smoothness and "panthergait" ride.

FULL-LENGTH TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE — protects moving parts, gives steadiness in traveling.

PERMI-FIRM STEERING — light but positive control with reduced need for adjustments.

SAFETY-RIDE RIMS — for peak tire mileage, better car control, freedom from heel-over on curves.

STEP-ON PARKING BRAKE — sets with a toe-touch, eliminates awkward hand setting.

DEEPLUX SEAT CUSHIONS — giving luxury comfort in all models, three-person room on all seats.

CURL-AROUND BUMPERS — front and rear, originated by Buick to protect sheet metal. Built for bumper lock.

TEN SMART MODELS — in three series, featuring Body by Fisher.

Curley Parole Study Slated This Month

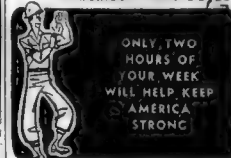

City officials were informed today that the Federal Board of Parole will consider the case of Mayor Curley probably before the end of the month.

The board, which regularly makes a circuit of federal prisons, is headed by Daniel Lyons, former Suffolk County assistant district attorney.

Federal regulations prohibit the board from taking jurisdiction until the minimum sentence has been served. This would mean that in Mayor Curley's case, the board would have authority to grant his release on parole Dec. 26.

However, it was pointed out that an old federal custom—last used by President Coolidge—of granting holiday paroles and commutations to prisoners whose date of eligibility for parole was close at hand could be invoked to secure his release before Christmas.

Dollars are as different as the people who have them

Dollars can do much, or they can do little. They can be lazy, or hard-working. Useful, or well nigh useless. For dollars take on the character of those who have them.

The spendthrift's money is soon gone, leaving little of value behind. But the dollars of the thrifty can be put to work—and they then become useful not only to those who earned them but to all our people.

Why is America wealthy?

Because Americans are productive. Because, generation after generation, our people have produced more than they have consumed—and have plowed the surplus back into new factories, stores and farms; into improved methods, finer equipment and skillful labor; all resulting in the production of still more goods and better goods for everyone.

This upward march in our standard of living is sparked, every time, by those who put their dollars to work through investment.

It is up to us all to see to it that our government policies are so shaped that they do not hinder or penalize the invested dollar ... for the invested dollar is the bedrock on which all progress and prosperity is grounded.

Gentle Convoy Easing Mirror Up Mountain

ESCONDIDO, Cal., Nov. 19 (AP)—A precious hunk of glass was only 36 miles from its destination, today.

But the guardians of the 200-inch mirror due for Palomar Mountain Observatory planned to tackle the remaining route, the most hazardous, at four miles an hour or less over a narrowing, twisting, climbing highway.

The gently-moving convoy bedded down here overnight after traveling 125 miles from the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, where the world's largest telescope mirror had been ground and polished since 1936.

When the 16-wheel trailer hauled by a Diesel-engine tractor stopped, flares were posted and three Caltech guards and five Escondido policemen established an all-night guard.

The mirror rode on a bed of sponge rubber in a huge crate and wrapped in aluminum foil. The journey began shortly after 3 a. m. yesterday over a route through metropolitan Los Angeles and Orange County kept secret to prevent the gathering of the curious.

Fifteen California highway patrolmen on motorcycles and in patrol cars convoyed the mirror, shooting away motorists fore and aft.

Two veteran truck drivers handled the ticklish chauffeuring job.

seen that picture in the newspapers, the magazines. Hunger is as personal as that.

"The Silent Guest plan is simple, direct and personal. It is the Plymouth answer to the 'starving time' of the old world. The plan is as simple as this:

"You would like to ask one more guest to your Thanksgiving dinner, someone who cannot come. Since he cannot come, what you would have spent to have him at your table you send instead to American Silent Guest, Pilgrim Hall, Plymouth.

A DOLLAR PER GUEST

"Call it a dollar. And if you would like to have more than one guest, send a dollar for each to the American Silent Guest. Your check or money order for the exact amount you send will go to provide food for someone in whatever Old World country you select.

"You will receive an acknowledgment, first from the American Silent Guest in Plymouth, then, when your parcel arrives overseas, an acknowledgment from the family that receives it. Silent Guest is manned by volunteers. Not one penny of your money is used for expenses of organization."

ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Bradford signalized the occasion by issuing his Thanksgiving proclamation, recalling the privation which had preceded the harvest of 1623 and the spirit of humility in which the first Thanksgiving was observed. He quoted William Bradford's words:

"Thus out of small beginnings, greater things have been produced by His hand that made all things of nothing, and gives being to all things that are; and as one small candle may light a thousand, so the light here kindled hath shone to many, yea in some sort to our whole nation."

Reds Irked at Report They Can't Make A-Bomb

MOSCOW, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Soviet weekly periodical New Times hinted today that foreign observers are sadly in error if they do not believe the Soviet Union has the economic might to produce an atomic bomb.

It did not say that the U. S. S. R. has the atomic bomb, that it has made one, or that it is going to make one. It simply attacked any theories that while Russia might have the secret of the bomb she lacks the ability and resources to make it.

The BUNDLE FROM HEAVEN that came C.O.D.!

A baby is one of the greatest joys in life . . . but be sure to arrange your budget so you will have the money ready when the little one arrives!

by HAZEL CORBIN, Director
Maternity Center Association in New York

HAZEL CORBIN

WHEN Mr. and Mrs. A. G. of this city (real names withheld) came to see us recently, they were worried for fear they couldn't afford everything necessary for their baby's safe arrival.

The common-sense advice we gave them should be just as helpful to other expectant parents:

We told them that maternity care comes in different grades like anything else you buy: The important thing to do is get the best medical, hospital, and nursing care within the power of your pocketbook and your hospital insurance plan:

Try to choose your doctor from among those in your community who have training and experience in baby-bringing. He'll tell you the importance of good medical care before and after the baby arrives as well as during the actual delivery.

Determine Expenses—Then Save

Find out on that first visit to the doctor what his bill and your other expenses will be. Then plan to set aside enough money every month to pay these various bills when they come due:

"So you're my new family! Hello!"

If you're going to a hospital, make sure the doctor you choose takes you to one which provides the simple but very essential safeguards necessary. In all good hospitals the kind of accommodations you reserve do not affect the medical standards of your care, only the extras.

Or if you're going to have your baby at home, plan in your baby budget to have a well-trained nurse for a few days and then the visiting nurse can carry on. In any case, be sure to plan for some capable help around the house for about six weeks after your baby comes: Maybe Aunt Susie; or Grandma, or the proud Father! Let them help take the burden of housekeeping off your shoulders.

Another item: baby's clothes and accessories should be simple—but they will cost something and should be saved for. A baby in a simple dress is more beautiful than if it is all camouflaged and beribboned. And it's less work for Mother!

And remember—the parents who give their baby the best start in life, are those who confide in each other, and together arrange its future.

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

● Planning for a baby's arrival is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it, if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc.

So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then, you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusements, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance, that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company, INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

U. S. to Test-Drop 42,000 Lb. Bombs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Air Force will begin test drops of the world's heaviest bomb—a 42,000-pounder—in about two weeks at Muroc air base in the California desert.

Twelve of the huge missiles have been delivered for the experiments.

The modified B-29 superfortress crew has completed a course of special training.

The bomb will be suspended from newly-devised shackles and will clear the ground by bare inches when the airplane makes its takeoff. The bombs at Muroc probably will be "duds," weighted to compensate for the lack of explosive charges.

Skeleton Identified As Girl Kidnap Victim

SANTA ANA, Cal. Nov. 19 (AP)—A coroner's jury identified a skeleton found Nov. 9, in a canyon near here as that of Rochelle Gluskoter, 6, who was kidnaped from her Los Angeles home in February, 1946.

The child's mother, Mrs. Miriam Gluskoter, took the stand to produce a few strands of Rochelle's hair from a brush, and these were established as identical in pigment, color distribution and texture with those found on the skeleton.

Patton Ex-Aide Cites Urgent Need for Universal Training

Special to the Boston Evening American

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 19.—Universal military training will make us strong without placing an undue burden on the national economy, Col. William A. Collier, veteran of Gen. George Patton's slashing drive through France, declared here.

Col. Collier, now chief of staff at 5th Army headquarters in Chicago, described that campaign here to several undred reservists and National Guardsmen.

Col. Collier was chief of staff of the Third Army's 20th Corps, which won Patton's commendation for subduing the "heretofore impregnable city of Metz" and drove on to the final meeting with the Russians in Austria.

U. M. T. PEACE INSURANCE

On universal military training, he said:

"In today's technological world, regular standing armies can no longer be maintained in sufficient strength to guarantee preservation of peace or victory in the event of war.

"The task of safeguarding the peace has become the task and responsibility of all the people.

"This responsibility and participation can best be apportioned all through a system of universal military training.

"We have demobilized our armed forces, but other countries have not.

URGENT NEED

"Universal military training, as the best form of preparation, is an urgent national necessity.

"It war should come in spite of our best efforts to prevent it, universal training will shorten the time required for victory and will be the means of saving thousands of lives and billions of dollars."

Regardless of what kind of warfare the atomic age brings, you still have to have trained manpower to drop the bombs and to occupy territory, Col. Collier said. As for the infantry being outmoded, they probably said that when the bow and arrow was invented, the veteran officer declared.

Nicholson To Quit Senate For Congress

Elected to Congress from the Ninth District to succeed the late Cong. Charles L. Gifford, Senate Pres. Donald W. Nicholson of Wareham, veteran of 23 years in the Massachusetts Legislature, announced today he will resign his Senate office at once and leave for Washington as soon as he obtains his certificate of election from State Secretary Frederic W. Cook.

Nicholson, 59, who became president of the state senate last year at the start of his 12th two-year term in the legislature, had no trouble winning the special election over his Democratic opponent, State Rep. Jacinto Diniz of New Bedford.

Nicholson rolled up 26,912 votes to 21,164 for Diniz.

Diniz carried New Bedford 15,358 to 9,951 and also had the edge, 1001 to 104, in the Fall River ward.

When the results of the special election were made known, Diniz announced he intended to petition for a recount on the grounds of reported irregularities in a number of voting precincts in the district.

20 Killed, 10 Hurt In Italy Air Crash

ROME, Nov. 19 (AP)—A Swedish plane reported officially to be carrying 30 persons crashed today in the mountains near Salerno.

Correspondents at Ravello, near the crash scene, reported they had been informed at least 20 were killed and 10 injured.

Some 21 aboard were Swedish fliers, being returned from Addis Ababa, where they had delivered B-17 planes sold by Sweden to Ethiopia.

The American consulate at Naples said 19 were dead and that five of the injured were in serious condition.

Some of the dead were declared mutilated beyond recognition.

1. Hear Fate—Here are some of the 71 pro-German Resistants at trial in Charleroi, Belgium, their heads bowed, after 27 of them—one a woman—were found guilty of savagely slaying 27 patriots at Courcelles in August, 1944. In groups of four, the convicted were tied to posts in courtyard and shot in the back... Now see below...

2. Death Is Quick—The gendarmerie firing squad aims and fires... bullets crash into the backs of four condemned Resistants... their bodies jerk and then crumple after the volley of shots ended their debt to society.

3. Coffins For Traitors—The riddled bodies are untied from posts in the Charleroi, Belgium, courtyard, placed in coffins and removed under the covers against the wall (at left). The grim scenes followed session by the Belgium War Council and Brussels Military Court. Hundreds of friends and relatives of the 27 patriots, who were slain by the Resistants in August, 1944, witnessed the executions, which took place on November 10.

Presents

This cabinet full of glassware, being admired by a Londoner, is among the presents received by the Princess. It includes gifts from President Truman, U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas, the Crown Prince of Sweden and the Royal Observer Corps.

THE TRUMAN MESSAGE

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S message to the special session of Congress followed the anticipated lines, proposing European financial and economic assistance of astronomical proportions and asking restoration of wartime price and wage controls in the United States.

This is a remarkable joining of contradictions, since the avowed purpose of the European program is to prevent Western Europe from being absorbed by totalitarian Russia, while the proposed domestic program is the very essence of totalitarianism.

The power with which President Truman asks Congress to clothe him, including the authority to impose consumer rationing upon the country at a time and to an extent solely of his own choosing, is that of unrestrained and unabashed DICTATORSHIP.

If it is our purpose to save Europe from the threatening and admittedly imminent evils of Russian dictatorship, how can this be accomplished by the establishment in THE UNITED STATES of the instruments of a dictatorship not merely similar to but PRECISELY LIKE that which Russia poses as an imminent and evil threat over Western Europe?

THE dictatorial powers of price and wage control and consumer rationing which President Truman demands from Congress are part and parcel of the program of the COMMUNIST PARTY in the United States, and would certainly be wielded in an absolute and totalitarian manner if the Communist party should ever attain domination in the United States, either by democratic process or by the process of force and violence and seizure.

They would stultify and ultimately destroy the democratic and productive system of FREE ENTERPRISE in the United States.

They would reduce the American standard of living to the level of mere SUBSISTENCE, with wages being determined by governmental decree and with the naturally and normally abundant fruits of our productive and resourceful national life being only obtainable in black markets and at exorbitant cost.

All of the Communist organizations in the United States, and all of the crypto-Communists and their fellow travelers, APPROVE of that way of life for the American people, and President Truman has most amazingly CONFORMED to their pattern in his proposals to Congress.

However, there is little likelihood and probably not the remotest chance that Congress will comply with the President's proposals in this respect, and he can hardly have much expectation that it will comply.

OBVIOUSLY, then, President Truman has another MOTIVE in making such a proposition.

Assuming, as he must be, that Congress rejects the domestic powers and instruments of dictatorship, does he shrewdly anticipate that Congress—having thus denied him one of the things he seeks—will be more amenable to the other object of his petition, and grant him the authority he wants in European relief more or less INTACT?

It might be a persuasive tactic for administration supporters in Congress, having been refused the domestic powers they never really expected to get and perhaps never really wanted, to pretend satisfaction with a FREE HAND IN EUROPEAN RELIEF SPENDING.

Congress should indeed withhold the instruments of dictatorship from President Truman, but it should likewise examine the whole program of European relief with caution—for dissipation of American resources abroad may very well accomplish the disintegration of American democracy, as surely as the more flagrant instruments of dictatorship.

On the Side By E. V. Darling

Copyright, 1947, by King Post Synd., Inc. You ask me when I began to love.

You know not what you ask. For young life knows not When young life was born, But takes it all for granted. Neither love, warm in the heart, His cradle can remember. —TENNYSOON.

HOW ABOUT Mr. Tennyson's claim as above? Do you remember the exact day and date when you first began to love the charming girl who became your matrimonial companion?

"IT IS A rather cozy feeling to have men take a double take of you," So confesses a feminine contemporary. No doubt the colonel's lady, Judy O'Grady, and the rest of her sisters under the skin will agree. This desire for male approval of attire and appearance affords the average man a daily opportunity of doing his good deed for the day. When he sees a feminine passer-by with an ensemble of which she is plainly proud, he can take a double take at her. In a nice, respectful way, of course. This will give the lady's morale a buildup. It will also have a tendency to improve her disposition. It will make her kinder to her husband and salespeople. If she is an office queen it will inspire her to work harder for the gentleman who employs her. So keep it in mind, gentlemen. When you see a female approaching wearing a nifty chapeau, a fresh hair-do or a smart-looking outfit, give her the double take. Act just as if you had been suddenly confronted by Lana Turner.

Lana Turner

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q.—I have a husband and under Libra. Perhaps a little advice from the stargazers or your Mules and Men experts may help me to be a little more understanding of this loveable but pig-headed fellow. A.—Our Mules and Men experts are in no way guided by astrology. In fact, they view it with cynicism. However, they say a "pig-headed" man must be handled like a mule. Don't push him, don't nag him. You have to reason with him in guarded and gentle tones. The stargazers say Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) men, whose ruling planet is Venus, have roving eyes, being flirtatious to excess. To keep a Libra man contented by his own fireside his wife must have the infinite variety of a Cleopatra.

The wives of Libra men, say the stargazers, give a thought to divorce more than those having husbands born under any other sign.

FAST DOG: As you know, the British are anxious to get all the United States dollars they can. So now they are sending over some of their crack racing greyhounds with a view to gathering in some U. S. currency. In the spring, Trev's Perfection, winner of the British greyhound derby and said to be the world's fastest racing dog, will be raced in America. Don't know how much Trev's Perfection is worth, but in addition to the many stakes he wins annually he earns the equivalent of $40,000 a year at stud.

MULES & MEN: In England the family clothes-horse is usually the husband. It is generally agreed Englishmen are the world's best-dressed fellows. In London, bank clerks, bookkeepers and salesmen are better dressed than the male patrons of Manhattan's Stork Club, with the possible exceptions of Lucius Beebe and Steve Hannagan, so it is understandable a recent London event, an exhibition of male costumes from 1350 A.D. to the present, was extremely popular. A highly interesting revelation of this exhibition was that until 1374 A.D. men wore skirts. Incidentally the males abandoned the long skirts in 1544 A.D. and started wearing short skirts. In 1574 A.D. the gentlemen began wearing breeches.

PASSING BY: Basil Rathbone, distinguished disciple of Thespis. A great lover of dogs. Recently in Central Park one of his dogs ran away and while chasing the playful pup Bill broke his wrist. When living in Beverly Hills he had seven dogs. On one occasion these seven canines staged a battle-royal in the luxuriously furnished Rathbone living room. They wrecked it. But despite these rifts in the lute Mr. Rathbone maintains a great affection for canines. And in his offtaste moments is rarely seen without a dog companion.

STOGIE DEPARTMENT: That Willie Hoppe was 14 when he won his first world's billiard championship was what I said. That was wrong. He was 18 years old at that time and is now 60 years of age. If I keep on losing stogies the way I have been recently I will have to try to find out how that fellow in London grows tobacco in his back yard. In the meanwhile I have requested Jack Zivic, my Pittsburgh representative, to try to put over a deal for a cheaper by-the-barrel price on stogies.

"David, you DON'T have to carry me over the threshold of every house the real estate agent shows us!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—Many of the Bolsheviki who had been hailed before the Thomas Committee on un-American activities have been more or less implicated in the Communist front known as the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. Among them was Howard Fast, a writer who has enjoyed, however, by reason of his political color, the professional promotion of clandestine Communists who operate as bookreviewers in several New York papers and periodicals of ostensibly orthodox American purpose. Fast wrote a distortion of history called "Citizen Tom Paine," the hearty reviews and indorsements of which in most cases established the political inclinations of those who wrote them.

Westbrook Pegler

WHILE THE WAR was still in progress, he tossed off a long pamphlet on the Croatian killer, Joseph Broz, now known as Tito, the marshal and dictator of Yugoslavia, in the status of Joseph Stalin's deputy. Soldiers of the United States, including thousands of young fliers, but recently taken from the campuses of high school and college, cleared the Nazis out of Yugoslavia and handed this land over to Tito, who then slaughtered General Mihailovic, a patriotic fighter had fought the Nazis but, at the same time, had tried to save his country from the treachery of native, Russian and American Communists.

The treachery of the American Communists was brought to bear through the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. This committee, as its name suggests, had appealed to Americans for money to smuggle out of Hitler's Europe innocent persons who otherwise must die in the gas chambers or by other horrors because they were said to be devoted to "democracy." This committee was a Communist fifth column in the United States. The committee managed and financed Tito's return to Yugoslavia.

Second Lieutenant John A. Kraft, of Long Beach, Cal., formerly of Chippewa Falls, Wis., was lost on the first great American raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Romania. The Russians, even then, were almost as savage toward Americans as they are now, but Roosevelt was determined to throw Hitler out of the Balkans and let the Communists flow in, and this raid was part of the plan.

Mrs. E. H. Kraft and the mothers of several other similar Americans who went down on a B-24 called the Damfino on Aug. 1, 1943, believe that their sons lived through the war in German captivity and then were taken by the Russians. The crew are still posted as "missing in action."

HOPE IS AGONY in many such cases, but the attitude of Howard Fast and Louis Adamic, an immigrant, naturalized Yugoslav who died at the White House with Churchill and the President by Eleanor's invitation, is in contrast to the action of these native young Americans. Fast was conspiring here to finance the return to Yugoslavia of the butcher who later was to shoot down five more young American fliers who wandered slightly off course over his boundaries, unarmed and believing they were in friendly territory. Adamic is a political advocate of Tito but, as he explained in "Dinner at the White House," he found reasons not to take a physical part in the war in his native land, even to help Stalin and Tito. He might have been afraid. Young Kraft was but he went anyway. Mrs. Roosevelt was on personal terms with Adamic and she volunteered a plug for Fast's book on Paine.

The Kraft boy could have chosen to hide out during the war but he refused. "He foolishly went in in 1941 to 'serve his year,'" Mrs. Kraft writes. "He had graduated in electrical engineering. I told him, 'John, you could claim essential occupation.' He looked at me and said: 'Mother, if I don't go, some other boy will have to go in my place.' He carried a greeting card to send on Mother's Day. It came home in his effects from Africa. He was a good son. Where is he now?"

"I have gone into many angles of this terrible raid. My husband and I have interviewed many boys. At first they were told not to talk. Now a few things come to light. Not one boy wanted to fly that low-level mission. One young navigator said to me: 'John must have had nearly all his hours in. He had been bombing constantly and it was hardest on the 500-hour men. They told them if they didn't fly the raid they couldn't go home. He was cited five times.'"

FAST AND ALL the Hollywood traitors, of course, sat it out safely. The United States did not cite them, but Stalin might. Fast refused information about the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and got three months and a small fine for contempt of Congress.

Hollywood

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (INS)—Joan Fontaine and Bill Dozier plane to Bermuda to spend the week-end with the very social Lakin Baldredes. I am sure Bill doesn't know that I know he has made many calls to the Coast to the Hakim brothers who will star Joan in "Mayerling."

I am reliably informed that instead of being made at RKO with Louis Jourdan, the picture will be made at MGM with Robert Taylor in the male lead opposite Joan.

This will be one of the few pictures MGM will release outside of their own production. They almost made a deal for Ingrid Bergman for "Joan" but that fell through at the last minute when Walter Langer signed with RKO.

THE LUCKY HERO who will make love to Joan Crawford in "Until Proven Guilty" is Robert Douglas, English actor who is coming along by leaps and bounds at Warners. He's the brother-in-law of the Countess of Warwick, and judging from the way Jack Warner is putting him in good pictures, "Christopher Blake" and "Adventures of Don Juan"—it's obvious he thinks Warners have something in Douglas.

As for Joan—her cook's broken foot may be keeping her in the kitchen cooking and washing dishes for her brood, but they tell me there was no trace of dishpan hands when she swept into L'Aiglon with Greg Bautzer (who else?) wearing an off-the-shoulder dress and one of the new "side" hats dripping white feathers.

TONY MARTIN pulls a switcheroo when he goes to Broadway to star in a stage version of "Casbah" the minute he finishes the movie on the U-I lot.

Usually the stage version comes before the picture, but Nat Goldstone, the producer, has decided the script and songs are so perfectly set up for a show that he's moving on to Broadway and taking Tony with him.

The two screen leading ladies, Yvonne De Carlo and Yvonne De Carlo and Marta Toren, however, remain in Hollywood—their roles being taken over by New York actresses.

I CAN very easily see why Virginia Leigh is named the top deb of the year, the girl to succeed Lorraine Dresselhuys and Brenda Frazier. She is soooo pretty, fresh looking and well-mannered.

I was invited to the dinner dance the Bradford Walkers gave for "Ginny" and she was easily the prettiest girl there in spite of strong competition from this year's lovely crop of debs.

Yes, I danced with the boys from Yale and Princeton and learned plenty of new steps. The first 12 dances were wonderful—but then I sat down before I fell asleep. The youthful whirl is marvelous—but I ain't that rugged!

MARLENE DIETRICH'S courtesy and unflinching good manners are wonderful. She was in the champagne room at El Morocco when Mrs. Frank Henderson rushed up to her and said she didn't mean any offense by comparing her legs to Marlene's.

The average star would have turned away—no Marlene. She told Mrs. Henderson that she understood and wasn't offended. She was most gracious.

Night after night the Henderson gal, who is 72, is seen around town dancing at the night spots—without the diamond tiara, however, which created such a fuss in operatic and social circles the first night of the opera. Igor Cassini wrote very amusingly about the whole thing. In fact, I thought his columns on the doings of the hectic first night were the best. He's our own Cholly Knickerbocker, but any of you don't recognize him by that name.

CHATTED With Maria Montez, who was here just two days before heading back for the Coast. Maria tells me Jean Pierre Aumont will be back from France the first of January to make a movie in Hollywood.

His play, now running in Paris, is a great success but she says he is not making any more movies there because the cost is so terrific.

The lady, by the way, is very indignant over the report, printed elsewhere, that she and Jean Pierre are separating. "Would I have gone to Paris to be with him and leave our child if there were trouble?" she asks.

FRED DE CORDOVA long-distanced me that Jack Warner has given him permission to take time out to direct a stage play, "The Master's Chair," between pictures. Rehearsals start in two weeks with the play opening in Santa Barbara Christmas night.

Fred plans to take it to San Francisco for three weeks and then on to New York. There's a possibility that Lynn Bari may accept the starring role. The only hitch is that she hates to leave Hollywood for any length of time so soon after reconciling with Sid Luft.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Laugh of the week was the gossip from Rome that Tyrone Power and Constance Dowling were having a romance. He did take her out to dinner once or twice—but is that so significant when old friends meet in a foreign country?

By Louella O. Parsons

Even the sophisticates raised an eyebrow when Dorothy Parker came into the Stork Club with her ex-husband, Alan Campbell. Dorothy makes no bones about Alan being the love of her life, even though Ross Evans has been a devoted escort since her divorce.

Virginia Bruce has told Turkish generals here on a visit that if her husband, Al Ipar, cannot get into this country under the quota for three years, she'll go to Turkey to live with him.

Eddie Sutherland has resigned from active management of the Beverly Hills Club on the Coast because movie work will take all his time. Eddie Sears, Jr., takes over in his place.

George Cukor and Olivia De Havilland tossed a party yesterday at the Beverly Hills Hotel in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Vining, tutor to the crown prince of Japan.

If Guy Madison and Gail Russell have made up, how come he's been showing up at the King's with Judy Clark, the little singer?

Ginger Rogers' ex, Jack Pepper, opens at Bud Abbott's Valley Night Club, "Backstage," this week.

Mrs. Joe Glaser, wife of the theatrical impresario, is asking $250,000 from Joe $125,000 in cash and their Beverly Hills home. The divorce was started a year ago, but at that time Joe talked her out of it.

Never saw so many cute kids as attended Patricia Smart's party for the seventh birthday of her son, Gailor. Wendy Hiller's little girl, Dorothy Kilgallen's two children and the Menchin child were there. Later, I saw Pat dancing with Walter Brooks III. He says it isn't true he is going to marry Helen Eagles.

Saw Fred MacMurray and his lovely wife, Lily, lunching at 121—Fred's first real vacation in New York in 14 years. They're taking in everything including Grant's tomb.

Give Robert Paige a hand for getting up a petition turning the heat on the University of Southern California to permit the Notre Dame game to be televised. This is the game the men in the school hospitals want to see above all others.

Never in my wildest moments did I expect to go down in posterity as a blooming orchid, but thanks to Harold Patterson, I will. Harold, who is the orchid king and husband of Dorothy Mackaila, has registered one of his most beautiful flowers in my name with the Orchid Society of England—and I'm terribly flattered.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

My Boston

By Alan Frazer

THE FLYING GAELS OF ST. MARY'S, who will fly into Boston via chartered TWA plane from California tomorrow morning to grapple with the Boston College Eagles, have a former St. Mary's all-America, Capt. Stanley "Toots" Kasper, as pilot, but

B. C. has two friends aboard. The stewards are the Malley twins, Margaret and Catherine, of Dorchester, who attended Boston College Intown. The twins left here for the Coast Monday, thrilled over the return trip. Logan Airport, East Boston, will have 110 parking meters. The contract was awarded at the State House yesterday to the Park-O-Meier Co. And the rate will be five cents for half an hour or less. That man whose toupee blew off in Park sq. was twice as embarrassed as you are when it's only your hat. Watch your step this week-end. The greatest living magicians are convening here. And will observe the night-before, at Huntington Hall, Friday, with some pre-convention cocktail magic.

GREER GARSON immediately became the center of attention Monday night at the Shubert, after the last salvo of applause for Gertrude Lawrence. Greer saw the trial of Noel Coward plays from the second row center, with Miss Eleonora Sears of Boston and Prides Crossing, the society woman and one of the world's greatest woman athletes. Greer's hair was a flaming red and held with a black velvet band, in sort-of schoolgirl fashion. She was not spotted by the audience until a photographer, during intermission, went down the aisle and snapped her. Then the grapevine spread word of her identity. When the show was over, nearly everybody in the brilliant first-night gathering waited in their seats or the foyer to admire and study her. Many also waited in the street but the waiter turned back with Miss Sears to visit Miss Lawrence in her dressing-room. Greer is scheduled to start for California this afternoon. In spite of her minor operation at Beverly Hospital, she was radiant and vibrant with life. The attentions of the crowd flushed her cheeks, and she often lowered her eyes, displaying long—and natural—lashes. Her evening dress glittered with sequins in burnished colors. After a spicy Cornish Lawrence meal, this pleasantly-surprised first-nighter found Miss Garson a warm and rich liqueur.

HAULING IN THE NET: The Touraine Hotel has a Touraine Trappers Club with rooms on the second floor, overlooking the Common. The club has only 42 members. The place is decorated with stuffed bears, some of them killed by the Touraine owner, Clarence E. Hyde. There is also a gigantic pair of longhorns from a Texas steer. The hornspread is seven feet, three inches. Ben Swig, son of the former Boston banker, Simon Swig, has just bought considerable business property in Tulsa, Okla., the oil capital. Going West some years ago, Ben acquired the Fairmont and St. Francis hotels, top-rank inns in San Francisco, a city of hotels. The Army recruiting office at 35 Tremont st., near Beacon, has a striking (though visionary) painting in its window of the first Thanksgiving, loaned by the Ancient and Honorable. Nan Blackstone writes us she leaves the Fensgate Satire Room (with our regrets) after tonight to go to the new Morocco Club in Hollywood and thence to the House of Harris, which as we know, Nan, is one of San Francisco's best dineries.

TOMORROW you receive your new telephone books and begin dialing the new numbers, two letters and five numerals. The telephone company calls it the two-five plan. For you it will still be a 7-plus system. But this is only the first step in dialing developments that eventually will link your home or office with every telephone in the United States. In a year or so, the new telephone building on Franklin st. will be in use. Soon after that you will be able to dial the long distance operator, tell her the number you want and hear her dial directly to that number, whether it is in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles or any other large city. Within 10 years, you will be able to do better than that. You will be able to dial yourself directly to that New York office or that Chicago or Los Angeles home. Telephone service will have come of age. As each city will have a three-number code, it will be 10-plus dialing when you use long-distance.

THE REASON you will get two telephone books instead of one, is because the Boston book has become so thick that the company has decided to split off the classified business section. This was originally done some years ago, but the company reverted to one volume. A telephone book gets thicker with use. In the old books, there are 936 alphabetical pages and 792 classified pages, a total of 1728. In the new alphabetical book there are 1044 pages and 886 classified, totaling 1930. This is the very line had to be reset in type because of the new number system. Medford (Mystic), Malden, Melrose and Everett will soon be switched over from manual to dial operation.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE officers, past, present and future, got the lowdown on Russia and Communism the other night at the Fargo Building. We have been asked why we don't name Veterans Administration officials who hold high posts in veterans' organizations, in violation of a directive from Gen. Bradley, who said it was very bad taste. The reason is that we always thought the directive a foolish one. Sally Keith has a new car, painted the color of her hair, very light blonde. The paint job cost her the price of many permanents, but then, Sally should worry! Benjamin R. Epstein of New York, named this week as national director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, started his career in Boston when he set up and directed the activities of the New England branch of the league in 1939.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—A festering crew of ideological lawyers has organized a terrific pressure campaign to wreck the FBI's investigation of disloyalty in the government.

Posing as defenders of civil liberties and the Constitution, these legalists are trying to force Director J. Edgar Hoover to make public disclosure of his sources of information.

They are invoking the constitutional clause that a man has the right to be confronted by his accuser. But the practical effect, as these smiling legalists well know, would be to render the whole FBI investigation impotent.

The minute the FBI named an informant he would be worthless. It would be equivalent to military intelligence furnishing the Kremlin with a list of all our intelligence officers within the iron curtain.

Up to now the FBI chieftain has been able to stand off the pressure, but it is daily becoming more decided. Some of the most powerful figures in government, misguided and misled, are being coerced one way or another into lending support to the wreckers.

A showdown, which will be more sensational than anything disclosed by the House Un-American Activities Committee, is imminent unless these misguided topbranners cease flirting with the enemy and rally to the support of Hoover. The FBI boss is on the point of exposing the conspiracy to the people.

THE PRESSURE campaign has tentacles reaching from the highest echelons of government. And these flirts with subversion have taken aid and comfort from President Truman's declaration that "civil rights must be protected" in unmasking the disloyalists.

The President added that "full disclosure of the charges against a suspected employee would not be possible for security reasons" but the juridical schemers have already started to explain that away as just a politician playing both ends for vote-getting purposes.

Hoover has offered a guarantee against injustice which the legal plotters are attempting to ridicule. To safeguard suspected government employees against unjust accusation, he has offered to before the loyalty boards and personally evaluate the trustworthiness of each informant.

He has offered to produce his evidence in this manner:

"The tip-off in this case was supplied by a person we shall identify as informant C-15. I will personally vouch for this informant. Moreover all the facts in the case have been thoroughly checked by the FBI and have been found true in every detail."

Or—"This information was supplied by informant E-77. This informant has a long record for truthfulness, but the facts have not yet been adequately checked. We request more time for a fuller investigation."

Or—"This evidence was supplied by informant E-106. The truthfulness of this informant has not been sufficiently tested. We ask more time to continue the investigation."

schools or theaters to kidnap German men for unexplained reasons—perhaps politically suspicious persons, perhaps to fill a work quota behind the iron curtain, or perhaps for no other motive than an impish desire to keep matters in turmoil.

LIST KEEPS GROWING
 American Military Police records show that more than 100 such disappearances have occurred within the current year, with the list steadily growing. American inquiries always reach the same Russian formula. "We will investigate," and after a prolonged period the same rubber-stamped verdict that "These arrests were made either by unknown persons in Russian uniform or by German police without authority or for Russian security purposes." All fall within these categories. "It is most disquieting," observed Frau Schmidt in a vein of understatement. "Yes," added her daughter. "Now we know how the mouse feels in the presence of a hungry cat."

"The day which we Berliners most dread," continued Herr Schmidt, "is when the Russians will suggest, 'Now the occupation is complete, so let us give Germany back to the Germans and all go home.'"

"That will be perhaps two or three years from now, but it is inevitable that Russia will attempt such a political trap. If the Americans and English are deceived by such subterfuge as they were in Italy, Germany will immediately become a battleground for contrary ideologies and in danger of being devoured by Russia's well organized Social Unity Party."

BEDS SET STAGE
 American authorities are not unaware that Russia is organizing aggressively its "Her-presumptive" to the Allied Occupation Front party known as the S.E.D. Until recently Berlin's indigenous police were under a Soviet-trained ex-Wehrmacht officer named Paul Markgraf, a man of considerable character and much shrewdness, who had commanded one of the last German tank battalions to surrender at Stalingrad. Soon after war ended, Markgraf returned to Berlin, strangely hale and healthy, and wearing the uniform of a Wehrmacht colonel. He is a tall man with an imposing, soldierly manner, an intelligent blue eye and the air of a born commander.

The Russians had installed him as their police chief of Berlin, and the Americans and English adopted him as a result. Thus, Markgraf became commander of 15,000 police in charge of all four Allied sectors. It was not long before they realized their mistake. Somehow police officials and lesser people who disagreed with Russian policies had a disconcerting habit of vanishing into thin air. Markgraf knew what he or his sponsors wanted—and delivered.

STUDENTS VANISH
 Nine Catholic students at the University of Berlin vanished into that favorite newspaper figure of speech, the "figure of time." An editor of a German language newspaper in the U. S. sector followed. An assorted collection of people, including several of Markgraf's own deputies, were likewise proscribed. It was a clear repetition of Hitler's technique.

One of these was an especially interesting case. A hazy character named Ernst Toelken, who was Markgraf's chief of personnel in the U. S. sector, was a semi-fictional person who might have been dreamed up in Hollywood, was discharged from his post. He immediately disappeared.

The mystery was heightened when an Allied investigation revealed that the Toelken was not Toelken at all, but an impostor, who had been masquerading under the name of a man held as a Russian prisoner of war.

AIDED BY WIFE
 The fake Toelken had even lived with Mrs. Toelken and her three sons best known to herself, did not reveal the status of her fictitious husband. She still resides in the Russian sector of Berlin and has nothing to say. The lady has reasons.

Recently the Americans, British and French ousted Markgraf and re-divided the German police into separate jurisdictions. The Russian arrests continued, but at least the separation of the Soviet influence became quickly apparent. Yet within the other three sectors, crime has resolved into the usual categories of physical bounds—burglary and small-fry offenses.

Politics and police have been separated, yet the Russians still invade their neighboring sectors and continue their "protective kidnapping." The Americans are at a loss to know how to cope with it.

Homes Built Faster, Drop in Cost Visioned
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Robert W. McChesney, president of the National Electrical Contractors Ass'n., said today the prices of homes have leveled off and there is a pretty good chance they will drop.

He said a home now can be finished in five months where a year ago it took 11 months to complete. This he said, results in a real saving in cost.

Bulge Hero to Pay Bedsheet Debt
 A wartime debt which helped save the lives of 500 GI's in the Battle of the Bulge is well on the way toward being repaid.

When the fighting was at its worst in the Bastogne area, ex-Lt. Col. John Hannon, Bridge St., Winchester, received 500 bed sheets from the mayor of the little Belgian village of Hemroulle. He used them to camouflage his troops on the snow-covered ground.

That debt, owed to nearly every villager of Hemroulle, has weighed heavily on his conscience ever since. Now Sunday, however, the townspeople of Winchester will begin repayment by bringing bed sheets to the Town Hall in answer to the ringing of church bells, the same method by which they were collected.

Hannon intends to take the sheets to Hemroulle where he leaves for Europe in January to attend the Olympic games.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE ONLY REALLY EFFECTIVE JOB done by the Luckman committee was to shut down the American distilleries for 60 days. Luckman did not shut down the Canadian or the British distilleries, which have increased their output with a view to exporting increasing amounts to the United States. In a word, Luckman slapped down American companies and American workers in the interest of their foreign competitors.

He might have sought a universal agreement for a world-wide distiller's holiday or he might have been forewarned that such a program would have been unacceptable. The American annual consumption of distilled liquors amounts to $5,100,000,000, a little more than half of which goes into federal, state and local taxes.

The idea behind the shutdown of distilleries was to ease the export of wheat by saving corn at the time when it was most needed, supposedly the period until the beginning of November.

By prohibiting the distillers to buy the corn, this grain would be available to the farmer, who would then use it for feed instead of wheat.

ACTUALLY, BEFORE the shutdown became a reality on Oct. 25, the Department of Agriculture and the commercial exporters had bought three-fifths to two-thirds of the highest amount of grain which they thought would be exported.

We were told to save 100,000,000 bushels of wheat or its equivalent in other grains. It would seem that the European distillers and brewers of 10 countries estimated that they would require 71,000,000 bushels of grain for their purposes. Altogether 16 countries are involved so that this estimate is low.

In a word, the American people are asked to save about as much grain as the European alcohol beverage industry needs to use. And it makes no sense to say that they will use their grain for liquors and ours for feed. Nobody can make that kind of a separation.

Distillers, brewers and all other interested processors of grains, anticipating restrictions, bought aggressively in September and October. This added to the tightening of the markets. In fact, at the end of this year, it will be evident that no grain was saved in this manner, although the distribution may be slightly altered.

THE AMERICAN distillers deliver as remnants of the distilling process large quantities of feed. These "distiller grains" are high quality feeds because little value in calories and vitamins is lost. In fact, some claim that in the manufacturing process, the amount of vitamin A is increased.

Whether this is actually so or not is a scientific argument that I do not want to get into. The farmers who use this feed can no longer get it as the distilleries are shut down. They, therefore, have to use other feeds for their cattle.

When the Paris conference convened, the various countries were asked to give data about their use of grains. Ten of them stated, to repeat, their total intended usage for alcoholic beverages in 1947-48 as 71,000,000 bushels.

Thus, by shutting down our distilleries, by restricting our breweries, by culling our poultry flocks excessively, it is made possible for foreign countries to produce alcoholic beverages equal to the Luckman program for saving grain.

GREAT BRITAIN is expected to use for distilling during the current year about 8,000,000 bushels of barley. When our distilleries were forced to shut down, the Scotch distillers declared that under no circumstances would they do so as 75 per cent of their production was going to be exported and England needs this foreign currency badly.

IT IS NOT THEN a question of wheat, but of dollars. The European countries require dollars to purchase foodstuffs and capital goods in this country. Meatless, poultryless, eggless days save nothing in grain.

Actually, there is a grain shortage in the world and if some are not to starve, those who have a surplus ought to help those who lack. But it is not necessary to bluff about it or to dramatize distress.

Shutting down the American distilleries is sheer ballyhoo and is really unrelated to the subject, except that an American industry is being harmed in the interest of its foreign competitors which is neither political logic nor sound economic policy.

Postcard Saves Vets' Poll Tax

Boston veterans, outraged because they had been served with 1947 poll tax charges, continued to inundate the city tax collector's office today only to discover that the filling out of a penny postcard would have saved them a journey.

More than 7000 have already objected demanding to know why the combined charges, totaling $3.45, had been sent them.

City Tax Collector Daniel F. Donovan said veterans feel they are automatically exempt from the tax under the acts of 1943. They must, however, declare themselves to be veterans on the abatement postcard that is sent out with all poll tax bills.

Donovan also revealed that the poll tax exemption for World War II veterans expires at the end of this year and that they will be liable for the 1948 tax.

U. S. Secrets Handed Russia By Red Cell in State Dept.

By HOWARD RUSHMORE

Special to the Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—A Communist cell operated in the State Dept. throughout the war and supplied highly confidential information to the Russian government, it was learned today.

Names of the Red Fascists who were members of this cell have been turned over to the special federal grand jury which for three months here has been probing Stalin's espionage network in this country.

The N. Y. Journal-American has revealed that a State Dept. official with the rank of ambassador was a member of a master unit of a spy ring set up by the OGPU in 1937 in Washington.

However, disclosure of the existence of a subsidiary cell within the State Dept. may widen the present inquiry to include an investigation of various passport scandals which occurred in the vital federal branch.

One individual in the State Dept. Red cell is still an official of the Latin-American division of the department.

In this important executive job, it is known that he worked closely with Russian secret police who for the past two years have become increasingly active in Latin America.

Smart Set Holiday Shopping

By BETTY ALDEN

LIKE LOVE IN JUNE, Christmas bazaars are bustlin' out all over. Lots of holiday gifts shopping was accomplished yesterday by patrons at two of the outstanding charity sales, the Animal Rescue League fair at the Copley Plaza and the Rutland Training Center sale at 405 Boylston st.

Everything from blocks to socks was heaped on the tables at the Animal Rescue League bazaar, where we glimpsed Mrs. Geoffrey Whitney buying neckties and socks by the dozen and Mrs. James R. Hammond of Marblehead having her dog's portrait drawn. Mrs. Ruthford Bingham was an able and charming assistant at the table featuring fresh herbs for soup and salad and was modishly dressed in a black broadcloth suit with a coral blouse and coque feather hat.

In town on one of her infrequent visits nowadays Mrs. Edward N. Fenno helped out as a cashier and took a little time out to shop for a gift for her godchild, Susan Daniels of Brookline. She and Mrs. Fenno closed their summer home in Falmouth Monday and are spending a couple of weeks with his sister, Mrs. Arthur Bell, of Beacon st. Early next month they will be off to spend the winter at their home in the Barbados. She says they had a great deal of excitement during the Cape Forest fires and only a back fire saved their place one day.

Mrs. Jasper Whiting is in charge of the Rutland Training Center sale which continues all week and features attractive gifts of hand made furniture such as coffee tables, nests of tables and hanging bookshelves. Mrs. Robert Halliwell came in from Dedham to buy several gifts yesterday and every patron was served hot coffee and cookies. Among the many assistants during the week are Mrs. W. Russell MacAusland, Mrs. George H. Powell, Mrs. Arthur O'Keefe, Mrs. Leo J. Nawn, Mrs. Walter J. Gillis, Mrs. Phineas Sprague, Mrs. John Homans, Mrs. Max O. Whiting, Mrs. John H. Cunningham and Mrs. Harold G. Tobey.

THE THEATRE GUILD opening of the Menotti musical plays "The Telephone" and "The Medium" brought a very dressy audience of socially and musically prominent Bostonians to the handsomely refurbished Majestic Theater.

The new look in fashions was very much in evidence with many gowns featuring the full ballerina skirt and off shoulder neckline to set off sparkling diamond and pearl necklaces.

Mrs. Charles Hovey, who came with a large group of friends from a dinner party, wore a white evening blouse hand painted ed in tiny Mexican figures and a coral jaffeta ballerina skirt. Mrs. James S. Plaut, enjoying the music from an adjoining box, wore a full skirted black chiffon with pearls, and Mrs. George Parson, who had two on the aisle with her husband, chose a fetching pearl gray velvet with full swirling skirt and slim bodice decorated with diamond buttons. Mrs. Tilton Hallyer came with Nathaniel Sallontall and wore black net over a rose applied underskirt. Mrs. George Hawley, one of Boston's great patrons of music, was in a party with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hobbs, and Dr. and Mrs. Serge Koussevitzky were accompanied by Mrs. Efrem Zimbalist, mother of the famous violinist.

Women's Shoe Styles Attract

Sandals will enjoy tremendous success this spring, it was disclosed at a press fashion show staged by Miss Virginia Harris at the Hotel Statler for the New England Shoe and Leather Ass'n yesterday in conjunction with their New England Shoe Market Week.

It is here that straps run wild as they are twisted, banded and slung in asymmetric shapes. T-straps are refreshing departures from the instep strap sandal. Closed toes contribute the newest look to the sandal, but open backed continue strong.

A pair of gray suede sandals, completely closed in look, with center T-strap heightening the instep line, perforations dotting the vamp, and a wedge-heel no more than an inch in height constituted smart shoe style for spring. With plenty of gray on the fashion horizon, these shoes augured modishly for the coming trend.

With color very important for spring, playshoes in a combination of white and red, or white and green were shown. And in keeping with the multicolor trend, kid playshoes featuring the combine of several shades should answer the need for an all-purpose shoe for a wardrobe of all colors.

The dressy patterns featured higher heels, with the three-inch heel the ace of them all.

Where ankle straps are evident, backs are more often closed. Often the silhouette in this pattern resembles a closed pump with a thin strap around the ankle. The model in the New England shoe show, a striking example of the high-styled closed toe and heel and high ankle-strap, also had a slight platform, a sort of compromise of the two schools of shoe thinking for spring.

Satin for more formal wear was also emphasized in ankle-strap, open-work shoes which while shown in black, is being made up in white to enable piecedye possibility to match costumes.

Honors, however, went to not-quite-four-year-old Nancy Ayers, who modeled the new look for 1960. Garbed in a pair of no-seam, flexible toe, 4-eyelet oxford shoes of pastel blue she predicated the future of youngsters' shoes. Her grandfather, Fred Ayers and her father, J. Robert Ayers, New England shoe manufacturers, are responsible for this new trend of making little lassie shoes in such colors as shocking pink, pastel blue, red and white, green and white and in both blutcherboot and four-eyelet types.

Dining, Dancing Dress

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

YOUR BACKGROUND may be the country club next summer or a West Indies cruise this winter. Whichever it is, you will want a simple, lovely dress for your dining and dancing evenings.

The open verandas and the moonlit gardens that make beautiful backgrounds for warm weather parties call for gowns that are distinguished in their simplicity. In cut, they are more like street dresses than ball gowns. It is the delicacy of their fabrics, the loveliness of their color tones, the beauty of their detailing that transform these dresses into something special.

The informal dinner gown sketched today captures the magic of warm, moonlit evenings. It was designed by Orry-Kelly for Merle Oberon to wear in RKO's "Night Song." Simple and youthful, the dress is made of white chiffon tucked in long lines. It has a shirtwaist neckline and a curved wide belt of white kid criss-crossed with bands of beige and gold.

Beauty Hand Ritual

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

THIS IS THE SEASON when the girl who cares wouldn't dream of being caught with her half moons in a state of fingernail eclipse . . . nor her handskin anything but sheer anatomical peaches-and-cream. Yes, so lovely . . . they look good enough to eat!

"Pale hands-I love" . . . and as the lyrics go . . . so goes fashion to impose an additional beauty responsibility on the girl who strives to rate A plus in her feminine catechism. Hands to be loved . . . across the table, toying with the fragile stem of crystal, or in hand with his in swing and sway to rhythmical syncopation over a dance floor . . . must trend toward soft, fragile-looking, half-moon hands. But, literally! What fun!

The girl who thinks the appendages to her arms are things with which she simply eats, works and gesticulates has another thing coming this year of returned femininity, of intentional elegance, of strategic illusion, of everything that spells woman with a capital WILE. And aren't your wiles willing?

If you aim to be THE ONE then you'll subscribe to a routine of one, two, three . . . pretty hands for thee . . . a beauty hand ritual that's simple, the process easy-to-do. And, it does make sense in this or any other season . . . whether the accent is or isn't on hands. For when you come right down to it . . . hands do tell a lot about a woman . . . and very often more than she wants known.

So first let us clean up those rough-edged cuticles and fingernails with a glycerated nail cream . . . that's an excellent conditioner, rich in essential oils. Not only will it smooth them to velvet nicely . . . but tone and stimulate the nail so that it is encouraged to grow long and strong.

And, of course, as the nail grows longer the half moon grows out . . . a tiny fleck, at first, but then into full blossom . . . virtually like the heavenly body itself.

Beauty-fashion says the moons must out. And so be it . . . to attract the eye to hands silky-smooth and youthfully soft . . . as firm and fine as young, blooming complexion. Come to think of it . . . that's what hands need this season . . . a revitalized complexion treatment for their overhauled new look.

So, next we cream them with a rich, lanolin-based cream . . . delicately scented . . . and expertly blended to supplement the natural softening oils of the skin, itself. And, finally, give the hands a beauty sleep.

Hand-cream gloves go hand-in-glove with the other two steps. Of soft woven cotton . . . they slip very easily over your creamed hands . . . thereby allowing the hands their full measure of beautifying benefit for a new handful of handshakes loveliness.

For the names of the hand beauty essentials in this one, two, three routine, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, any day except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ONE, TWO, THREE . . . pretty hands for thee! It's a mighty five-minute job that starts with a glycerated nail groom cream . . . an excellent conditioner rich in essential oils . . . which tones and stimulates the nails. The model knows.

TO HELP make hands soft, fragile-looking and half-moon . . . massage them nightly with a delicate, perfectly-blended cream with a rich lanolin base . . . created to supplement the natural softening oils of the skin. The model shows.

Glamorous and Practical Peace Plate

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

THE CONSUMER SERVICE SECTION, Citizens' Food Committee, touches its conservation wand on leftover ham and a cheaper cut of pork, and comes up with a "Peace Plate" today that's as glamorous as it is practical.

It's called Pineapple Upside-Down Ham Loaf, and you can work your way up to it via steaming cups of hot tomato juice; then with your Peace Plate enjoy candied sweets, buttered peas, and crisp celery. Because you'll want a light, tart dessert, serve lime or lemon gelatin whip, or a fluff of snow pudding.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN HAM LOAF

- 2 cups ground cooked ham (or 1 can pork-and-ham loaf, ground).
- 1 1/2 cups ground pork shoulder.
- 2 eggs.
- 1 cup milk.
- 1 cup finely crushed cracker crumbs.
- 1/2 tsp. salt.
- 1/2 tsp. pepper.
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
- 1 tsp. dry mustard.
- 2 tbsp. vinegar.
- 3 slices canned pineapple.

Combine first 7 ingredients. Combine sugar, mustard, and vinegar; pour into loaf pan 10x5x3 inches. Arrange pineapple on top of sugar mixture in a nice design, cutting slices as needed to fit. Pack meat on top of pineapple. Bake in moderately hot oven of 375 deg. F. for 1 1/2 hours. Unmold. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES

Cut 6 cooked and peeled sweet potatoes in halves lengthwise. Heat 1/2 cup butter or margarine, and 1/2 cup brown sugar in heavy skillet. Add potatoes and cook until brown on both sides. Add 1/2 cup water, cover closely, reduce heat, and cook until tender and delicately browned. Or cook in slow oven. Makes 6 servings.

SNOW PUDDING

(Lemon Sponge)
2 1/2 tsp. plain unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch salt
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 or 3 egg whites
Soak gelatin in the cold water 5 minutes; add the boiling water, and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add 1/2 cup of the sugar, the salt, lemon rind, and sugar. Cool until slightly thickened. Beat the egg whites until quite stiff, then add the remaining 1/2 cup of sugar while continuing to beat until stiff. Beat into slightly thickened pudding with an egg beater, then turn into a 1-quart mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set, then unmold. Serve with custard sauce. Makes 4 to 5 servings. Sliced fruit may be used as a garnish.

LEMON WHIP

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin (1 tsp.)
1/2 cup cold water
1-3 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup lemon juice
Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt and boiling water, and stir until completely dissolved. Add lemon juice, mix thoroughly, pour into a 1-quart mold or 6 individual molds that have been rinsed in cold water, and chill. When partially set, beat with an egg beater until frothy and light. Then chill until set. Unmold and serve with plain or whipped cream, custard sauce, sliced fresh or canned fruit. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

BEAUTY SLEEP for hands . . . and they need it this season. Give them hand-cream gloves that go hand-in-glove with the other two steps. Of soft woven cotton . . . they slip very easily over your creamed hands . . . thereby allowing the hands to get the full benefit. The model knows and shows!

YEN SKINNY, TOO

TOKYO, Nov. 19 (AP)—High building costs? Look at Japan:

Ten years ago a big, eight-story, steel and reinforced concrete building was erected for the transportation ministry; it covers almost a full block and cost six million yen.

Now a new, two-story wooden structure has been erected in the vacant corner of a block; it cost six million yen.

With the yen worth 28 cents, U. S., in 1937, thought-ery building cost $1,680.00. The wooden structure of $120.00 at the present official rate of two cents, but in time of war it will be, the yen is with considerably less.

Wilson, Komie About to Leave For Southland

By JACK CONWAY

Race track people are like the birds. They follow the sun and like to spend their time far away from the cold of the North. We have recently noticed several signs of the approach of winter.

Dave Wilson, champion handicapper, called us on the telephone to state that after he does his handicaps for Saturday's Green Sports Special of the Boston American he will be headed for Florida with a brief stopover at Bowie. He will be accompanied by his special clocker who will have the latest in workouts from Gulfstream Park which opens on Dec. 1. The Gulfstream meeting will be followed by one at Hialeah Park, and then one at Tropical Park.

Dave Komie, world's champion price maker, was a caller and declared that early next week he will start for Florida. Komie's revised prices and selections will continue to be a feature of the Green Sports Special throughout the late fall and winter season.

Komie has been around race tracks for more than 30 years. He has owned and trained horses, but he says he likes his present job as a price maker and selector best. If Komie predicts a horse will be 2 to 1 when the mutual machines close, you may be pretty sure that the price will be 2 to 1 or so close to that figure that one will not have much ground for argument.

"In Florida, a great deal of money is wagered on morning line prices," said Komie. "I have always been willing to give my revised prices to friends. They will sit around a breakfast table at one of the hotels in Florida, and wager their money just as freely as they would if they were at the track. They may later ride me a bit if I miss the closing price."

Professional Bettors Can Beat the Races

Asked if there is a chance for anyone to best the races Komie disagreed with most persons and declared the professional bettors had a chance to do so.

"The general opinion that nobody can beat the races still stands," said Komie, "but the professional bettor, if he is careful, has a chance to do so. The race track is his place of business. He has all possible information. He has seen the various races and knows what has happened. He also has expert knowledge of the ability of the various jockeys and trainers.

"If the professional bettor then wagers carefully, refusing to be tempted to make a huge wager on any one race, he has a chance to finish the season in the black.

"There has been much discussion as to whether it is wise policy to permit bookmakers to operate at a track. That is something each track must decide for itself. As far as the mutual handle is concerned, I do not believe bookmakers injure it as they are among the big bettors.

"The bookmakers in Florida also have the big customers, and when the wagers are made early much of this money finds its way back into the mutual machines."

Florida Rental Prices Hit New High

Real estate prices and hotel rates have skyrocketed in Florida, according to Phil Buccalo who has just returned to Boston after a two weeks visit at Miami Beach.

"One apartment at Miami Beach that was rented for $2200 last season is being offered at $5000. Hotel rates have also been increased at most places. There has not been any rush to hire places at the higher prices, but the real estate people feel that cold weather in the North is all Florida needs to assure it another boom season. There is a great deal of new buildings and hotels going up in the Miami area."

There was a time when most people who went to Florida in the winter came from New York state, Illinois, Ohio, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island and from Georgia and some of the other Southern states. Now Florida draws its patronage from all parts of the United States, Canada and South America.

This season water travel will supplement travel by rail, plane and auto.

Zanelli to Train at Providence for Priest

Ralph Zanelli, New England middleweight champion, is training at Providence for his 12-round title bout with Al (Red) Priest of Cambridge which will be staged by the Goodwin A. C. at the Garden on Monday night. Zanelli says he has kept in the fine physical condition which recently helped him win from Priest in a tussle at Providence.

Priest has been working out in this city. "Red" says he underrated Zanelli in their last meeting, and he asserts this is why he lost.

The Zanelli-Priest tussle is a local natural, and one of the largest crowds of the year will be jammed into the Garden when the rival punchers move into action.

Brown's Shift To Coast Seen Following Sales To Red Sox

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (INS)—The grand old man of major league baseball on the Pacific Coast, Vincent X. Flaherty, shouldn't get impatient. He's still young, and there still is time for the good people of Los Angeles to build a statue of him in the Court House Square, or wherever.

From the first day that he went out from Washington, D. C. to write a sports column for the Examiner that has caught the fancy of the entire Pacific Coast, Vincent X. has left no doubt about what that X stands for.

That marks the spot in L. A. where he is determined major league ball shall be played.

The writer is wholly in sympathy with Vince and his ambitions along these lines. Believes as deeply as the G. O. M., or anybody else, that big league baseball is coming to California. Probably by 1950. Possibly even sooner.

There is a rumor crackling the baseball grapevine to the effect that the sale and trade of Vernon Stephens and Jack Kramer from the St. Louis Browns to the Boston-Red Sox is only the first step in the sale of the Browns.

Which sale also will be the first step in an effort to move the St. Louis Club into Los Angeles, buy, baggage and franchise in time for the 1949 season.

We are convinced that the big leagues are about ready to extend the welcoming hand of membership to Los Angeles and San Francisco, which also means Oakland and Hollywood.

As we understand it that Panto Rowland blast about declaring the entire Pacific Coast League a third major league is largely a smoke screen.

The P. C. L. prexy didn't even make it sound too good, because the scheme he advanced would make his circuit both a major and minor league at the same time.

The real story is supposed to be that the "big boys" out there really want four major league franchises—L. A., Hollywood, S. F. and Oakland—owned and operated by Californians.

Those they stand a royal chance of getting, if they can satisfy what will be left of the P. C. L. and, we repeat, of getting right soon.

There is no earthly reason why the present big leagues shouldn't be ten-city leagues. Put one N. L. and one A. L. club in the San Francisco district and one of each in Los Angeles territory, and there's your picture.

BC Co-eds Fly To Hub With Gaels

Happy to put Kezar Stadium and the memory of the Santa Clara game behind them, the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's will board a Trans World Airline Constellation at 8 o'clock tonight at Oakland Airport to fly to Boston to meet Boston College.

Piloting the big TWA Constellation on its 10-hour flight to Boston will be Capt. Stanley (Toots) Kasper, St. Mary's All-American back of 1927.

Just to make sure that the partisan spirit of the crew is evenly divided, TWA has assigned a couple of Boston College alumnae as hostesses on the flight, Katherine and Margaret Malloy, twin sisters from Boston and former students at Boston College-in-town.

The Constellation is scheduled to leave Oakland Airport at 8 p. m., make a refueling stop at Chicago and arrive at General Lawrence Logan Airport, Boston, at 9:35 a. m. eastern time, tomorrow.

Kinder Figures to Help Sox

By FRED HOEY

Boston is the center of the baseball universe. Not that the Red Sox are resting on their league laurels as they did a year ago, but because the only baseball news of any real player importance since the World Series is confined to this city.

When the two Joes—McCarthy and Cronin—announced the big deal with the Browns which brings Vern Stephens and pitcher Jack Kramer here in exchange for Ed Pellagrini, Roy Partee, five others of lesser importance together with a huge chunk of cash, it startled the local fans.

But the two Joes not satisfied even with this big trade. Last night Cronin announced that Ellis Kinder, a really good right hander, and Billy Hitchcock, an infielder who has knocked about a bit, will come to Boston from the Browns in exchange for Sam Dente, the infielder, and Clem Dreisewerd, the big, but aging, southpaw who had a great season with Louisville.

In addition the Red Sox agreed to send another player and cash to complete the deal.

Thus it indicates that the Red Sox are making a very desperate effort to field a ball club that will recapture the American League pennant. The Sox couldn't win with what they had last season. So it was necessary that radical changes be made. Few fans realize how bitterly disappointed owner Tom Yawkey was with the failure of his Sox team last season.

Leahy Looks Ahead to Close Of Happy Year

By FRANK LEAHY

Head Coach, Notre Dame University

Another gridiron season moves down the final home stretch. Our game with Tulane next Saturday in Notre Dame Stadium finishes our schedule in the East. Then to the West Coast to face the thunderous Trojans of Southern California on December 6 in Los Angeles.

Looking back we find many pleasant memories and some that leave a pang of sadness. All of us here at Notre Dame regret that next season will find us devoid of a game with Army and sincerely hope the series will be resumed in the future.

My biggest problem this season was a necessarily slow start in bringing the squad into top shape. Early injuries set us back at least four to five weeks. There was nothing we could do about it but hope for the best.

Taken as a whole this has been a smooth season, a pleasant season. We could not ask for a finer group of lads with which to work. Johnny Lujack lived up to all the dazzling predictions made for him. A most commendable achievement from a viewpoint of character as well as physical attainments.

When we persisted in saying before the season began that we were worried about the reaction of immature lads to such praise as was heaped on this year's team, newspapermen thought we were kidding. We were honestly worried, but the fine manner in which the lads came through made the worry seem small in retrospect.

If we had to pick one lad who gave us a sense of balance it would be Ziggy Czarabski, "The Alderman," as Ziggy is known to everyone on the Notre Dame campus.

Aside from being a truly fine performer at tackle, Ziggy's keen sense of humor did much to make this year's gridiron journey a happy one for coaches as well as players.

Ziggy served in the Navy during the war. Had it lasted longer we are sure Ziggy would have been at some admiral's right hand on the bridge during battle.

Bruins Renew Feud With Maple Leafs

By BILL GRIMES

Although they have lost less and won as many games as any of the NHL clubs, the Bruins will go into tonight's game with Toronto Maple Leafs at the Garden one point in arrears of the world's champions.

Coach "Dit" Clapper is anxious to see if his charges got all of the bad hockey out of their systems last Sunday night, when they went down to a 3 to 2 defeat before the Detroit Red Wings. The Bruins have been resting since Sunday. Ordinarily, they would have held two practice sessions but Coach Clapper elected to have them stay off the steel runners for a couple of days.

With the exception of Murray Henderson, the Bruins are all in fine physical condition. They will miss Henderson's efforts on the outer defense, for "Moe" has been playing heads-up hockey. With Henderson out, Jack Crawford will pair up with Fernie Flaman and Pat Egan will be on with Clare Martin, who is off to a good start on his first real chance to make the big league.

Coach Clapper will start his big line, Joe Carveth, Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart. Then, he'll call on Billy Taylor to center for Pete Babando and Eddie Sandford and will have Don Gallinger as the play maker for Wally Wilson and Ken Smith and Ed Harrison, who will alternate as left wingers.

The Maple Leafs took both ends of a double-header over the weekend, the Red Wings in Toronto and the Hawks in the Windy City. And, it was those four points, plus the fact that they've played two more games than Boston that jumped them into first place of the NHL race.

Max Bentley will make his local debut as a Maple Leaf. He and Cy Thomas were sent to Toronto by the Chicago Hawks for Gus Bodnar, Bud Poile, Gabe Stewart, Ernie Dickens and Bobby Goldham. But, Max hasn't been the goal getter for the Leafs that he was for the Hawks. And, Thomas, who is a left winger, didn't make the trip to Chicago and may be on his way to Pittsburgh.

In the only previous meeting of the current campaign, the Bruins and Maple Leafs fought a 1-1 draw. The champions thought they were "in" when with less than 10 seconds to play, they were leading 1 to 0. But, the Bruins ganged up on them on a face off deep in Toronto territory and during the melee the tying goal was scored. It was credited to "Moe" Henderson. That goal staggered the Leafs, for two reasons, first, it cost them a win and second, the tally came from one of their own pet plays.

40 Russell Key Man in Hopp Trade

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Johnny Hopp and Danny Murtaugh go from Braves to Pirates. Jim Russell, Al Lyons and Bill Salkeld come from Pirates to Braves. That was the trade announced today by John Quinn, general manager of the Allston Tribe. It isn't a trade that will bring the Braves the pennant, and it will create none of the furore that resulted when Vern Stephens and Jack Kramer came to the Sox. But it will strengthen the Braves in a couple of departments in which they needed help, and they lose only Hopp, an outfielder who starred for them in '46, tailed off a bit in '47 and didn't figure to improve. But he was a hustling Johnny, and fans will be sorry to see him depart.

The Braves didn't have a throwing arm in their outfield, however. Russell has one. Russell also can leg it, as Hopp could very fancifully. He's 28 to Hopp's 31. He hits a longer ball than Hopp and bats from both sides of the plate whereas Hopp was woefully weak against southpaws and seldom faced them.

He batted .312 with Pittsburgh in '44, then slipped to .284, .277, and this year to .238. He wasn't happy at Pittsburgh the past year (Who was?) and it is suspected he was playing for his release. Under Southworth, the disciplinarian, he'll hustle from the first gun, and the Braves honestly believe he'll reach stardom. He has the ability.

Al Lyons is a right-handed speedball artist, a fine relief pitcher. He stands 6-2, weighs 195 and is 29. He was in the Yankees' chain for several years under Joe McCarthy, and Joe thought he had something in the lad. But when McCarthy left the Yankees Lyons was traded to Pittsburgh. He figures to be far more effective than the Lafranconis, Wrights, Johnsons, Karls and Beazleys who cluttered up the Braves' bull pen last season.

Salkeld, a catcher, is 30, a stocky 190. He has a bad knee but the Braves got him more for pinch-hitting than catching. Phil Masi and Frank Kerr, obtained from San Diego, will be Nos. 1 and 2 behind the plate but Salkeld always could hit (right) and as Quinn said: "He'll be the best third string catcher in the league."

Murtaugh spent most of the past season with Milwaukee and what with Alvin Dark joining Connie Ryan, Bob Elliott, Sebby Sisti & Co. didn't figure in the Braves' '48 plans.

At any rate, the Braves finally have a fellow in the garden who can throw a man out at the plate and who can prevent him from taking that extra base. They've got a fellow who looks like an A-1 relief pitcher. They needed both, needed them badly.

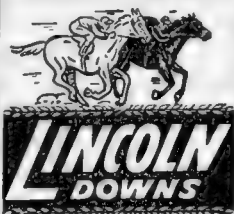

The trade will improve the Braves a bit here, a bit there and if Russell catches fire as anticipated it could be a very good trade. But if Russell doesn't do it the fans will be shouting "We want Hopp!"

Earlier the Braves announced they had purchased Jim Prendergast, Syracuse southpaw. He stands 6-1, weighs 192. He won 20, lost 15 in the past season, won 17, lost 10 in '46. Like Lyons, he will be used in relief.

Passing Duel May Be Feature of H-Y Battle

A battle of the always is expected Saturday on Harvard and Yale clash before a sellout crowd of 70,000 in the Yale Bowl. If the weather is good, both passing-quarterbacks, Jim Kenary and Tex Furse, will be carrying the burden of the attacks.

Kenary is the spark in the Crimson offense. The 19-year-old sophomore, sent in just before the first half of the Princeton game, threw three straight aeriels that ended up on pay dirt.

It was Kenary's 25-yard pass to Moffie that set up the touchdown which was the margin of victory over Brown. He's an expert tosser and has showed also that he can run when trapped with the ball behind the line of scrimmage. He's still a little unpolished in his handoffs because of his inexperience in the position.

Furse, on the other hand, is the personification of experience. The Yale field general is a classy ball-handler and is his smooth deception behind the line which makes the Ell attack click.

The Texas (he prepped at Andover Academy) is an unusually big boy for a quarterback. Standing 5 feet 10 inches tall he tips the scales at an impressive 190. He snaps the football around like an experienced veteran, and the smile on Howie Odell's face is probably due to the fact that Furse is but a sophomore.

It was Furse's strong right arm that contributed to the 27-14 humbling of the Harvard's last fall. It was his masterful passing again this season that downed powerful Columbia by a 17-7 score, and has been responsible for most of the Yale punch in other games.

With Fred Nadherny, the Ellis leading ground-gainer and heir to the "Mr. Inside" throne vacated by Army's Doc Blanchard, still troubled by his bruised ankle, and elusive Levi Jackson complaining of being slowed up by the same type of injury, the Blue offense on the good earth is expected to be greatly handicapped.

Vandy Kirk, the 175-pound breakaway runner, has also been injured. Odell has had him sitting out practice sessions this week in the hope that he will be ready to go Saturday.

It's this succession of hurts to key backs that shifts responsibility of the Yale attack to the shoulders of spiral art Furse. Nadherny, Jackson and Kirk will all play, that is sure, but they aren't expected to be top form.

All the tickets for the game have been sold . . . capacity crowd of 70,000 is expected to be jammed into the hugh bowl by kick-off time. The New Haven Railroad will operate a special ten-car pullman train for fans who plan to trek down to the game . . . the train will leave South Station at 8:35 a.m., Back Bay at 8:40 a.m., and Providence at 9:35 a.m. . . . returning the special will leave New Haven at 5:15 p.m., is due at Providence at 7:25 p.m., Back Bay at 8:20 p.m., and South Station at 8:25 p.m.

A host of Crimson followers will travel to New Haven to see their boys in action. The Harvard Athletic Association has announced that all the tickets which they were allotted by the Yale directors have been bought up. The traditional battle hasn't lost any of its color.

Dashing Joe Diminick Ranks 3d in Rushing

Little Joe Diminick, elusive Boston College halfback, is ranked third in the East in rushing, according to latest statistics. The sophomore from Kulpmont, Pa. has gained 548 yards in 80 rushes for a creditable 6.8 average per carry.

Diminick's marks were compiled in six games. His per game mark of 92 yards is the highest in the East. His nearest runner-up on the B. C. squad is Maurice Poissant, hard-driving halfback from Biddeford, Me. Poissant has amassed a total of 293 yards in 42 attempts for a 7.0 average, a little better than Diminick's average.

Pass receiving honors among the Eagles also go to Diminick, who has grabbed seven aeriels for 67 yards. Poissant, however, has gained 123 yards while on the receiving end of four passes. Captain Angelo Nicketakis and John Ring, both ends, have snagged five tosses.

The fumble department is a sore point among the B. C. coaching staff. The Heightsmen have bobbed 34 times in seven games, an average of nearly five fumbles per game. Only 15 of the fumbles were recovered by B. C.

Another vital department in which the Eagles have erred is penalties. Penalized 54 times, the B. C. boys have lost 519 yards while the opposition has had 267 yards chalked up against it.

B. C. stands fourth in rushing offense in the East, running behind Penn State, Army and Penn. In rushing defense the Meyersmen are second, behind Penn State. The Eagles have allowed but 604 yards in seven tilts for an 86.3 average per game.

Grinding out 2324 yards in total offense, B. C. ranks fifth in the East, averaging 319.1 yards a game.

CYO Set to Discuss Durocher With Rickey

BROOKLYN, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Brooklyn Catholic Youth organization, which withdrew support from the Dodgers' Knothole gang last February because it disapproved of Manager Leo Durocher, is ready to discuss the 1948 outlook with President Branch Rickey at any minute.

The Rev. Vincent J. Powell, director, stated the CYO's position clearly when he said his organization is the "pressure group" concerned in the Durocher-Brooklyn situation.

"Mr. Rickey has indicated that there are pressure groups interested in seeing Durocher remain out of baseball," Fr. Powell said in an interview. "I won't double talk. We are the group in question."

with Rickey or the Brooklyn club recently and will not make any attempt in that direction. Our office is only three blocks from that of the Dodgers and Mr. Rickey knows where we are if he cares to get in touch with us."

The Dodgers president has been whirling in indecision since Durocher was restored to the eligible list at the close of the World Series after a season's suspension by Cmr. A. B. Chandler.

Although there had been no definite indication from the Brooklyn front office as to the reason for the delay, most observers believe the possibility of another blast by the CYO was an important factor holding up an announcement of Durocher's signing.

Huskies Turn To Track Work

Northeastern puts away the last remnants of outdoor sports for a while when coach Jerry Tatton's cross country squad holds its annual banquet tonight. Henceforth the way is clear for indoor track which starts next week, and both hockey and basketball, which began yesterday.

The season ahead for the two shooting sports is not too rosy, for Northeastern did not have a class entering at last mid-years. Coach Herb Gallagher's icemen will be minus the services of last season's standouts Curt Mitchell of Framingham, who has transferred to a mid-Western college, and the Arlington duet of Roy Fowler and Jack Cunha, who have left school.

Rare Colgate Visit Here To Play B. U. Saturday

When Colgate's "Red Raiders" invade Fenway Park to clash with BU's Terriers Saturday, it will mark the first time in the 57-year football history of the Hamilton, N. Y. institution that the "Raider" grid-ers have visited Boston. Nevertheless, the Colgate squad will not be completely lost in this area. The New Yorkers have sent several basketball and track teams to compete here, and only two weeks ago the Raiders met Holy Cross at Worcester in their annual visit.

Both clubs will be meeting each other under similar conditions, and this game might possibly be the beginning of a long and friendly rivalry.

Head Coach "Buff" Donelli and mentor Paul Bixler are first year men at their respective schools, and each is trying to build up a strong team which will gain national prominence.

Coach Bixler stepped into Andy Kerr's shoes following the "Old Master's" retirement after 18 years at the Colgate helm. Before taking over the reins, Bixler closed a successful season at Ohio State in 1946.

Yanks High On Currihan

The National Football League is studied with great ends—Dewell and Kutner of the Cardinals; Keane and Kavanaugh of the Bears; Benton of the Rams; Jansante of the Steelers and Ferrante of the Eagles to name a few. Despite the fame of these great ends, the Boston Yanks wouldn't swap Boston College Don Currihan for any of them.

Currihan has already scooped seven touchdowns which is not only more than any end in the Eastern Division, but it places him one T.D. behind Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren and Pittsburgh's Steve Lach who are tied for Eastern scoring honors with eight touchdowns apiece.

In the eight games played, Don has lost at least a half dozen more touchdowns. He scored one against the Bears which was called back because one of the Yanks linemen was off side and on many other occasions, he was in the clear beyond the secondary but the Yanks passers just couldn't reach him.

Last Sunday in Philadelphia, two pitches by Boley Danczewicz were only one step away from completions in the open. It may well be that next Sunday, the Yanks passing-battery of Danczewicz and Currihan will make amends when the locals tangle with the Eagles at Fenway Park in a 1:30 game.

Quebec Host To Hub Pics

The Boston Olympics will be shooting for their second consecutive victory in a row on Quebec City ice tonight, when they face the Aces on the latters' home rink. For the Harrington taught team, this evening's tilt is the first of a series that will see them in action four times in the next five days.

The leg-weary Pics square-off with Valleyfield Braves at Valleyfield tomorrow night, and then travel to Ottawa where they face the strong Boucher-coached sextet on Saturday night. Immediately after the squabble at Ottawa, the local puck-chasers head back to the Hub to tangle with Mel Harwood's Atlantic City Sea Gulls the following afternoon at Boston Garden. The Sunday afternoon tilt will get under way at 3:00 p.m.

Eagles Book Hoop Game With Tufts

The Boston College Athletic Association announced an addition to the Eagles' basketball schedule this season. The Heightsmen will play Tufts at Medford, Jan. 29.

The game increases the B. C. hoop schedule to 21 tilts. An earlier addition, Rhode Island State at Providence on Dec. 9, had been made after the original 19-game schedule was released.

Toni Matt Quits Conway For Ski Position in Idaho

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Heeding the advice of Horace Greeley, Toni Matt, chief assistant to Hannes Schneider in the Eastern Slope Ski School, at North Conway, N. H., for the past seven years, will head for Sun Valley, Idaho, tomorrow, where he will act as head instructor under Otto Lang, world-famed skimeister.

The stalwart, 200-pound racer is known to thousands of enthusiasts for his deeds of derring-do on the winged board. Former National and Combined Champion, Toni's fabulous feat of schussing the steep Headwall of Tuckerman Ravine, in the 1939 running of the American Inferno, will never be forgotten by skiers. His record time of six minutes, 29 and two-tenths seconds for the four-mile course, which starts at the very summit of Mt. Washington, still stands.

"I am sorry to desert New England," said Matt, as he dropped in for a final word with us. "However, this opportunity is too good to pass up. At Sun Valley, I shall teach advanced skiers and coach racers. The East may have the skiers—but the West has the snow!"

Toni plans to compete in many of the big meets in the West this winter, including the Nationals and the Harriman Cup Races. In the latter classic last March, he was beaten only a second by Edy Rominger of Switzerland, said to be one of the world's swiftest ski runners.

If it hadn't been for the present mess in the rules governing amateur and professional racers, Toni would have been a member of the United States Olympic ski squad. And we could really use him!

Asked if he might fly East for the revival of the Inferno, April 11, he smiled, declaring: "Could be!"

QUICK CHRISTIES: Local ski clubs are swinging into action... The Jericho outfit of Marlboro held its annual fall banquet and get-together Monday night, featuring the appearance of Rene Ravoire, French expert and inventor of the ski meter machine, who demonstrated his unique device. He also showed movies of his former instructor, the great Emile Allais.

The Salem Ski Busters will conduct their first meeting of the season tomorrow evening, in the Bell Studios, Salem... A new organization, the Ski Devils of Malden, will sponsor a dance at the University Club, Nov. 28... The Wildcats of Boston desire to form a league of Greater Boston ski clubs, for the purpose of "unifying informal meets"... The Worcester Ski Club will offer John Jay's new film early next month.

SKIERS!

Skiering is good on open slopes. 14 inches of snow already. Why not plan to try it this week-end? Write, with or phone Jack Ranney, Tamarack Lodge, Franconia, N. H.

International Fight Here

New England gets back on the International fight circuit on Friday night at Mechanics Building. Harry Bernstein, Norwegian heavyweight champ, will meet Jimmy Lake, Canadian Air Force heavy titlist, under the burgee of the Dempsey A. A.

The fight was originally scheduled to be held last night, but it was put over until Friday night. This always has been a much better fight night in Boston.

Friday night is now available for the Dempsey Club as the combined Callahan-Goodwin Clubs will operate exclusively on Mondays. Monday is the best fight night of the week.

Bernstein has a colorful background according to promoter Jimmy Meda. "Harry was shipwrecked during the war in the Pacific. He drifted for 21 days on a life raft before being rescued by the crew of an American destroyer."

Bernstein is a well-framed blond-haired puncher. He has been fighting out of New York in recent months.

Walcott Drops Sparring Mate

GREENLOCK, N. J. (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott had yesterday in his training for the Dec. 5 title fight with Joe Louis.

He scored three knockdowns, two against his ace sparmate, Austin Johnson, and the other against stubby Eddie Wilson.

A short straight right on the chin floored Johnson in the first round and Johnson ran afoul of another smashing right on the whiskers which sent him to the floor in the third.

SILENCER ON GUN

"I found the Coffins in their kitchen," he said. "He was bleeding from several cuts on the head and stomping up and down. He said when they arrived home, Mrs. Coffin was driving. He stepped out onto the driveway to turn on the lights. He was set upon by an assailant who fired two shots.

"Coffin said he believes the gun had a silencer. He struggled with the man. Two others joined to help the gunman. Coffin was hit on the head several times. He was dazed and staggering when they ordered him into the house with his wife. Then he told me, how Patricia was ordered to go to the wall safe, and how they demanded the missing piece of jewelry, bound them up and fled."

Coffin, who served as a Navy officer at Pensacola, Fla., said the three men were between 25 and 30. He gave police this description of them: No. 1: About 5 feet 8 inches, of stocky build and with dark hair. No. 2: About 30, sandy hair and partly bald, wearing a dark suit. No. 3: About 5 feet 10 inches, dark complexion and wearing dark coat.

TRUSSED TO CHAIRS

The victims, bound to chairs with twine, heard the handits back the car out of the driveway. They struggled with their cords, finally working free.

It was 9:17 p. m. when Coffin telephoned Lt. James S. Harvey at Dartmouth police headquarters. Seven minutes later, a description of the gunman, the Coffin car and the registration number—542,271—was sent out by teletype throughout the State. State Detectives Francis W. Clemmey and John N. Sullivan were assigned to the investigation.

Coffin was treated at St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford. He is a graduate of Dummer Academy and Amherst College. He inherited the printing business from his late father, Milton Coffin.

His wife is the former Maria Patrice Amai. She was divorced from the late Damon Ruyon, noted newspaperman and author, in Florida, in 1946.

CANBERRA, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Australian House of Representatives approved the Labor government's bank nationalization bill on its third and final reading today after opposition leader, Robert G. Menzies, had tried unsuccessfully to postpone action for six months.
